

DATA ANALYSIS REPORT

Just as it is important to conduct a good needs assessment, it is also essential to report the findings in a clear, concise manner that decision-makers can understand and use. The "Analysis Report Template" tool lists the major topics that should be included in a needs assessment or task analysis report. The formality of the report will depend upon the size and scope of the project and the nature of your relationship with the client. It is easy to get so caught up in the analysis phase of a project that there may not be enough time for the equally important design, production, and evaluation phases. On the other hand, the clearer and more accurate your analysis, the more likely it is that your project will be focused on the real needs of the client and thereby be successful.

Instructions

1. The "Analysis Report Template" tool will help you prepare a clear, readable, and concise presentation of the results of your analysis activities.
2. Each of the components in the report should be addressed.
3. It is a good idea to have the report reviewed by all internal team members before presenting it to your client.

Analysis Report

Executive: This section presents an overview of the analysis findings in a format that allows decision makers to make important decisions effectively and efficiently

Introduction: This section introduces the major sections of the report as well as the primary people involved in conducting the analysis and producing the report. The client is also clearly identified.

Background: This section describes any information which is needed to provide the reader with an understanding of the background for the analysis, e.g., who initiated it and why.

Purposes: This section describes the purpose(s) of the analysis. For example, a needs assessment might be done to detect training or education needs that aren't being met by existing programs. Or a needs assessment might be done to confirm the existence of needs or clarify the nature of needs that others have perceived. A job or

Writing A Report Based On Data:

Report Writing for Data Science in R Roger Peng, 2015-12-03 This book teaches the concepts and tools behind reporting modern data analyses in a reproducible manner Reproducibility is the idea that data analyses should be published or made available with their data and software code so that others may verify the findings and build upon them The need for reproducible report writing is increasing dramatically as data analyses become more complex involving larger datasets and more sophisticated computations Reproducibility allows for people to focus on the actual content of a data analysis rather than on superficial details reported in a written summary In addition reproducibility makes an analysis more useful to others because the data and code that actually conducted the analysis are available This book will focus on literate statistical analysis tools which allow one to publish data analyses in a single document that allows others to easily execute the same analysis to obtain the same results Writing Useful, Accessible, and Legally Defensible Psychoeducational Reports Michael Hass, Jeanne Anne Carriere, 2014-03-24 PRACTICAL GUIDANCE ON WRITING USEFUL ACCESSIBLE AND LEGALLY DEFENSIBLE PSYCHOEDUCATIONAL REPORTS From clearly identifying reasons for referral to making recommendations based on assessment results Writing Useful Accessible and Legally Defensible Psychoeducational Reports offers practical guidance for creating reports that enhance the understanding of children and their strengths and challenges in order to better meet their educational and functional needs The authors offer step by step guidelines for developing an assessment plan in a collaborative process with parents teachers and other professionals choosing appropriate assessment and data collection tools gathering relevant information and providing clear and feasible individualized recommendations that directly respond to referral concerns in a format easily understood by parents and teachers Ideal for graduate students in school psychology school psychologists and other professionals in related fields who work with children in a school setting Writing Useful Accessible and Legally Defensible Psychoeducational Reports Provides specific suggestions for increasing the usefulness and accessibility of reports including readability positive phrasing and vocabulary Illustrates how to develop well formed questions and how to choose assessment tools to answer referral questions Reviews the legal mandates of report writing and discusses what must be included Demonstrates how to accurately document and integrate data from record review interviews observations and tests Discusses how the use of the referral based consultative assessment and report writing model can promote more active involvement in collaboration prevention and intervention Features numerous real world cases helpful checklists examples of question driven referral reports and a model interview protocol News Writing and Reporting: A Strategic Approach to Storytelling Chris R.
