teacher training in African higher education institutions Sifiso Sibanda, Gideon (Deon) P. van Tonder, Washington T. Dudu, 2023-03-01 This book critically examines the role of governments in promoting parity during and in post pandemic education This comes from the realisation that the pandemic has deepened the crisis by depleting the meagre resources that African countries might have devoted to normative educational practices where those on the margins would have been pushed further behind while the privileged would have been further initiated into the cultural and capital flows of private schools and historically research intensive institutions of higher learning This has far reaching implications for the education of underprivileged citizens and education particularly modes and modalities of delivery has to be reimaged to subvert the challenges wrought by the pandemic This book significantly bridges the gap between the pre and post COVID 19 pandemic pedagogical practices and the erstwhile modalities that have been resilient over time The book focuses on ways to stave off pedagogical challenges that face countries as the global pandemic makes its mark Uprooting University Apartheid in South Africa Teresa A. Barnes, 2018-12-07 South Africa continues to be an object of fascination for people everywhere interested in social justice issues postcolonial studies and critical race theory as manifested by the enormous worldwide attention given to the RhodesMustFall movement In this book Teresa Barnes examines universities complex positioning in the apartheid era and argues that tracing the institutional legacies left by pro apartheid intellectuals are crucial to understanding the fight to transform South African higher education A work of interpretive social history this book investigates three historical dynamics in the relationship between the apartheid system and South African higher education First it explores how the legitimacy of apartheid was historically reproduced in public higher education Second it looks at ways that academics maneuvered through and influenced national and international discourses of political freedom and legitimacy Third it explores how and where stubborn tendrils of apartheid era knowledge production practices survived into and have been combatted during the democratic era in South African universities Research Anthology on Vocational Education and Preparing Future Workers Management Association, Information Resources, 2022-04-08 Many students across the globe seek further education for future employment opportunities Vocational schools offer direct training to develop the skills needed for employment New emphasis has been placed on reskilling the workforce as technology has infiltrated all aspects of business Teachers must be prepared to teach these new skill requirements to allow students to directly enter the workforce with the necessary competences intact As the labor market and industry are changing it is essential to stay current with the best teaching practices within vocational education courses to provide the future workforce with the proper tools and knowledge The Research Anthology on Vocational Education and Preparing Future Workers discusses the development opportunities and challenges of vocational education courses and how to best prepare students for future employment It presents the best practices in curriculum development for vocational education courses and analyzes student outcomes Covering topics such as industry academia collaboration student satisfaction and competency wrought havoc on the world's economic systems. Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems. Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning. Most were not. Whether prepared or not, educators rose to the challenge. The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face-to-face environment. In fact, some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face-to-face model. As with all transitions, some things were lost while others were gained. This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century. The book is organized into four sections on The Perspectives of Higher Education, COVID as a Catalyst for Change, Embracing Online Learning as a Response to COVID, and Post-Covid: The Way Forward. It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process. These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post-COVID. Higher education has been forever changed, and higher education as it once was may never return. While many questions arise, the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights of accomplishment even in the face of the pandemic.

Developmentalism, Dependency, and the State: Industrial Development and Economic Change in Namibia since 1900 Christopher Hope, 2020-09-23. Why does Namibia's economy look the way it does today? Was the reliance on raw materials for exports and on the service sector for employment an inevitability? And for what reasons has the manufacturing sector, the vehicle for economic development for many now high-income countries throughout the 19th and 20th centuries, seen its growth held back? With these questions in mind, this book offers an extensive analysis of industrial development and economic change in Namibia since 1900, exploring their causes, trajectory, vicissitudes, context, and politics. Its focus is particularly on the motivations behind the economic decisions of the state, arguing that power relations both internationally and domestically have held firm a status quo that has resisted efforts towards profound economic change. This work is the first in-depth economic study covering both the colonial and independence eras of Namibia's history and provides the first history of the country's manufacturing sector.

Business History of Hospitals in the 20th Century Paloma Fernández Pérez, 2024-06-14. This book offers a business history of modern hospitals in the 20th century. Presenting case studies from around the world, it examines the long-term institutional and historical evolution of hospital organization and management models, applying a business history approach to do so. Drawing on reports from international organizations and other historical data, it explores the evolution path, dependencies, actors, and institutions that have shaped the diversity of hospital organization and management models. At the same time, it analyzes the historical origins of major problems faced by today's hospitals, such as cost inefficiencies, lack of specialized human capital, etc. The contributing authors cover topics such as the history of hospital finance and accounting hospital price regulation entrepreneurship models hospital privatization and hospital governance The book will appeal to scholars and students of economic and business history and to anyone interested in the history of hospitals

Innovating Counseling for Self- and Career Construction Jacobus Gideon (Kobus) Maree, 2020-06-29 This book sets out to provide context for innovating counseling for self and career construction It gives readers insight into the theory underlying an innovative integrative qualitative quantitative approach to career counseling Three key ideas recur throughout the book First the idea of not dispensing advice to people instead enabling them to advise themselves Second the idea of listening for instead of to people's stories to help them choose and construct careers and themselves and shape their career identities Third the idea of helping people connect what they know about themselves consciously with what they are aware of subconsciously The book confronts some of the main challenges posed by Work 4.0 on the workplace but also foreshadows the imminent advent of Work 5.0 It endeavors to promote career counselors' ability to help people thrive at a time when many speculate that work itself is at risk occupational contexts no longer hold workers in the way they used to and the coronavirus pandemic is disrupting the workplace

Open and Distance Learning in Secondary School Education in India Jyotsna Jha, Neha Ghatak, Puja Minni, Shobhita Rajagopal, Shreekanth Mahendiran, 2019-11-19 This book examines the state of the Open and Distance Learning ODL based secondary education in India ODL based education has been a key resource for children in India who can neither cope with nor avail of regular schooling opportunities due to economic health and disability or other constraints The volume uses large scale empirical data collected from various Indian states and a sensitive theoretical framework to study the equity efficiency and effectiveness of the National Institute of Open Schooling NIOS and the State Open School SOS Highlighting the roadblocks and barriers in terms of its reach inclusion and delivery particularly to the marginalised this book explores whether ODL has a potential of being a sustainable and effective option at the secondary and senior secondary level in India Thus it seeks to generate policy discourse around delivery mechanisms and effectiveness of ODL in developing countries First of its kind this comprehensive volume will be useful for scholars and researchers of education education policy public policy and political studies

Decolonising Media and Communication Studies Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Selina Linda Mudavanhu, Shepherd Mpofu, Kezia Batisai, 2023-10-27 The book provides insights on decolonising media and communication studies education from diverse African scholars at different stages of their careers These academics located on the continent and in the diaspora share an interest in decolonising higher education broadly and media and communication studies teaching and learning in particular Although many African countries gained flag independence from different European colonial powers between the 1950s and the 1970s this book argues that former colonies remain ensnared in a colonial power matrix Many African universities did not jettison ways of teaching and learning established during colonialism and even those journalism communication and media studies training programmes which were established after the attainment of flag independence did not place decolonial agendas at the front and centre when setting them up Starting with big picture thematic questions around decolonisation the book goes on to consider what the implications of change would be for students and instructors before reflecting on how far it is possible to decolonise curricula and syllabi and what this might look like in practice across a range of subject areas and country contexts Overall this book presents a nuanced picture of what a decolonised media and communication studies education could look like in sub Saharan Africa This book is essential for researchers in Africa in disciplines such as media and communication studies journalism film studies cultural studies and higher education studies More broadly the concepts and ideas on decolonising teaching and learning discussed in the book are relevant to instructors in any discipline who are interested in doing the decolonial work of contesting coloniality
