The 1960s saw the nexus of the revolution in popular music by a post war generation amid demographic upheavals and seismic shifts in technology Over the past two decades musicians associated with this period have produced a large amount of important autobiographical writing This book situates these works in the forms of formal autobiographies and memoirs auto fiction songs and self fashioned museum exhibitions within the context of the recent expansion of interest in autobiography disability and celebrity studies It argues that these writings express anxiety over musical originality and authenticity and seeks to dispel their writers celebrity status and particularly the association with a lack of seriousness These works often constitute a meditation on the nature of postmodern fame within a celebrity obsessed culture and paradoxically they aim to regain the private self in a public forum Technology and Literacy Jennifer Nelson, Keith Braafladt, 2012

Explains why it is important for libraries to offer rich media technology based programs for youth and how you can do it in your library Reading Autobiography Now Sidonie Smith, Julia Watson, 2024-07-09 A user friendly guide to reading writing and theorizing autobiographical texts and practices for students scholars and practitioners of life narrative The boom in autobiographical narratives continues apace It now encompasses a global spectrum of texts and practices in such media as graphic memoir auto photography performance and plastic arts film and video and online platforms Reading Autobiography Now offers both a critical engagement with life narrative in historical perspective and a theoretical framework for interpreting texts and practices in this wide ranging field Hailed upon its initial publication as the Whole Earth Catalog of autobiography studies this essential book has been updated reorganized and expanded in scope to serve as an accessible and contemporary guide for scholars students and practitioners Sidonie Smith and Julia Watson explore definitions of life narrative probe issues of subjectivity and outline salient features of autobiographical acts and practices In this updated edition they address emergent topics such as autotheory autofiction and autoethnography expand the discussions of identity relationality and agency and introduce new material on autobiographical archives and the profusion of I s in contemporary works Smith and Watson also provide a helpful toolkit of strategies for reading life narrative and an extensive glossary of mini essays analyzing key theoretical concepts and dozens of autobiographical genres An indispensable exploration of this expansive transnational multimedia field Reading Autobiography Now meticulously unpacks the heterogeneous modes of life narratives through which people tell their stories from traditional memoirs and trauma narratives to collaborative life narrative and autobiographical comics Parenting/Internet/Kids: Domesticating Technologies Fiona Joy

Green,Jaqueline McLeod Rogers,2022-07-07 Parenting Internet Kids with three key terms slashed together conveys the idea that the practice of parenting may extend both to the Internet and to our children to the extent that both require attention care and forms of regulation and in turn provide support and enjoyment While the triadic title is somewhat playful it also strikes a serious note and introduces layered possibilities we are not simply raising children who have grown up in the internet age but also Domesticating Technologies by managing the computer relatively young in age too having established itself in homes in the 1980s Including perspectives from scholars and parents living in Australia Canada India Japan the UK and the USA the collection examines how the intimate presence of computer technology in our homes and on our bodies affects not only mothers and parenting but family life more broadly included How Lincoln Learned to Read Daniel Wolff,2009-07-01 How Lincoln Learned to Read tells the American story from a fresh and unique perspective how do we learn what we need to know Beginning with Benjamin Franklin and ending with Elvis Presley author Daniel Wolff creates a series of intimate interlocking profiles of notable Americans that track the nation s developing notion of what it means to get a good education From the stubborn early feminism of Abigail Adams to the miracle of Helen Keller from the savage childhood of Andrew Jackson to the academic ambitions of W E B Du Bois a single fascinating narrative emerges It connects the illiterate Sojourner Truth to the privileged Jack Kennedy takes us from Paiute Indians scavenging on western deserts to the birth of Henry Ford s assembly line And as the book traces the education we value both in and outside the classroom it becomes a history of key American ideas In the end How Lincoln Learned to Read delivers us to today s headlines Standardized testing achievement gaps the very purpose of public education all have their roots in this narrative Whether you re a parent trying to make sure your child is prepared a teacher trying to do the best possible job or a student navigating the educational system How Lincoln Learned to Read offers a challenge to consider what we need to know and how we learn it Wide ranging and meticulously researched built mostly on primary sources this is an American story that begins and ends with hope The Great Expectations School Dan Brown,2011-09 At the age of twenty two Dan Brown came to P S 85 as an eager fresh faced teacher He was even as signed his own class 4 217 Unbeknownst to him 4 217 was the designated dumping ground for all fourth grade problem cases and his students would prove to be more challenging than he could have ever anticipated Intent on being a caring dedicated teacher but confronted with unruly children absent parents and a failing administration Dan was pushed to the limit time and again he found himself screaming with rage punching his fist through a blackboard out of sheer frustration often just wanting to give up and walk away Yet in this seeming chaos he slowly learned from the more seasoned teachers at the school and from his own mistakes how to discipline teach and make a difference The Great Expectations School is the touching story of Class 4 217 and their teacher Mr Brown But more than that it is the revealing story of a broken educational system and all those struggling within and fighting against it Joyful Teaching Barry Raebeck,2023-02-13 The book is both a call to action and a how to guide to effective teaching It is written in a readable accessible style yet it is supported by a wealth of knowledge and experience The intended audience is aspiring and current secondary school teachers and administrators curriculum directors and college education professors as well as lay people interested in practical progressive education This book offers dozens of strategies and original ideas to enhance teaching all manner of students in all kinds of secondary schools Contemplating Dis/Ability in Schools and Society David J. Connor,2018-07-15 This book chronicles the professional life of a career long inclusive educator in New York City through eight different stages in special and general education Developing a new approach to research as part of qualitative methodology David J Connor merges the academic genre of autoethnography with memoir to create a narrative that engages the reader through stories of personal experiences within the professional world that politicized him as an educator After each chapter's narrative a systematic analytic commentary follows that focuses on teaching and learning in schools and universities the influence of educational laws specific models of disability and how influence educators and educational researchers and educational structures and systems including their impact on social political and cultural experiences of people with disabilities This autoethnographic memoir documents over three decades the relationship between special and general education the growth of the inclusion movement and the challenge of special education as a discrete academic field As part of a national group of critical special educators Connor describes the growth of counter theory through the inception and subsequent growth of DSE as a viable academic field and the importance of rethinking human differences in new ways
