

Basic Five Paragraph Essay Format

Paragraph	Content
Introduction	Sentence 1	Hook - One sentence designed to grab your reader's attention (quote, question, thought-provoking statement, anecdote, interesting fact, etc.).
	Sentence 2-3	Background Information - Connect your general hook to your specific topic. What basic information should your reader know about your topic in order to understand your essay?
	Sentence 4-5	Thesis - One to two sentences identifying your topic, claim, and specific arguments you intend to make.
Body #1 through Body #3	Sentence 1	Topic Sentence : One sentence identifying what your paragraph is going to be about. This sentence should use transitions such as, first, second, third, last, also, additionally, etc.
	Sentence 2-6	Details : Use these sentences to prove your point using specific details from the text. The more specific you can make it, the better. Use quotes, page numbers or examples from text.
	Sentences 7-8	Paragraph Summary/Transition - Briefly wrap up your paragraph by putting your final thoughts on the topic at hand. Basically in your own words, what overall idea or statement do the details you supplied create? How might this topic lead into the next idea?
Conclusion	Sentence 1	Wrap-Up Statement : This is a one sentence overview of your topic. What is the overall point/argument/idea of your essay? You can use your original thesis to create this sentence.
	Sentence 2-3	Recap Specific Ideas : Use these sentences to summarize your main points from your body paragraphs. Never word your points the exact same way. Add variety by restating the ideas using new words. At no point should you introduce new ideas in your conclusion.
	Sentence 4-5	Lasting Impression - One to two sentences leaving your reader with a memorable idea, thought or call to action. It is clear from these sentences that your essay is done.

Why They Can't Write John Warner,2020-03-17 An important challenge to what currently masquerades as conventional wisdom regarding the teaching of writing There seems to be widespread agreement that when it comes to the writing skills of college students we are in the midst of a crisis In Why They Can t Write John Warner who taught writing at the college level for two decades argues that the problem isn t caused by a lack of rigor or smartphones or some generational character defect Instead he asserts we re teaching writing wrong Warner blames this on decades of educational reform rooted in standardization assessments and accountability We have done no more Warner argues than conditioned students to perform writing related simulations which pass temporary muster but do little to help students develop their writing abilities This style of teaching has made students passive and disengaged Worse yet it hasn t prepared them for writing in the college classroom Rather than making choices and thinking critically as writers must undergraduates simply follow the rules such as the five paragraph essay designed to help them pass these high stakes assessments In Why They Can t Write Warner has crafted both a diagnosis for what ails us and a blueprint for fixing a broken system Combining current knowledge of what works in teaching and learning with the most enduring philosophies of classical education this book challenges readers to develop the skills attitudes knowledge and habits of mind of strong writers

A New Writing Classroom Patrick Sullivan,2014-11-15 In A New Writing Classroom Patrick Sullivan provides a new generation of teachers a means and a rationale to reconceive their approach to teaching writing calling into question the discipline s dependence on argument Including secondary writing teachers within his purview Sullivan advocates a more diverse exploratory and flexible approach to writing activities in grades six through thirteen A New Writing Classroom encourages teachers to pay more attention to research in learning theory transfer of learning international models for nurturing excellence in the classroom and recent work in listening to teach students the sort of dialogic stance that leads to higher order thinking and more sophisticated communication The conventional argumentative essay is often a simplistic form of argument widely believed to be the most appropriate type of writing in English classes but other kinds of writing may be more valuable to students and offer more important kinds of cognitive challenges Focusing on listening and dispositions or habits of mind as central elements of this new composition pedagogy A New Writing Classroom draws not just on composition studies but also on cognitive psychology philosophy learning theory literature and history making an exciting and significant contribution to the field
