the ways in which fiction shapes history and history informs fiction It is a playful book about artistic obsession about art history as both tragedy and farce and about the heroic and the mock heroic The book demonstrates that the modern idea of the artist has deep roots in the image of the epic poet from Homer to Ovid to Dante Barolsky s major claim is that the history of the artist is inseparable from historical fiction about the artist and that fiction is essential to the reality of the artist s imagination Dissertations on the Epistles of Phalaris and the Fables of Aesop Richard Bentley,1698 "Exhibiting Outside the Academy, Salon and Biennial, 1775-1999 " Andrew Graciano,2017-07-05 In recent years there has been increasing scholarly interest in the history of museums academies and major exhibitions There has been however little to no sustained interest in the histories of alternative exhibitions single artwork solo artist artist mounted entrepreneurial privately funded ephemeral etc with the notable exception of those publications that deal with situations involving major artists or those who would become so for example J L David s exhibition of Intervention of the Sabine Women 1799 and The First Impressionist Exhibition of 1874 despite the fact that these sorts of exhibitions and critical scholarship about them have become commonplace and no less important in the contemporary art world The present volume uses and contextualizes eleven case studies to advance some overarching themes and commonalities among alternative exhibitions in the long modern period from the late eighteenth to the late twentieth centuries and beyond These include the issue of control in the interrelation and elision of the roles of artist and curator and the relationship of such alternative exhibitions to the dominant modes structures of display and cultural ideology Fables John Gay,William Coxe,1798
