Quantitative and Applied Research Methodology in Economics Niranjana Devkota, Sushanta Kumar Mahapatra, 2025-06-06
This book is an illustrative and comprehensive guide designed to help readers understand and navigate the complex world of academic writing and research in economics. Written by experienced researchers, this book offers theoretical and practical insights into the research process. It provides an understanding of the foundations of the research process like research design, methodology, problem definition, data collection and analysis among others. The authors also share insights into the process of preparing, proofreading and publishing academic papers. With their experience in the field of academic research, to this book they provide practical examples and step by step guidance to assist in research related issues. The section on how to prepare and publish academic papers is a must read for students and early career researchers as it offers valuable guidance on how to succeed in the highly competitive world of academic publishing. With its clear and concise writing, this book will be an indispensable resource for undergraduate and postgraduate economics students, teachers, independent readers and early career researchers as well as those seeking a deeper understanding of research methodology in economics.

Stimulating Non-Fiction Writing! Emma Hughes-Evans, Simon Brownhill, 2019-01-25
Stimulating Non Fiction Writing Inspiring Children Aged 7-11 offers innovative and exciting ways to engage children in non-fiction writing, giving professionals the confidence and practical advice that they need to support children in producing quality non-fiction texts in the classroom. Packed full of interesting ideas, resource suggestions and practical activities, the book explores the various ways professionals can purposefully encourage child authors to develop their non-fiction writing skills. Tried and tested resources, Gold star tips and practical suggestions are underpinned by research-informed teaching strategies and academic information to strengthen professional practice associated with the teaching of non-fiction writing. By taking a stimulating approach to each text type and linking activities to known texts and stimuli, the book offers differentiated advice for working with children in Lower and Upper Key stage 2. Chapters consider text types that include Instructions, Persuasive texts, Non-chronological reports, Correspondence texts, Discussion texts. This new text is the perfect guide for inspiring children aged 7-11 in the classroom and will energise and enrich classroom provision and practice by being an essential resource for teachers and students on teacher training courses.

Transforming Children's Mathematics Education Leslie P. Steffe, Terry Wood, 2013-11-05
Eminent scholars from around the globe gathered to discuss how educational systems would change if the prevailing principles of constructivism were applied to three major aspects of those systems: knowledge and learning, communication and environment. This volume provides documentation of the proceedings of this important meeting: the Early Childhood Action Group of the Sixth International Congress on Mathematics Education. This international assembly representing such diverse disciplines as mathematics and math education, epistemology, philosophy, cognitive science, psycholinguistics and science education is the first to examine early childhood mathematics education from constructivist and international perspectives in addition to formulating recommendations for future work in the field High-Stakes Testing David Coniam, Peter Falvey, 2018-10-24 This book provides a detailed account of the origin development administration revision and subsequent research findings on the benchmarking initiative from 1996 2016 It presents an overall assessment of the initiative s impact on major stakeholders predictions regarding the way forward and implications for other countries especially in South East Asia In addition the book discusses what the larger global community can learn from Hong Kong s two decade experience of conceptualizing and implementing minimum standard language requirements for teachers

Degrees for a New Generation Mary Emison, 2013-05-01 Degrees for a New Generation charts an extraordinary journey undertaken by the University of Melbourne In 2005 the University agreed on a broad notion of curriculum reform by 2008 it had the first intake of students into its new Melbourne Model undergraduate courses by 2011 the first cohort had graduated and the University shifted its professional programs to graduate level entry It was a massive at times controversial transformation of an old and large institution which ultimately has left no aspect of the University untouched Mary Emison's detailed insightful account of the making of the Melbourne Model highlights the processes people and groups involved in planning implementing and managing these radical changes It traces the story from the consultative beginnings led by Vice Chancellor Glyn Davis through the assiduous work of course design and transition led by Peter McPhee involving generous commitments of time energy and reflection from a great many professional and academic staff Emison shows that academic structures in a large university can be transformed to offer a flexible approach to tertiary education that fits with a changing global environment
