

Report writing: Formal

There are many different types of reports. This information is a basic outline only. Before you attempt to write a report, you should check the particular requirements for the subject.

A formal report should have the following arrangement.

1. TITLE PAGE — The Title Page must include the subject of the report, who the report is for, who the report is by and the date of submission.

2. ABSTRACT — An Abstract is usually 100 to 200 words and should include the following:

- why the report has been written (i.e. what question or problem is it addressing?)
- how the study was undertaken
- what the main findings were
- what the significance of the findings is.

Be specific and precise so that the reader can get a good understanding of the main points without having to read the whole report.

The abstract should be on a separate page with the centred heading ABSTRACT in capitals. It is usually written in a single paragraph with no indentation.

3. TABLE OF CONTENTS — The Table of Contents should be on a separate page. It helps the reader to find specific information and indicates how the information has been organised and what topics are covered. The table of contents should also include a list of figures and a list of tables if any are used in the report.

4. INTRODUCTION — The Introduction has three main components.

1. The Background which describes events leading up to the existing situation, what projects have been done previously, and why the project or study is necessary.
2. The Purpose which defines what the project or study is to achieve, who authorised it and the specific terms of reference.
3. The Scope which outlines any limitations imposed on the project such as cost, time etc.

5. BODY — The Body varies according to the type of report. Basically, it answers the questions — Who? Why? Where? When? What? How? In an investigative report, it would consist of all the information required to convince the reader that the conclusions and recommendations are valid/reliable. This information must be presented in a systematic way.

6. CONCLUSION — The Conclusion should be as brief as possible. They should be presented in descending order of importance and should not suggest action. Conclusions should be free from speculation (i.e. ideas for which you have presented no evidence), have no new thoughts or references introduced and contain no further discussion of points raised.

7. RECOMMENDATIONS — The Recommendations should follow naturally from the conclusions. They should be offered in descending order of importance and may be in point form when several recommendations are being made.

8. REFERENCES — The list of References is an accurate listing, in strict alphabetical order, of all the sources referred to.

Planning, Writing and Reviewing Medical Device Clinical and Performance Evaluation Reports (CERs/PERs)

Joy Frestedt, 2024-09-19 A Practical Guide to Planning Writing and Reviewing Medical Device Clinical Evaluation Reports guides readers through clinical data evaluation of medical devices in compliance with the EU MDR requirements and other similar regulatory requirements throughout the world. This book brings together knowledge learned as the author constructed hundreds of CERs and taught thousands of learners on how to conduct clinical data evaluations. This book will support training for clinical engineers, clinical evaluation scientists and experts reviewing medical device CERs and will help individual writers, teams and companies to develop stronger, more robust CERs. Identifies and explains data analysis for clinical evaluation of medical devices. Teaches readers how to understand and evaluate medical device performance and safety in the context of new regulations. Provides analysis of new clinical evaluation criteria in the context of medical device design as well as in hospital deployment and servicing.

Essentials of Psychological Assessment Supervision A. Jordan Wright, 2019-09-23 The only pocket size reference on supervising psychological testing and assessment. In 2014 the American Psychological Association (APA) adopted a set of guidelines for clinical supervision for health service psychology. While technically covered by these guidelines, supervising clinical psychological assessment includes additional tasks such as ensuring accurate administration, scoring and interpretation of tests and tensions. Supervisors must often instruct supervisees on the data integration process which can involve more direct teaching than standard clinical supervision while encompassing the same interpersonal, therapeutic and less structured guiding aspects as psychotherapy supervision. It is increasingly common to view clinical supervision in the assessment process and supervision of psychotherapy as two significantly different tasks. Surprisingly, there is very little training and guidance available on appropriate, effective and beneficial methods of psychological assessment supervision. Essentials of Psychological Assessment Supervision seeks to remedy the lack of literature in this area, offering guidance on supervising psychological testing and assessment. This much needed guide provides supervisors with authoritative, up to date information on guidelines relevant to assessment supervision. Additionally, detailed coverage of supervision of cognitive, personality, emotional, psychoeducational, neuropsychological, forensic and therapeutic assessments among others, provide supervisors with guidance and structure in the supervision process. Focusing on practical application, this book offers guidance on topics such as assessment models appropriate in different areas of assessment, diversity issues, evaluation and feedback of supervisee performance and ethical, legal and regulatory considerations relevant in each assessment context. An invaluable resource for practitioners, this book offers practical advice on supervising a wide range of clinical psychological assessments. Includes contributions from experts in their respective subfields. Provides guidance on incorporating new American Psychological Association (APA) and Society for Personality Assessment (SPA) guidelines into the supervision process. Fills an urgent need for an up to date reference on assessment supervision. Essentials of Psychological Assessment Supervision is a must have reference for both psychology practitioners who supervise the assessment process and instructors of psychological testing and assessment. Marketing
