Fish & Shellfish Buying Guide and Quantity Recipes for Type A School Lunches, 1967 U.S. Armed Forces Recipe Service, Over 1 700 total pages The Armed Forces Recipe Service is a compendium of high volume food service recipes written and updated regularly by the United States Department of Defense Natick Laboratories and used by military cooks and by institutional and catering operations It originated in 1969 as a consolidation of the cooking manuals of the four main services and is based on previous military publications dating back to the first standardization efforts in the US Army in 1896 Recipes are based primarily on American cookery with the addition of specialized items such as vegetarian kosher and halal recipes to meet more specialized needs of those being served The Service database is now distributed by the Joint Culinary Center of Excellence a division of the US Army Quartermaster School based in Fort Lee Virginia Each recipe card has a standardized format each recipe is calibrated to feed 100 people with a basic nutritional analysis across the top of the card

Nutrient Values of Master Menu Recipes and Food Items, 1985 Great Old-Fashioned American Recipes Beatrice A. Ojakangas, Originally published as Country tastes best recipes from America's kitchens 1988 The Essential New York Times Cookbook: Classic Recipes for a New Century (First Edition) Amanda Hesser, 2010-10-25 A New York Times bestseller and Winner of the James Beard Award All the best recipes from 150 years of distinguished food journalism a volume to take its place in America's kitchens alongside Mastering the Art of French Cooking and How to Cook Everything Amanda Hesser co founder and CEO of Food52 and former New York Times food columnist brings her signature voice and expertise to this compendium of influential and delicious recipes from chefs home cooks and food writers Devoted Times subscribers will find the many treasured recipes they have cooked for years Plum Torte David Eyre's Pancake Pamela Sherri's Summer Pasta as well as favorites from the early Craig Claiborne New York Times Cookbook and a host of other classics from 1940s Caesar salad and 1960s flourless chocolate cake to today's fava bean salad and no knead bread Hesser has cooked and updated every one of the 1 000 plus recipes here Her chapter introductions showcase the history of American cooking and her witty and fascinating headnotes share what makes each recipe special The Essential New York Times Cookbook is for people who grew up in the kitchen with Claiborne for curious cooks who want to serve a nineteenth century raspberry granita to their friends and for the new cook who needs a book that explains everything from how to roll out dough to how to slow roast fish a volume that will serve as a lifelong companion Cooking in America, 1840-1945 Alice L. McLean, 2006-08-30 This cookbook covers the years 1840 through 1945 a time during which American cookery underwent a full scale revolution Gas and electric stoves replaced hearth cookery Milk products came from commercial dairy farms rather than the family cow Daily meals were no longer bound by seasons and regions as canned bottled and eventually frozen products flooded the market and trains began to transport produce and meat from one end of the country to the other During two World Wars and the Great Depression women entered the work force in unprecedented numbers and household servants abandoned low paying domestic jobs to work in factories As a result of these monumental changes American home cooking became irrevocably simplified and cookery skills geared more toward juggling time to comb grocery store shelves for the best and most economical products than toward butchering and preserving an entire animal carcass or pickling fruits and vegetables This cookbook reflects these changes with each of the three chapters capturing the home cooking that typified the era The first chapter covers the pre industrial period 1840 to 1875 during this time home cooks knew how to broil roast grill fry and boil on an open hearth flame and its embers without getting severely injured They also handled whole sheep carcasses made gelatin from boiled pigs trotters grew their own yeast and prepared their own preserves The second chapter covers 1876 through 1910 a time when rapid urbanization transformed the United States from an agrarian society into an industrial giant giving rise to food corporations such as Armour Swift Campbell s Heinz and Pillsbury The mass production and mass marketing of commercial foods began to transform home cooking meat could be purchased from a local butcher or grocery store and commercial gelatin became widely available While many cooks still made their own pickles and preserves commercial varieties multiplied From 1910 to 1945 the period covered by Chapter 3 the home cook became a full fledged consumer and the national food supply became standardized to a large extent As the industrialization of the American food supply progressed commercially produced breads pastries sauces pickles and preserves began to take over kitchen cupboards and undermine the home cooks ability to produce their own meals from scratch The recipes have been culled from some of the most popular commercial and community cookbooks of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Taken together the more than 300 recipes reflect the major cookbook trends of the era Suggested menus are provided for replicating entire meals
