exploration of the challenges faced by newly qualified teachers NQTs in South Africa s evolving educational landscape this book provides an empirically grounded account of their experiences Drawing on extensive research it offers a poignant narrative that seeks to illuminate the nuanced journey these educators embark upon as they transition from teacher education spaces to the complex reality of classrooms in post Apartheid South Africa The book acts as a crucial platform for the voices of NQTs shedding light on the myriad enablers and disablers they encounter during this transformative period. Timely and relevant, it tackles pressing questions about the readiness of teacher education to prepare students for the demands of South African schools. The book charts the transition from teacher education to active teacher for NQTs. The lessons distilled from this research present a clarion call for a re-assessment of teacher education policies and practices. This book arrives at a pivotal moment as South Africa reviews its teacher education policies. With the quality of initial teacher education programmes under scrutiny, the book's critiques, findings, and recommendations serve as indispensable tools for policymakers arguing for the need to reconceptualise South African teacher education policies. As South Africa strives to avoid a cycle of developing new teachers only to lose them due to inadequate support, this book seeks to support educators, policymakers, and all those invested in the future of South African education toward creating a more socially just education system recognising the highly unequal society in which teachers work.

Teacher Preparation in South Africa Linda Chisholm, 2019-10-09. The book will focus on the emergence of a racially divided system of teacher preparation and its dismantling post-apartheid. It will explore the policies and politics of discrepant pathways to teacher preparation within the context of international and comparative trends.

2029 Economic Crisis and Civil War in South Africa The Messenger, 2014-07-17. The book analyses the current problems in South Africa. Many people are seeing that unemployment and the plight of the masses will reach the point of no return. The gradual decline of the economy is due to various factors but is exacerbated by corruption and lack of responsibility and accountability. South Africa has reached a 50-year low in productivity due to affirmative action, BEE, and the perception of life owes me. The current war between management and labour for higher wages will continue. The threat of retrenchments will become a reality. All the gold mines will follow. The falling gold price predicts this. All of this leads to only one thing: our mutual enemy, unemployment.

Contextualising Rural Education in South African Schools, 2023-04-03. South Africa's democratic government inherited a divided and unequal system of education. Under apartheid, South Africa had nineteen different educational departments separated by race, language, geography, and ideology. This education system prepared learners in different ways for the positions they were expected to occupy in social, economic, and political life under apartheid and was funded and resourced in ways that favoured white people and disadvantaged black people who remain in the working class. The newly elected democratic government in 1994 laid a foundation for a single national education system. Twenty-five years after the dawn of democracy, education is still in a parlous state in many communities in South Africa, but it is in the rural areas, mainly in the former homelands, that learners are most disadvantaged. After Dawn Mcebisi Jonas, 2019-08-01 In October 2015 the Gupta brothers offered Mcebisi Jonas the position of minister of finance in exchange for R600 million. Then deputy minister of finance Jonas turned down the bribe and a period of deep introspection followed for him. How did we reach this point and what did the future hold for South Africa's democracy and the economy? In After Dawn Mcebisi Jonas analyses the crisis at the heart of our current system which places politics at the centre of policymaking and implementation at the expense of growth. In this important and authoritative book Jonas first unpacks and analyses the current badlands of the South African economic and political landscape. In the second half Jonas proposes a series of workable and practical solutions for transitioning South Africa into a growing job creating country including putting inclusive growth at the centre of economic policy, rapidly expanding new technological capacities and knowledge to transition to a twenty first century economy, expanding human capabilities at scale, path changing trade offs to catalyse the next phase of South Africa's development, nurturing a corruption free high performance state built on meritocracy and innovation and changing the nature of politics. Time is of the essence and the window of opportunity is narrowing for all South Africans to work together towards the South Africa we all imagined was possible in 1994.

Rebels and Rage Adam Habib, 2019-03-01 Adam Habib, the most prominent and outspoken university official through the recent student protests, takes a characteristically frank view of the past three years on South Africa's campuses in this new book. Habib charts the progress of the student protests that erupted on Wits University campus in late 2015 and raged for the better part of three years, drawing on his own intimate involvement and negotiation with the students and also records university management and government responses to the events. He critically examines the student movement and individual student leaders who emerged under the banners feesmustfall and Rhodesmustfall and debates how to achieve truly progressive social change in South Africa on our campuses and off. This book is both an attempt at a historical account and a thoughtful reflection on the issues the protests kicked up from the perspective not only of a high ranking member of university management but also Habib as political scientist with a background as an activist during the struggle against apartheid. Habib moves between reflecting on the events of the last three years on university campuses and reimagining the future of South African higher education. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world

South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world. The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth. This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system. Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin, the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents. Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation, justification and analysis. This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa, an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa. The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race, class and place. The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved, what has not and why. Prof Lant Pritchett, Harvard University. There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa. No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers, early childhood education and adequate school resources, South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people's future to maintaining the privileges of the few. Prof Martin Carnoy, Stanford University. Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume, if not an exact blueprint for the future, then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps. Dr Luis Crouch, RTI.

Learning to teach in post-apartheid South Africa Yusuf Sayed, 2018-11-30. Teacher education programmes seek to provide student teachers with the knowledge and expertise to provide quality teaching and learning in a diverse and challenging school context. Learning to Teach in post apartheid South Africa: Student Teachers Encounters with Initial Teacher Education addresses the complexities of teacher education programmes in preparing students to teach. It adds to the knowledge about teacher education, contributing critical understanding of education and the schooling system. The book provides important insights to deepen researchers, academics, teacher education providers, policy makers and students' understanding of the importance to address equity, redress and quality in South African education in a post apartheid era. This book further helps to build student teachers' capacities to work creatively and to become active and critical agents of transformation. It ultimately outlines the challenges faced in designing and delivering successful Initial Teacher Education programmes and the impact this has on delivering equitable and quality education.

Using Evidence in Policy and Practice Ian Goldman, Mine Pabari, 2020-06-10. This book asks how governments in Africa can use evidence to improve their policies and programmes and ultimately to achieve positive change for their citizens. Looking at different evidence sources across a range of contexts, the book brings policy makers and researchers together to uncover what does and doesn't work and why. Case studies are drawn from five countries and the ECOWAS west African region and a range of sectors from education, wildlife, sanitation through to government procurement processes. The book is supported by a range of policy briefs and videos intended to be both practical and critically rigorous. It uses evidence sources such as evaluations research synthesis and citizen engagement to show how these cases succeeded in informing policy and practice The voices of policy makers are key to the book ensuring that the examples deployed are useful to practitioners and researchers alike This innovative book will be perfect for policy makers practitioners in government and civil society and researchers and academics with an interest in how evidence can be used to support policy making in Africa The Open Access version of this book available at <https://doi.org/10.4324/9781003007043> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
