Muslim Political Discourse in Postcolonial India Hilal Ahmed, 2015-06-03 The book examines the postcolonial Muslim political discourse through monuments It establishes a link between the process by which historic buildings become monuments and the gradual transformation of these historic legal entities into political objects The author studies the multiple interpretations of Indo Islamic historical buildings as political sites as well as emerging Muslim religiosities and the internal configurations of Muslim politics in India He also looks at the modes by which a memory of a royal Muslim past is articulated for political mobilisation Raising critical questions such as whether Muslim responses to political questions are homogenous the book will greatly interest researchers and students of political science modern Indian history sociology as well as the general reader interested in contemporary India

Political Parties, Party Manifestos and Elections in India, 1909-2014 R. K. Tiwari, 2018-09-21 In the parliamentary system of government manifestos constitute and represent an important aspect of the democratic electoral politics as statements of a party s ideology response and policy This book offers an examination of election manifestos of different political parties in India at the national level It explores the manifesto as an input to the policy process and presents a comparative perspective and understanding on the issues and approaches of the national political parties on key affairs. The book traces the evolution of the electoral system, political parties and party manifestos in India as they emerged and developed over time. It looks at the Statutes of 1909, 1919 and 1935 along with the party manifestos and elections until 1945-46. The author further analyses Constituent Assembly debates on the electoral system and the stances of political parties on national reconstruction through documents from parties including the Indian National Congress, the Communist Party of India, the Socialist Party, Jana Sangh and the All India Scheduled Castes Federation. Covering manifestos of sixteen Lok Sabha Elections from the first general election of 1952 to 2014, this book provides a comprehensive overview of how major political parties think on significant social, economic, political, foreign and defence related issues. It will be useful to scholars and researchers of political science, election studies, modern Indian history, public administration, law and governance, sociology, media and journalism, as also to legislators and policymakers. Partition's First Generation Amber H. Abbas, 2020-11-26. The Mohammadan Anglo Oriental College MAO that became the Aligarh Muslim University AMU in 1920 drew the Muslim elite into its orbit and was a key site of a distinctively Muslim nationalism. Located in New Delhi, the historic centre of Muslim rule, it was home to many leading intellectuals and reformers in the years leading up to Indian independence. During partition, it was a hub of pro-Pakistan activism. The graduates who came of age during the anti-colonial struggle in India settled throughout the subcontinent after the Partition. They carried with them the particular experiences, values and histories that had defined their lives as Aligarh students in a self-consciously Muslim environment surrounded by a non-Muslim majority. This new archive of oral history narratives from seventy former AMU students reveals histories of partition as yet unheard. In contrast to existing studies, these stories lead across the boundaries of India, Pakistan and Bangladesh. Partition in AMU is not defined by international borders and migrations but by alienation from the safety of familiar places. The book reframes Partition to draw attention to the ways individuals experienced ongoing changes associated with partitioning the process through which familiar spaces and places became strange and sometimes threatening and they highlight specific never-before-studied sites of disturbance distant from the borders. AIIMS Annual Report All-India Institute of Medical Sciences, 2014

Muslims of Uttar Pradesh Amir Ullah Khan, Abdul Shaban, Venkatanarayana Motkuri, 2025-09-29. This book provides a comprehensive look into the development challenges and critical socio-economic issues of the Muslim communities in Uttar Pradesh, India's most populous state and home to one of its largest Muslim populations. Well-known for its syncretic culture, benevolent kings and nawabs, Uttar Pradesh has also been a region that has historically experienced significant religious politics and communal violence. This book moves beyond these sectoral approaches and attempts to present a holistic, detailed and contemporary perspective on the development of Muslims in the state. It traces the complex sectarian, caste-based, occupational and regional diversities within the Muslim population in Uttar Pradesh and investigates the intersections of identity social stratification and development Drawing on detailed empirical research the volume explores critical issues such as educational and occupational mobility health disparities livelihood patterns migration and access to financial services It highlights the persistent inequalities faced by Muslims in the state and examines how historical and contemporary processes including sectarian divides caste hierarchies political marginalisation and policy shortcomings have shaped their current realities This book along with its companion volume Development Challenges of Muslims in Uttar Pradesh will be of interest to students and researchers of politics development studies anthropology human geography sociology and minority studies It will also be of relevance to those in development administration civil society organizations and the general reader interested in development and deprivation in the state or Hindu Muslim politics
