Pygmalion Principles Patricia J. Dignan Ed.D. J.D.,2020-11-05 A BLUEPRINT FOR BUILDING PREMIER EDUCATIONAL LANDSCAPES IN YOUR COMMUNITIES This book is both a Memoir on challenges facing public schools and a Manual showing how those can be turned into opportunities for creating effective and even exceptional schools The Memoir depicts a career which spans 30 years 4 schools and an entire district beset with special characteristics and problems It is at times both somber and funny It shows communities at their best and communities at their worst with teachers causing or reflecting both ends of the continuum It also shows how an administrator can steer their buildings and districts toward state and national recognition In a stark accounting this book delineates both blatant and subtle discrimination against females in a man s world and mirrors history in its critical approach to women administrators The

Chapter entitled How to Break through the Glass Ceiling without Having to Sweep up the Mess offers suggestions on how women can use some of that history to their advantage Included in the Manual portion of this book are also sections that offer step by step instructions for administrators who want to raise both the level of expectation and the performance of staff and students in an ongoing quest for excellence There are also recipes for raising test scores in a meaningful and dramatic way Several fun events encapsulated in both pictures and narrative excite not only students and staff but also communities and can be easily replicated Although many of these events were 1st in the country and featured in magazine and newspaper articles they are easy to copy especially at the elementary level Lastly there are tips for parents and ways to include them in this process we call education Given the recent Covid 19 crisis enlisting and enlarging the role of parents is especially timely

Copyright Office, 1967 Includes Part 1 Number 2 Books and Pamphlets Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals July December The Rise and Fall of Social Psychology Augustine Brannigan, 2017-07-05 This unflinching effort critically traces the attempt of social psychology over the past half century to forge a scientific understanding of human behavior based on the systematic use of experiments Having examined the record from the inception of the field to the present Brannigan suggests that it has failed to live up to its promise that social psychologists have achieved little consensus about the central problems in the field that they have failed to amass a body of systematic non trivial theoretical insight and that recent concerns over the ethical treatment of human subjects could arguably bring the discipline to closure But that is not the disastrous outcome that Brannigan hopes for Rather going beyond an apparent iconoclasm the author explores prospects for a post experimental discipline It is a view that admits the role of ethical considerations as part of scientific judgment but not as a sacrifice of but an extension of empirical research that takes seriously how the brain represents information and how these mechanisms explain social behaviors and channel human choices and appetites What makes this work special is its function as a primary text in the history as well as the current status of social psychology as a field of behavioral science The keen insight touched by the gently critical styles of such major figures as Philip Zimbardo Morton Hunt Leon Festinger Stanley Milgram Alex Crey Samuel Wineburg Carol Gilligan David M Buss among others makes this a perfect volume for students entering the field and no less a reminder of the past as well as present of social psychology for its serious practitioners Organising Learning in the Primary School Classroom Mrs Joan Dean, Joan Dean, 2002-11-01 Since its publication in 1984 the first edition of Organising Learning in the Primary School Classroom has been recognised as an indispensable guide for primary school teachers in their quest for more effective practice in the classroom It gives help on everyday problems of classroom organisation how to group children how to set out a classroom physically how to make the most efficient use of time and resources Throughout the aim is to get teachers and student teachers to analyse their own classrooms and to produce solutions that will work for them This second edition retains these strengths but has been completely revised to take account of recent thinking in education and of the new situation created by the National Curriculum with its associated assessment The sections on curriculum content and especially the teaching of science have been expanded and the very useful guidance on topic work now looks at the implications of the National Curriculum for this method of teaching

Gender Politics in Modern China Tani E. Barlow, 1993 Through the lens of modern Chinese literature Gender Politics in Modern China explores the relationship between gender and modernity notions of the feminine and masculine and shifting arguments for gender equality in China Ranging from interviews with contemporary writers to historical accounts of gendered writing in Taiwan and semi colonial China to close feminist readings of individual authors these essays confront the degree to which textual strategies construct notions of gender Among the specific themes discussed are how femininity is produced in texts by allocating women to domestic space the extent to which textual production lies at the base of a changing historically specific code of the feminine the extent to which women in modern Chinese societies are products of literary canons the ways in which the historical processes of gendering have operated in Chinese modernity vis vis modernity in the West the representation of feminists as avengers and as westernized women and the meager recognition of feminism as a serious intellectual current and a large body of theory Originally published as a special issue of Modern Chinese Literature Spring Fall 1988 this expanded book represents some of the most compelling new work in post Mao feminist scholarship and will appeal to all those concerned with understanding a revitalized feminism in the Chinese context Contributors Carolyn Brown Ching kiu Stephen Chan Sung sheng Yvonne Chang Yu shih Chen Rey Chow Randy Kaplan Richard King Wolfgang Kubin Wendy Larson Lydia Liu Seung Yeun Daisy Ng Jon Solomon Meng Yue Wang Zheng
