The Discourse of Flanerie in Antonio Muñoz Molina's Texts Richard

Sperber, 2015-09-10 Edgar Allan Poe Charles Baudelaire and Walter Benjamin have shown that flaner is anything but an aimless stroll Walking through London Paris and Berlin entailed engagements with the latest modernity Thought provoking exhilarating and at times terrifying flaner adjusted to and documented the mobility of modernity its aesthetic possibilities and social risks Antonio Muñoz Molina is one of several contemporary authors who have closely coupled the development of their literary characters to urban perambulations Their biographic growth cultural and social adaptations as well as epistemological insights are so dependent on flaner that his late twentieth and early twenty-first century texts warrant the designation flaneur literature Muñoz Molina has also contributed to the current decentralization of flaneur literature from Paris to smaller cities including Spanish cities like Granada Córdoba and San Sebastián Reflecting on Poe Baudelaire and Benjamin in these cities his characters update and revise the canon of flaneur literature stretching its discursive boundaries This study examines not only the mobility of his characters but also draws attention to intercultural aspects of his flaneur literature which lie both in a uniquely Spanish perspective on flânerie as well as in engagements with cultural otherness Walking through a Moroccan city or through Chinatown in New York Muñoz Molina's characters broaden the Eurocentric horizon of canonical flaneur literature and the modernist one of his Spanish flaneur precursor Federico García Lorca whose portrait of New York is revisited in Muñoz Molina's longest flaneur text National and literary boundaries blur as intercultural urban spaces transform his characters into transnational subjects This study traces the author's struggle with this globalization a residual rural nostalgia straddles uneasily with forays into filmic flânerie a form of spectatorship that renders the flaneur newly mobile in the mass mediatized environments of postmodernity If Muñoz Molina is generally regarded as an incisive chronicler of Spain's transition from Francoism to democracy and an attentive memorialist of the Spanish Civil War this study bases its portrait of a much more globally engaged Muñoz Molina in his characters' movements from Spain into the urban centers of Euro-American postmodernity and its northern African periphery Mavis Gallant Marta

Dvořák, 2019-11-19 With a confidante's insights Marta Dvořák sets up an innovative connection between Mavis Gallant's dazzling writing and the whole spectrum of the arts She simultaneously engages with the feats of art making and the adventures of reading looking and listening Drawing on private correspondence and conversations with Gallant she repositions her as a late modernist Dvořák investigates the relationships between the Paris-based master of the short story and visual and sound culture Through the filter of philosophical aesthetics she identifies the painterly cinematic and musical dynamics which light up Gallant's craft At the same time she opens a dialogue between Gallant and other international modernists and with those they were reading watching and listening to from the moving pictures which shaped Gallant's generation to the rhythm and dissonance of say Stravinsky and jazz which like the Cubist rupture with spatial perspective spearheaded modernity's aesthetics of breakage How does Gallant's work work Dvořák's hands-on rhetorical analyses of Gallant's stories and lesser-known recently reissued novels illuminate the superb stylist's language and vision via an emphasis on both image and rhythm Providing keys to Gallant's famous sleights of hand and tonal shifts the discussions reveal a fictional world as multidimensional as a Cubist picture or a symphony depending on whether we lean towards the eye or the ear Stories of the Old West John D. Seelye, 2000 Includes selections from Bret Harte Mark Twain Ambrose Bierce Owen Wister Frederic Remington Stephen Crane Jack London Frank Norris Stewart Edward White O Henry and Mary Austin The Facts on File Companion to the British Short Story Andrew Maunder, 2007 A comprehensive reference to short fiction from Great Britain Ireland and the British Commonwealth With approximately 450 entries this A to Z guide explores the literary contributions of such writers as Joseph Conrad James Joyce D H Lawrence Rudyard Kipling Oscar Wilde

Katherine Mansfield Martin Amis and others First Words Paul Mandelbaum, 2013-06-17 This unique literary anthology presents the childhood writings of some of America's greatest authors including Stephen King Joyce Carol Oates and more. Most kids write stories. A few of them grow up to be successful authors. Before Stephen King created Carrie he created Jhonathan at age nine. And before there was Rabbit Angstrom there was Manuel Citarro the detective in John Updike's hard-boiled mystery written at fourteen. Before Jurassic Park there was young Michael Crichton's story about the mysteriously wounded man lying unattended in the street. Editor Paul Mandelbaum persuaded our most popular American authors to share their childhood writings and their treasured photographs. What he's gathered is a fascinating delightful collection of writing and early snapshots that reveal young minds at work wrestling with early versions of ideas that were to take hold of their writings in later years. Of course the young Madeline L. Engle would wonder about space and the meaning of eternity. Of course Margaret Atwood would question conventional female behavior arguing for the right to smoke cigars. Other writers featured in this volume include Amy Tan Paul Bowles Michael Crichton Ursula K. LeGuin Tobias Wolff and more.

Virginia Woolf and the Natural World Kristin Czarnecki, Carrie Rohman, 2011-06-01 Edited collection from acclaimed contemporary Woolf scholars exploring Virginia Woolf's complex engagement with the natural world an engagement that was as political as it was aesthetic.

The Good Life of Teaching Chris Higgins, 2011-10-17 The Good Life of Teaching extends the recent revival of virtue ethics to professional ethics and the philosophy of teaching. It connects long-standing philosophical questions about work and human growth to questions about teacher motivation identity and development. Makes a significant contribution to the philosophy of teaching and also offers new insights into virtue theory and professional ethics. Offers fresh and detailed readings of major figures in ethics including Alasdair MacIntyre Charles Taylor and Bernard Williams and the practical philosophies of Hannah Arendt John Dewey and Hans Georg Gadamer. Provides illustrations to assist the reader in visualizing major points and integrates sources such as film literature and teaching memoirs to exemplify arguments in an engaging and accessible way. Presents a compelling vision of teaching as a reflective practice showing how this requires us to prepare teachers differently.

Virginia Woolf in Context Bryony Randall, Jane Goldman, 2012-12-17 As a paradigmatic modernist author Virginia Woolf is celebrated for the ways her fiction illuminates modern and contemporary life. Woolf scholars have long debated how context whether historical cultural or theoretical is to be understood in relation to her work and how her work produces new insights into context. Drawing on an international field of leading and emergent specialists this collection provides an authoritative resource for contemporary Woolf scholarship that explores the distinct and overlapping dimensions of her writings. Rather than survey existing scholarship these essays extend Woolf studies in new directions by examining how the author is contextualised today. The collection also highlights connections between Woolf and key cultural political and historical issues of the twentieth century such as avant-gardism in music and art developments in journalism and the publishing industry political struggles over race gender and class and the bearings of colonialism empire.

and war Henry James and the Art of Impressions John Scholar, 2020-05-21 Henry James criticized the impressionism that was revolutionizing French painting and fiction He satirized the British aesthetic movement whose keystone was impressionist criticism So why time and again in important parts of his literary work did James use the word impression Henry James and the Art of Impressions argues that James tried to wrest the impression from the impressionists and to recast it in his own art of the novel Interdisciplinary in its range philosophical and literary in its focus the book shows the place of James s work within the wider cultural history of impressionism It draws on painting philosophy psychology literature and critical theory to examine James s art criticism early literary criticism travel writing reflections on his own fiction and the three great novels of his major phase The Ambassadors The Wings of the Dove and The Golden Bowl It shows how the language of impressions enables James to represent the most intense moments of consciousness of his characters It argues that the Jamesian impression is best understood as a family of related ideas bound together by James s attempt to reconcile the novel s value as a mimetic form with its value as a transformative creative activity Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, 2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide
