the lives of ordinary individuals in the twenty first century Organized around the trope of the individual in five different copyright related contexts as an infringer transformer pure user creator and reformer the book charts the changing contours of our copyright regime and assesses its vitality in the digital age In the process Tehranian questions some of our most basic assumptions about copyright law by highlighting the unseemly amount of infringement liability an average person rings up in a single day the counterintuitive role of the fair use doctrine in radically expanding the copyright monopoly the important expressive interests at play in even the unauthorized use of copyright works the surprisingly low level of protection that American copyright law grants many creators and the broader political import of copyright law on the exertion of social regulation and control Drawing upon both theory and the author s own experiences representing clients in various high profile copyright infringement suits Tehranian supports his arguments with a rich array of diverse examples crossing various subject matters from the unusual origins of Nirvana s Smells Like Teen Spirit the question of numeracy among Amazonian hunter gatherers the history of stand offs at papal nunciatures and the tradition of judicial plagiarism to contemplations on Slash s criminal record Barbie s retrouss nose the poisonous tomato flag burning music as a form of torture the smell of rotting film William Shakespeare as a man of the people Charles Dickens as a lobbyist Ashley Wilkes s sexual orientation Captain Kirk s reincarnation and Holden Caulfield s maturation In the end Infringement Nation makes a sophisticated yet lucid case for reform of existing doctrine and the development of a copyright 2 0 Basic Jack Jacobs,David shaped by the homoerotics of orientalism Brown Boys and Rice Queens focuses on the relationship between the white man and the native boy Eng Beng Lim unpacks this as the central trope for understanding colonial and cultural encounters in 20th and 21st century Asia and its diaspora Using the native boy as a critical guide Lim formulates alternative readings of a traditional Balinese ritual postcolonial Anglophone theatre in Singapore and performance art in Asian America Tracing the transnational formation of the native boy as racial fetish object across the last century Lim follows this figure as he is passed from the hands of the colonial empire to the postcolonial nation state to neoliberal globalization Read through such figurations the traffic in native boys among white men serves as an allegory of an infantilized and emasculated Asia subordinate before colonial whiteness and modernity Pushing further Lim addresses the critical paradox of this entrenched relationship that resides even within queer theory itself by formulating critical interventions around Asian performance
