The Cambridge History of American Foreign Relations: Volume 2, The American Search for Opportunity, 1865-1913 Bradford Perkins, Walter LaFeber, Warren I. Cohen, Akira Iriye, 1993 Between the American Civil War and the outbreak of world War I global history was transformed by two events the United States s rise to the status of a great world power indeed the world s greatest economic power and the eruption of nineteenth and twentieth century revolutions in Mexico China Russia Cuba the Philippines Hawaii Panama Nicaragua and elsewhere The American Search for Opportunity traces the U S foreign policy between 1865 and 1913 linking these two historic trends by noting how the United States usually thought of as antirevolutionary and embarked on a search for order during this era actually was a determinative force in helping to trigger these revolutions Walter LaFeber argues that industrialization fuelled centralisation Post Civil War America remained a vast unwieldy country of isolated parochial communities but the federal government and a new corporate capitalism now had the power to invade these areas and integrate them into an industrialization railway linked nation state The furious pace of economic growth in America attracted refugees from all parts of the world Professor LaFeber describes and influx of immigration so enormous that it led to America's first exclusionary immigration act In 1882 the United States passed legislation preventing all Chinese immigrant labour skilled and unskilled from entering the country for the next 10 years
