Werewolves Bob Curran, 2025-09-12 Most of us are familiar with the idea of a werewolf that someone can change either deliberately or unwillingly into a ravenous creature but is there some justification for such a belief And if so how is it achieved through magical potions or ointments or simply by the light of the full moon Or is the whole thing simply a form of delusion the product of a disturbed mind In Werewolves author Dr Bob Curran examines the deep psychological perceptions about the linkage of man with the natural bestial world Do the roots of such a belief lie in the supernatural world or are there other explanations How has the discovery of feral children living in the wild shaped our ideas of human beasts And what is the future of such beliefs The book considers genetically based speculations regarding the possible fusion of human and animal genes in order to alleviate some human diseases and suffering Is the idea of man into beast really so far fetched Werewolves is an essential reference book which looks in depth at a fascinating subject One word of warning though it must never be read under the baleful rays of a full moon You have been warned

Dittmer,2024-04-08 Nicole C Dittmer offers a reimagining of the popular Gothic female monster figure in early to mid Victorian literature Regardless of the extensive scholarship concerning monstrosities these pre fin de si cle figurations have often been neglected by critical studies or interpreted as fragments of mind and body which create a division between culture and nature In Monstrous Women and Ecofeminism Dittmer deploys monism to delineate from and contest such dualism unifies the material immaterial aspects of fictional women and blurs the distinction between nature culture Blending intertextual disciplines of medical sciences ecofeminism and fiction she exposes female monstrosities as material and semiotic figurations This book then identifies how women in the Victorian Gothic are informed by the entanglement of both immaterial discourses and material conditions When repressed by social customs the monistic mind body of the material semiotic figure reacts to and disrupts processes of ontology transforming women into wild and monstrous representations
