Visions and Ideas of Europe during the First World War Matthew D'Auria, Jan Vermeiren, 2019-08-02 Given the destruction and suffering caused by more than four years of industrialised warfare and economic hardship scholars have tended to focus on the nationalism and hatred in the belligerent countries holding that it led to a fundamental rupture of any sense of European commonality and unity It is the central aim of this volume to correct this view and to highlight that many observers saw the conflict as a European civil war and to discuss what this meant for discourses about Europe Bringing together a remarkable range of compelling and highly original topics this collection explores notions images and ideas of Europe in the midst of catastrophe

American Interests and Policies in the Middle East, 1900-1939 John A. DeNovo, 1963-11-29 American Interests and Policies in the Middle East 1900-1939 was first published in 1963 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions Scholars concerned with the diplomatic history of the United States have largely neglected the subject of American relations with the Middle East during the four decades before World War I With this study Professor DeNovo fills the gap by describing and assessing the United States cultural economic and diplomatic relations with Turkey Persia and the Arab East in that period He traces chronologically and topically the activities of such American interest groups as Protestant missionaries educators philanthropists archaeologists businessmen and technical advisers as well as the official actions of their government The account falls roughly into three chronological periods The first section traces the interest groups through the pre World War I years of political and cultural stirring in the Ottoman Empire and Persia Special attention is given to the Chester Project for railroad development in Turkey The second part deals with the upheavals accompanying World War I and the tasks of peacemaking from the Mudros armistice through the Lausanne settlement of 1923 The latter chapters detail the rise of the Turkish national movement the deepening Persian and Arab nationalism and the accommodation of American cultural and economic groups to these conditions The author points out that before World War II began Americans had acquired a significant interest in Middle Eastern oil and had become emotionally involved in the Arab Zionist tension In 1939 the United States was on the verge of a new phase in its Middle Eastern relations when that region would become more intimately linked to America's national security the Russian army was successful against the Austro Hungarians but was stopped in its invasion of East Prussia by the Germans In November 1914 the Ottoman Empire joined the Central Powers opening fronts in the Caucasus Mesopotamia and the Sinai Italy joined the Allies in 1915 and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers in the same year while Romania joined the Allies in 1916 followed by United States in 1917 The Russian government collapsed in March 1917 and a subsequent revolution in November brought the Russians to terms with the Central Powers via the Treaty of Brest Litovsk which constituted a massive German victory After a stunning German offensive along the Western Front in the spring of 1918 the Allies rallied and drove back the Germans in a series of successful offensives On 4 November 1918 the Austro Hungarian empire agreed to an armistice and Germany which had its own trouble with revolutionaries agreed to an armistice on 11 November 1918 ending the war in victory for the Allies By the end of the war the German Empire Russian Empire Austro Hungarian Empire and the Ottoman Empire had ceased to exist National borders were redrawn with several independent nations restored or created and Germany's colonies were parceled out among the winners During the Paris Peace Conference of 1919 the Big Four Britain France the United States and Italy imposed their terms in a series of treaties The League of Nations was formed with the aim of preventing any repetition of such a conflict This however failed with economic depression renewed European nationalism weakened member states and the German feeling of humiliation contributing to the rise of Nazism These conditions eventually contributed to World War II United Services and Empire Review ,1924
