World War II

World War II had a significant impact on the United States. Important effects of World War II included:

- The end of the Great Depression
- An increase in the U.S. military
- The atomic bomb invention

World War II caused some important historic developments. First, The New Deal helped the economy and increased job opportunities, especially for minorities, women, and the disabled. Ultimately, it was World War 2 that pulled the United States out of the Great Depression. Additionally, President Franklin D. Roosevelt authorized The Manhattan Project, which built the atomic bomb. This weapon of mass destruction changed warfare forever. Finally, World War II led to improvements in healthcare, education, and government. For instance, the GI Bill of 1944 helped veterans with three years of college and living expenses. Other accomplishments included improved communication like the radio.

Despite the positive effects of World War II, there were many negative consequences. First, it was costly to build a militia (military force) while creating an arsenal (collection) of weapons and medical supplies. As a result, prices rose sharply to offset the high costs (inflation).

Second, women's independence suffered after World War II. During World War II, women held various jobs: clerical and office jobs, truck drivers, repair technicians for airplanes, lab technicians, radio operators, pilot of military aircraft, nurses in the Army, etc. When soldiers returned from fighting the war, they took over these jobs. Women's independence and equality suffered as a result.

The economic, social, and political changes after World War II were both good and bad. The economy prospered after the Great Depression, only to have inflation affect society in many ways. Likewise, there were vast improvements in healthcare, education, and government, but a political war happened later (the Cold War). And finally, minorities regressed because independence and rights were stripped away after the war. Some historians consider the U.S. entry into World War II to be the turning point in history.
