University Of Malawi Intake 2015 September:

Political Transition and Inclusive Development in Malawi Dan Banik, Blessings Chinsinga, 2016-06-10 Malawi is among the few countries in sub Saharan Africa that has witnessed significant improvements in relation to meeting the Millennium Development Goal MDG targets. It exhibits some of the main challenges facing African democracies while they attempt to consolidate the benefits of democratisation. Political Transition and Inclusive Development in Malawi critically analyses opportunities and constraints related to the impact of democracy on development in one of the world's poorest countries. The book explores how and to what extent processes related to democratic and economic governance can be strengthened in order to make political and administrative authorities more responsive to development needs. It also considers characteristics of successful implementation of public policy and the effective and timely delivery of basic services in local contexts: increased citizen participation and dialogue with local government authorities; factors that enable civil society organisations to hold political and administrative officials to account; and better utilisation of academic research for improved evidence-based policy formulation and implementation. This volume will be of great interest to scholars in development studies, African studies, politics, law and anthropology, as well as policymakers and those interested in democracy, governance, human rights and the implementation of anti-poverty programmes, development administration and decentralisation.

Education, Communication and Democracy in Africa Chikumbutso Herbert Manthala, Victor Chikaipa, Anthony Mavuto Gunde, 2021-07-22 This innovative volume critically examines the intersection between democracy, education and communication in African educational domains. Providing a platform for multidisciplinary research, it advances scholarship in democratic citizenship education in African higher education through methodological and theoretical innovation. The book discusses the extent to which explicit or subtle communication frameworks that underlie policymaking, institutional culture, teaching and learning experiences in African higher education significantly engender democratic mind habits and practices in students as citizens. Chapters in the book examine how communication frameworks in pedagogy ought to navigate power imbalances between students on the one hand and the institution and academics on the other. The book also examines how disempowering higher education policies are and whether they contribute to democratic equality. This book will be of great interest to academics, researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of education, democratic citizenship education, communication and African studies.

Sharing Knowledge, Transforming Societies Tor Halvorsen, Skare Orgeret, 2019-10-22 In June 2016 the Norwegian Programme for Capacity Development in Higher Education and Research for Development (Norhed) hosted a conference on the theme of knowledge for development in an attempt to shift the focus of the programme towards its academic content. This book follows up on that event. The conference highlighted the usefulness of presenting the value of Norhed's different projects to the world, showing how they improve knowledge and expand access to it through co-operation. A wish for more meta-knowledge was also expressed and this gives rise to the following questions Is this way of co operating contributing to the growth of independent post colonial knowledge production in the South based on analyses of local data and experiences in ways that are relevant to our shared future Does the growth of academic independence as well as greater equality and the ability to develop theories different to those imposed by the better off parts of the world give rise to deeper understandings and better explanations Does it at least spread the ability to translate existing methodologies in ways that add meaning to observations of local context and data and thus enhance the relevance and influence of the academic profession locally and internationally This book in its varied contributions does not provide definite answers to these questions but it does show that Norhed is a step in the right direction Norhed is an attempt to fund collaboration within and between higher education institutions We know that both the uniqueness of this programme and ideas of how to better utilise the learning and experience emerging from it call for more elaboration and broader dissemination before we can offer further guidance on how to do things better This book is a first attempt Mapping the linkages between agriculture, food security and nutrition in Malawi Aberman, Noora-Lisa, Meerman, Janice, Benson, Todd, 2015-12-16 Smallholder agriculture is the mainstay of Malawi s economy Its importance for livelihoods cannot be overstated 94 percent of rural residents and 38 percent of urban residents engage in agriculture to some extent Jones Shrinivas and Bezner Kerr 2014 the vast majority as smallholder farmers with landholdings of less than one hectare Smallholder crops are primarily maize which accounted for nearly 80 percent of smallholder cultivated land in 2011 followed by cassava and other food crops FAO 2008 IFAD 2011 These foods are grown for household consumption and for sale at local and regional markets As such the Malawian food supply especially in rural areas where markets are thin with few buying or selling options is shaped largely by trends in smallholder food crop production Global Public Health Policies KV Ramani, 2015-07-30 This book explains the design thinking approach both for designing new services and delivering the services This approach itself can be applied to areas other than pure services because it contains the innovative and intrinsic ingredients that can be applied to any human activity The book will cover topics such as mindset and preparation for service design as well as prototyping and testing the service design Introduction on design thinking is discussed and design thinking toolkits are provided a useful tool for the reader to implement Both IDEO s Design Thinking for Educators Toolkit and Innovation Leadership Board s Playbook for Strategic Foresight and Innovation are discussed in detail Annual Activity Report of HRST Department African Union. Department of Human Resources, Science and Technology, Acting Like a State Gözim Visoka, 2018-06-13 How do emerging states obtain international recognition and secure membership of international organisations in contemporary world politics This book provides the first in depth study of Kosovo s diplomatic approach to becoming a sovereign state by obtaining international recognition and securing membership of international organisations Analysing the everyday diplomatic discourses performances and entanglements this book contends that state becoming is not wholly determined by systemic factors normative institutions or the preferences of great powers the diplomatic agency of the fledgling state plays a far more important role than is generally acknowledged Drawing on institutional ethnographic research and first hand observations this book argues that Kosovo s diplomatic success in consolidating its sovereign statehood has been the situational assemblage of multiple discourses practiced through a broad variety of performative actions and shaped by a complex entanglement with global assemblages of norms actors relations and events Accordingly this book contributes to expanding our understanding of the everyday diplomatic agency of emerging states and the changing norms politics and practices regarding the diplomatic recognition of states and their admission to international society

