The Decolonization of Knowledge Jonathan D. Jansen,Cyrill A. Walters,2022-06-30 In 2015 students at the University of Cape Town used the slogan RhodesMustFall to demand that a monument of Cecil John Rhodes the empire builder of British South Africa be removed from the university campus Soon students at Oxford University called for the removal of a statue of Rhodes from Oriel College The radical idea of decolonization at the forefront of these student protests continues to be a key element in South African educational institutions as well as those in Europe and North America This book explores the uptake of decolonization in the institutional curriculum given the political demands for decolonization on South African campuses and the generally positive reception of the idea by university leaders Based on interviews with more than two hundred academic teachers at ten universities this is an innovative account of how institutions have engaged with subverted and transformed the decolonization movement since RhodesMustFall

Post-admission Language Assessment of University Students John Read,2016-08-10 English medium universities around the world face real challenges in ensuring that incoming students have the language and literacy skills they need to cope with the demands of their degree programmes One response has been a variety of institutional initiatives to assess students after admission in order to identify those with significant needs and advise them on how to enhance their academic language ability This volume brings together papers from Australia Canada Hong Kong New Zealand Oman South Africa and the United States written by language assessment specialists who discuss issues in the design and implementation of these post admission assessments in their own institutions A major theme running through the book is the need to evaluate the validity of such assessments not just on their technical quality but on their impact in terms of giving students access to effective means of developing their language skills and ultimately enhancing their academic achievement
