scrambling to keep up The Great Economic Train Wreck Kevin H. Clark, 2011-10-12 We tend to think of dominos as standing the tiles on end and then tipping the first one over toppling into the second which falls into the third until finally all the dominoes have fallen In 2008 the first of many financial dominos began falling Many were worried and looked to Washington for leadership Instead we saw only politics as usual But as 2009 and 2010 unfolded it became too benign to suggest our stricken economy was simply toppled dominos It was more accurate to describe our condition as an economic train wreck The financial chaos as a result of the crisis was heightened by an extraordinary government intervention to triage the shattered economy Many feared with justification that we may be teetering on the brink of this generation's Great Depression The near death experience the U S economy has suffered forced Americans to turn inward and question our leaders Our worries have multiplied Our free market system and ultimately the American Dream itself now seem more vulnerable than ever More importantly we doubt ourselves and our leaders and long for our life before This is a book that chronicles the unfolding disaster of our nation's financial train wreck For two crucial years Kevin Clark had broadcast financial analysis that became a play by play of the economic collapse Now with hindsight he revisits recent history and brings what he calls a Main Street perspective of this most critical moment in the modern life of America The Space Barons Christian Davenport, 2018-03-20 A pacy smartly reported Financial Times account of the historic quest to rekindle the human exploration and colonization of space led by two rival billionaires The Space Barons is the story of a group of billionaire entrepreneurs who are pouring their fortunes into the epic resurrection of the American space program Nearly a half century after Neil Armstrong walked on the moon these Space Barons Elon Musk Jeff Bezos Richard Branson and Paul Allen have founded some of the biggest brands in the world Amazon Microsoft Virgin Tesla PayPal and upended industry after industry Now they are pursuing the biggest disruption of all space Based on years of reporting and exclusive interviews with all four billionaires this authoritative account is a dramatic tale of the birth of a new Space Age Detailing the rivalry between hard charging startups and established contractors The Space Barons traces the personal clashes of the leaders of this new space movement particularly Musk and Bezos as they aim for the moon and Mars and beyond Warped Space Anthony Vidler, 2002-02-22 How psychological ideas of space have profoundly affected architectural and artistic expression in the twentieth century Beginning with agoraphobia and claustrophobia in the late nineteenth century followed by shell shock and panic fear after World War I phobias and anxiety came to be seen as the mental condition of modern life They became incorporated into the media and arts in particular the spatial arts of architecture urbanism and film This spatial warping is now being reshaped by digitalization and virtual reality Anthony Vidler is concerned with two forms of warped space The first a psychological space is the repository of neuroses and phobias This space is not empty but full of disturbing forms including those of architecture and the city The second kind of warping is produced when artists break the boundaries of genre to depict space in new ways Vidler traces the emergence of a psychological idea of space from Pascal and Freud to the identification of agoraphobia and claustrophobia in the nineteenth century to twentieth century theories of spatial alienation and estrangement in the writings of Georg Simmel Siegfried Kracauer and Walter Benjamin Focusing on current conditions of displacement and placelessness he examines ways in which contemporary artists and architects have produced new forms of spatial warping The discussion ranges from theorists such as Jacques Lacan and Gilles Deleuze to artists such as Vito Acconci Mike Kelley Martha Rosler and Rachel Whiteread Finally Vidler looks at the architectural experiments of Frank Gehry Coop Himmelblau Daniel Libeskind Greg Lynn Morphosis and Eric Owen Moss in the light of new digital techniques that while relying on traditional perspective have radically transformed the composition production and experience perhaps even the subject itself of architecture
