The Necessity Of Ethical Absolutes:

The Necessity of Ethical Absolutes Erwin W. Lutzer, Mark M. Hanna, 1981 Absolute Ethical Life Michael Lazarus, 2025-06-03 Karl Marx gave us not just a critique of the political economy of capital but a way of confronting the impoverished ethical quality of life we face under capitalism Interpreting Marx anew as an ethical thinker Absolute Ethical Life provides crucial resources for understanding how freedom and rational agency are impacted by a social world formed by value under capitalism with consequences for philosophy today Michael Lazarus situates Marx within a shared tradition of ethical inquiry placing him in close dialogue with Aristotle and Hegel Lazarus traces the ethical and political dimensions of Marx's work missed by Hannah Arendt and Alasdair MacIntyre two of the most profound critics of modern politics and ethics Ultimately the book claims that Marx's value form theory is both a continuation of Aristotelian and Hegelian themes and at the same time his most distinctive theoretical achievement In this normative interpretation of Marx Lazarus integrates recent moral philosophy with a historically specific analysis of capitalism as a social form of life He challenges contemporary political and economic theory to insist that any conception of modern life needs to account for capitalism With a robust critique of capitalism derived from the determinations of what Marx calls the form of value Lazarus argues for an ethical life beyond capital

Dalton, 2018-08-23 Opening a new debate on ethical reasoning after Kant Drew Dalton addresses the problem of the absolute in ethical and political thought Attacking the foundation of European philosophical morality he critiques the idea that in order for ethical judgement to have any real power it must attempt to discover and affirm some conception of the absolute good Without rejecting the essential role the absolute plays within ethical reasoning Dalton interrogates the assumed value of the absolute Dalton brings some of the most influential contemporary philosophical traditions into dialogue with each other speculative realists like Badiou and Meillassoux phenomenologists including Husserl Heidegger and Levinas German Idealists especially Kant and Schelling psychoanalysts Freud and Lacan and finally post structuralists specifically Foucault

Deleuze and Ranciere The relevance of these thinkers to concrete socio political problems is shown through reflections on the Holocaust suicide bombings the rise of neo liberalism and neo nationalism as well as rampant consumerism and racism This book re defines ethical reasoning as that which refuses absolutes and resists what Milton s devil in Paradise Lost called the tyranny of heaven Against traditional ethical reasoning Dalton sees evil not as a moral failure but as the result of an all too easy assent to the absolute an assent which can only be countered through active resistance For Dalton resistance to the absolute is the sole channel through which the good can be defined Absolute Person and Moral Experience Nathan D. Philosophy and the Absolute R.G. McRae, 2012-12-06 I have purposely limited myself to a rather brief statement in this introduction in order that the summing up be not misrepresented for the discursive development of the whole There is something more than mildly dangerous in setting oneself a series of goals in an introduction only to find them happily attained in the conclusion as if getting from the beginning to the end was simply a question of transition Of course the destination of a speculative presentation includes the process of development in such a way that the end is always implicitly the beginning each configuration simply forms a determinate moment within the on-going manifestation of the absolute It is around Hegel's concept of the absolute how it is known and how it presents itself which the bulk of our discussion turns We may say tentatively that the absolute speaks This speaking is the manifestation of the absolute itself not a dissimulation or mere appearance and consequently can be known and known most perfectly in language In Hegel's system this speaking or discourse has exhausted itself and is complete but in what manner this close is achieved remains the question which disturbs and provokes our own speech in what is to come
