Writing the Breakout Novel Donald Maass, 2002-08-15 Take your fiction to the next level Maybe you're a first time novelist looking for practical guidance Maybe you've already been published but your latest effort is stuck in mid list limbo Whatever the case may be author and literary agent Donald Maass can show you how to take your prose to the next level and write a breakout novel one that rises out of obscurity and hits the best seller lists Maass details the elements that all breakout novels share regardless of genre then shows you writing techniques that can make your own books stand out and succeed in a crowded marketplace You'll learn to establish a powerful and sweeping sense of time and place weave subplots into the main action for a complex engrossing story create larger than life characters that step right off the page explore universal themes that will interest a broad audience of readers sustain a high degree of narrative tension from start to finish develop an inspired premise that sets your novel apart from the competition Then using examples from the recent works of several best selling authors including novelist Anne Perry Maass illustrates methods for upping the ante in every aspect of your novel writing You'll capture the eye of an agent generate publisher interest and lay the foundation for a promising career Writing in Hope and Fear John McLaren, 1996 A compelling critical and historical account of politics in postwar

Australian literary culture First Chapter Plus: connecting readers to new books (Issue #1, April 2010) Watson, Irene,

Contemporary Chinese Fiction Writers Laifong Leung, 2016-07-28 In the years since the death of Mao Zedong interest in Chinese writers and Chinese literature has risen significantly in the West In 2000 Gao Xingjian became the first Chinese writer to receive the Nobel Prize for Literature followed by Mo Yan in 2012 and writers such as Ha Jin and Da Sijie have also become well known in the West Despite this progress the vast majority of Chinese writers remain largely unknown outside of China This book introduces the lives and works of eighty contemporary Chinese writers and focuses on writers from the Rightist generation Bai Hua Gao Xiaosheng Liu Shaotang writers of the Red Guard generation Li Rui Wang Anyi Post Cultural Revolution Writers as well as others Unlike earlier works it provides detailed often first hand biographical information on this wide range of writers including their career trajectories major themes and artistic characteristics In addition to this each entry includes a critical presentation and evaluation of the writer s major works a selected bibliography of publications that includes works in Chinese works translated into English and critical articles and books available in English Offering a valuable contribution to the field of contemporary Chinese literature by making detailed information about Chinese writers more accessible this book will be of interest to students and scholars Chinese Literature Contemporary Literature and Chinese Studies

The Suburb of Dissent Caren Irr,1998 A study of a range of leftist literature of the 30s in its cultural milieu

The Court suburb magazine, ed. by F. Aikin-Kortright Fanny Aikin- Kortright,1868

The Duke in the Suburbs Edgar Wallace,1909

Invisible Suburbs Josh Lukin,2008 Were the 1950s an oppressive or a liberating time Some scholars argue that the Red Scare newly institutionalized discrimination against gays and a public discourse saturated with sexism left wounds in American society Others trace the origins of sixties liberation movements to the fifties and celebrate America s postwar prosperity or argue that such new phenomena as rock n roll teenage consumerism and Beat poetry gave Americans a new sense of freedom and identity Invisible Suburbs advances a new synthesis of both views from the perspective of literary scholarship Essayists ask how overlooked literature in the 1950s addressed or anticipated the struggles of disenfranchised groups to receive rights and recognition Scholars analyze the many ways in which the decade s culture stigmatized women minorities and the poor They uncover work that illustrates how groups and individuals challenged or resisted that oppression fiction by authors who sometimes found roots in earlier liberation movements and anticipated later struggles

BOOK JACKET

Postmodern, Marxist, and Christian Historical Novels Lynne W. Hinojosa,2022-06-15

Postmodern Marxist and Christian Historical Novels Hope and the Burdens of History argues historical novels can help readers receive the burdens of history meaning both the burdens of the past present and future and the burden of living in time and develop a more robust conception of and concrete practice of hope Since the 1960s historical novels have been a dominant literary genre but they have been influenced primarily not by Christian but by postmodern and marxist thinkers and writers This book provides a theological and literary analysis of all three types of historical novels postmodern marxist and Christian and outlines what each school of thought can learn from each other regarding historical understanding and hope Using J rgen Moltmann s theology of hope and Frank Kermode s literary criticism as a theoretical basis the book offers readings of novels by Julian Barnes A S Byatt Kazuo Ishiguro Margaret Atwood Michael Ondaatje Ian McEwan and Ursula LeGuin among others and ends with an extended analysis of Marilynne Robinson s Gilead series

Autobiography as a Writing Strategy in Postcolonial Literature Benaouda Lebdaï,2015-02-05

