

Contrast - (in art) refers to the arrangement of opposite elements (light colors v. dark colors; rough vs. smooth textures; large shapes vs. small shapes etc.) Often, artists use complementary colors to show contrast.

Complementary Colors - Colors that are opposite one another on the color wheel. Complementary colors often appear to "vibrate" when put next to one another.

Complementary Color Scheme - a color scheme that is made of two colors that are opposite each other on the color wheel. This scheme looks best when you put a warm color against a cool color. For example, red versus green.

Red is the complement of Green

Blue is the complement of Orange

Yellow is the complement of Purple

Color Intensity - examines how bright or dull a color is (how intense a color is). The brightest intensity would be the pure color (or hue) from the color wheel while the dullest would be where you can't even discern what the color is other than it looks like gray. Mixing two complementary colors makes a dark gray/brown color; this would be a low intensity color.

Texture - (in art) is the perceived surface quality of a work of art. In 2D art, it is called implied texture because the artist has to imply what the texture of a surface is (like painting a tree so that it appears to have the texture of bark). Actual texture is texture that is 3D it is texture you can touch.

the animals appear furry and fluffy (implied texture)
