There is no experience quite like whitewater rafting. A journey to central Colorado in early summer 2005 witnessed the Arkansas River rushing with newly melted snow. This recount of river madness will show how intensely religious American fun can become.

Colorado in the summer blazes hot in the day and freezes cold at night. That did not stop camping out on the verdant grounds of Noah's Ark. This place was crawling with Christians who were ecstatic about another summer of providing big fun to their patrons. The river beckoned for good fishing, but screamed louder for rafting, and we hit it hard.

The first portion of the river meandered calmly in the mountain cathedrals, with steeples rising high among evergreen altars. From Buena Vista to Salida, the elevation drops a lot, and the river goes with it.

A placid stream that starts off calm could fool anybody. Yet, once one gets over the birds singing and the sun shining, then there flows a profound religious experience. Talk about rock and roll, icy baptisms and the jerks, these tremendous rapids that made Benny Hinn look mild. What an awakening!

There were several stages in this conversion experience. The Seven Sisters taught us a lesson that going down brought an emotional high. One right after the other, these stair steps led down to the place where all these kids received the anointing of fun. The river of excitement took a turn to a whirlpool where the raft almost tipped over. This served as a lesson that it takes effort in paddling to keep the boat upright.

Lunch by the river, communion by the stream, found everyone in sweet fellowship. As for care for bodily functions, the word was, "dilution, not pollution." Never drink the water.

The Arkansas meandered after lunch through the forest, with eagles soaring and skin burning. Cover up- if not, then burn. Most of the kids had wet suits on, but the fresh water never hits the skin if something artificial is on it. As the barges made their way to Salida, calmness came over us. The end of the matter provided time to reflect on what it took to get there.

Anyone who knows whitewater rafting realizes that God is everywhere, especially in Colorado.