Autobiography a fully recognised genre within mainstream literature today has evolved massively in the last few decades particularly through colonial and postcolonial texts By using autobiography as a means of expression many postcolonial writers were able to describe their experiences in the face of the denial of personal expression for centuries This book is centred around the recounting and analysis of such a phenomenon Literary purists often reject autobiography as a fully fledged literary genre perceiving it rather as a mere life report or a descriptive diary The colonial and postcolonial autobiographical texts analysed in this book refute such perceptions and demonstrate a subtle combination of literary qualities and the recounting of real life experiences This book demonstrates that colonial and postcolonial autobiographical texts have established their literarity The need for postcolonial authors to express themselves through the I and the me as subjects and not as objects is the essence of this book and confirms that self affirmation through autobiographical writing is indeed an art form The Writer's Digest ,1921

Writing Is Murder: Motive, Means, and Opportunity Cathryn Grant,2023-02-13 Are you dreaming of becoming a published author Do you fear the stigma of self publishing Are you self published but feel discouraged In this candid exposition Cathryn Grant shares her story on the road to becoming a self published author The struggles triumphs roadblocks and emotional roller coaster of self publishing are discussed with bare all honesty As the author of over thirty novels and novellas and numerous short stories and flash fiction Cathryn hopes her story will inspire you and remind you You are not alone Grab your copy and let her story and yes some advice inspire you UPDATED AUGUST 2020 I published this book in December 2018 Six weeks later I was approached by a small innovative crime fiction publisher based in Ireland Inkubator Books This wonderful hands on publisher has done a superb job working with me to develop several domestic thrillers with more to come They handle all the marketing of my books which was the role I struggled and mostly failed to master I still firmly believe I made the right choice to self publish and Inkubator is a perfect fit because they are supportive of my creative vision and my continuing self publishing endeavor If you re struggling to make a publishing decision or just looking for the support that comes from reading other writers stories I think you ll enjoy my story Old and New London:

Westminster and the western suburbs Walter Thornbury,1873 More Letters from the Edge Margaret Randall,2025-09-09 A collection of letters exchanged between the author and four outriders artists writers and activists who risk everything to confront censorship injustice and the constraints of convention In More Letters from the Edge Margaret Randall continues her exploration of the power of correspondence revealing the intimate and unguarded exchanges that define lives lived at the margins of convention Through letters interviews and fragments of memory she invites us into conversations with four fearlessly radical writers artists and activists Arturo Arango Kathy Boudin Jane Norling and Robert Schweitzer Their voices translated remembered and preserved offer urgent reflections on risk resistance and the act of making meaning in a world that now more than ever seeks to silence dissent More than historical artifacts these conversations bridge past and present proving that the fight for creative and political integrity is never confined to a single era More Letters from the Edge is a testament to those who push against the edges opening doors for all who follow

Critics and Writers Speak Igor Maver,2006-01-01 This book of new critical essays and interviews with writers interrogates the current usage of the term and the category of the post colonial as a theoretical concept discourse and state of mind By looking at contemporary writing in English throughout the world it critically revises the current practice of post colonial studies and calls attention to its significant weaknesses

A History of the Spanish Novel J. A. G. Ardila,2015 A History of the Spanish Novel is the only volume in English that offers comprehensive coverage of the history of the Spanish novel from the sixteenth century to the present day with chapters written by some of the world leading experts in the field

From the Edge Allison E. Fagan,2016-07-14 Chicana o literature frequently depicts characters who exist in a vulnerable liminal space living on the border between Mexican and American identities and sometimes pushed to the edge by authorities who seek to restrict their freedom As this groundbreaking new study reveals the books themselves have occupied similarly precarious positions as Chicana o literature has struggled for economic viability and visibility on the margins of the American publishing industry while Chicana o writers have grappled with editorial practices that compromise their creative autonomy From the Edge reveals the tangled textual histories behind some of the most cherished works in the Chicana o literary canon tracing the negotiations between authors editors and publishers that determined how these books appeared in print Allison Fagan demonstrates how the texts surrounding the authors words from editorial prefaces to Spanish language glossaries from cover illustrations to reviewers blurbs have crucially shaped the reception of Chicana o literature To gain an even richer perspective on the politics of print she ultimately explores one more border space studying the marks and remarks that readers have left in the margins of these books From the Edge vividly demonstrates that to comprehend fully the roles that ethnicity language class and gender play within Chicana o literature we must understand the material conditions that governed the production publication and reception of these works By teaching us how to read the borders of the text it demonstrates how we might perceive and preserve the faint traces of those on the margins