Stock Pieces: British Repertory Theatre, 1760-1830 Susan Valladares, 2024-12-26 What do we gain from watching a familiar play for the nth time This was a crucial question for Romantic period theatre managers who to deliver varied programmes relied on a repertoire of stock entertainments performed in alternation with the latest plays Repertory theatre was not new to the Romantic period but it took on additional purchase at a time when the playhouse was not simply a site for entertainment but a government controlled cultural institution and business subject to sometimes extreme financial political and ideological pressures Through an innovative selection of case studies drawn from deep archival research Stock Pieces juxtaposes canonical with otherwise forgotten entertainments unites the period s professional and amateur dramatic cultures and spans British metropolitan provincial and imperial geographies The picture that emerges is fresh and compelling Stock Pieces sheds light on the mechanics of stock piece status the Romantic afterlives of Shakespeare s near contemporaries whose popular appeal declined as his increased and the work of various agents from pantomime arrangers to enslaved performers in Jamaica who contested the repertoire s received aesthetic and cultural values It also explores the extent to which investments in the abolitionist cause were remediated by stock pieces that revived and reenacted the spectral violence of slavery and the slave trade for various purposes Stock Pieces showcases how the Romantic period dramatic repertoire could be mobilised to signify social and political practices that operated outside the theatrical institution crossed national borders and dared to effect real change

Between Protection and Harm Luc Leboeuf, Cathrine Brun, Hilde Lidén, Sabrina Marchetti, Delphine Nakache, Sylvie Sarolea, 2024-10-07 This open access book dissects the current narratives of vulnerability in asylum laws and policies by unpacking the meanings productions and performances of vulnerability in different contexts from countries of first asylum in the Global South to Europe and Canada It discusses how the increased reliance on vulnerability to guide states replies to refugee movements improves refugee protection while also generating contestations and exclusionary effects that may cause harm Based on data collected as part of the EU Horizon 2020 VULNER project the book examines existing legal and bureaucratic approaches to refugees vulnerabilities which it confronts with the refugees experiences and understandings of their own life challenges It analyses the perspectives from state actors humanitarian organisations and social and aid workers as well as the refugees themselves By emphasizing how these perspectives relate and feed into each other the book unpacks the humanitarian replies from states and the international community to refugee movements including in their implied exclusionary dimensions that generate contestations and implementation difficulties which if not tackled and understood properly risk exacerbating and or producing vulnerabilities among refugees Global Advances in Selenium Research from Theory to Application Gary S.
