South African Police Post 2016:

Police Integrity in South Africa Sanja Kutnjak Ivkovich, Adri Sauerman, 2020-04-29 Policing in South Africa has gained notoriety through its extensive history of oppressive law enforcement. In 1994 as the country's apartheid system was replaced with a democratic order, the new government faced the significant challenge of transforming the South African police force into a democratic police agency, the South African Police Service (SAPS), that would provide unbiased policing to all the country's people. More than two decades since the initiation of the reforms, it appears that the SAPS has rapidly developed a reputation as a police agency beset by challenges to its integrity. This book offers a unique perspective by providing in-depth analyses of police integrity in South Africa. It is a case study that systematically and empirically explores the contours of police integrity in a young democracy. Using the organizational theory of police integrity, the book analyzes the complex set of historical, legal, political, social, and economic circumstances shaping police integrity. A discussion of the theoretical framework is accompanied by the results of a nationwide survey of nearly 900 SAPS officers probing their familiarity with official rules, their expectations of discipline within the SAPS, and their willingness to report misconduct. The book also examines the influence of the respondents' race, gender, and supervisory status on police integrity. Written in a clear and direct style, this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology, policing, sociology, political science, as well as to police administrators interested in expanding their knowledge about police integrity and enhancing it in their organizations.

Policing the Global South Danielle Watson, Sara N. Amin, Wendell C. Wallace, Oluwagbenga (Michael) Akinlabi, Juan Carlos Ruiz-Vásquez, 2022-11-11 Policing the Global South provides scholarship which further transnationalises and democratises ideas about policing practices and philosophies, highlighting renovations in approaches to policing studies and injecting innovative perspectives into the study of policing from scholars positioned on the periphery. Criminological knowledge depolarisation underscores a conscious effort by scholars from the Global South to increase intellectual knowledge focused on developing context-specific responses to issues not aligned to Northern ideological positions and specific to the non-Northern context. Such shifts draw attention to the expanse of spaces beyond Northern centres rife with challenges unlike any specific to those experienced or conceptualised by scholars from the Global North with an applied Northern criminological lens. Applying a postcolonial lens to empirical knowledge from country-specific cases in former colonies in Africa, Asia, the Caribbean, the Pacific, and Latin America, this book examines how policing issues not aligned to Northern ideological positions and specific to non-Northern contexts are addressed. The primary purpose is to share innovations in the field of policing, service provision, threats to security, crime responses, justice, and international trends developed in postcolonial developing country contexts. Given the aim of the book and the contributors' own research on issues of policing across the globe, it discusses themes including but not limited to the colonial legacies and their impact on policing, how plural regulatory systems and partnerships are navigated by the police, the linkages between access to justice community perceptions and police legitimacy innovations and challenges in organisational reform crime prevention and community partnerships and the expanding roles of police organisations in the Global South While each chapter presents a policing issue in a country within a specific part of the Global South the book highlights how important it is to frame responses based on contextual realities informed by an awareness of the past and present with a goal of informing the future Delivering a much needed introduction to those specialising in policing in developing countries this book is invaluable reading for academics and students of criminology criminal justice governance policy and IR as well as professionals in policing organizations across the globe

Policing and Minority Communities James F. Albrecht, Garth den Heyer, Perry Stanislas, 2019-07-31 This insightful book examines the allegations against the professionalism transparency and integrity of law enforcement toward minority groups from a global perspective It addresses the challenges inherent in maintaining strong ties with members of the community and draws attention to obstacles in ensuring public confidence and trust in rule of law institutions Most importantly the book provides insight into mechanisms and proposals for policy reform that would permit enhanced police community partnership collaboration and mutual respect Acknowledging the consistency of this concern despite geographic location ethnic diversity and religious tolerance this book considers controversial factors that have caused many groups and individuals to question their relationship with law enforcement The book examines the context of police community relations with contributed research from Nigeria South Africa Kosovo Turkey New Zealand Mexico Scandinavia and other North American and European viewpoints It evaluates the roles that critical factors such as ethnicity political instability conflict colonization mental health police practice religion critical criminology socialism and many other important aspects and concepts have played on perceptions of policing and rule of law A valuable resource for law enforcement practitioners and researchers policy makers and students of criminal justice Policing and Minority Communities Contemporary Issues and Global Perspectives confronts crucial challenges and controversies in policing today with quantitative and qualitative research and practical policy recommendations

Citizen and Pariah Vanya Gastrow, 2022-03-01 Citizen and Pariah explores the fragility of law pluralism and democracy in South Africa by investigating Somali informal shopkeepers experiences of crime justice and regulation in the country Through a narrative account of their local experiences the book sheds light on the legal and political predicaments they face

Panic City Martin J. Murray, 2020-03-10 Despite the end of white minority rule and the transition to parliamentary democracy Johannesburg remains haunted by its tortured history of racial segregation and burdened by enduring inequalities in income opportunities for stable work and access to decent housing Under these circumstances Johannesburg has become one of the most dangerous cities in the world where the yawning gap between the haves and have nots has fueled a turn toward redistribution through crime While wealthy residents have retreated into heavily fortified gated communities and upscale security estates the less affluent have sought refuge in retrofitting their private homes into safe houses closing off public streets and hiring the services of private security companies to protect their suburban neighborhoods Panic City is an exploration of urban fear and its impact on the city's evolving siege architecture the transformation of policing and obsession with security that has fueled unprecedented private consumption of protection services Martin Murray analyzes the symbiotic relationship between public law enforcement agencies private security companies and neighborhood associations wherein buyers and sellers of security have reinvented ways of maintaining outdated segregation practices that define the urban poor as suspects

Global Responses to Domestic Violence Eve S. Buzawa, Carl G. Buzawa, 2017-06-19 This volume addresses the varied response to domestic violence in a comparative international context The chapters are laid out in a consistent format to cover the nature of the domestic violence problem theoretical explanations the criminal justice response as well as health care and social service interventions in each country The intent of the book is to provide an introduction to the attitudes and responses to domestic violence in various regions to provide meaningful comparisons and share information on best practices for different populations and regions There are considerable variations to domestic violence approaches across cultures and regions In some places it is considered a private or family matter which can help it perpetuate At the same time the United States approach to domestic violence has been criticized by some as being too focused on the criminal justice system rather than other types of interventions which aim to keep families intact This comprehensive work aims to highlight innovative approaches from several regions important cultural sensitivities and concerns and provide analysis to identify the strengths and weakness of various approaches This work will be of interest to researchers in criminology and criminal justice as well as related fields who deal with domestic violence and violence against women including sociology and social work and international justice Practitioners and policymakers will also find it informative

All Rise Dikgang Moseneke, 2021-08-02 At the young age of fifteen Dikgang Moseneke was imprisoned for participating in anti apartheid activities During his ten years of incarceration he completed his schooling by correspondence and earned two university degrees Afterwards he studied law at the University of South Africa After some years in general legal practice and at the Bar and a brief segue into business Moseneke was persuaded that he would best serve the country s young democracy by taking judicial office All Rise covers his years on the bench with particular focus on his fifteen year term as a judge at South Africa s apex court the Constitutional Court including as the deputy chief justice His insights into the Constitutional Court s structures the personalities peopling it the values it embodies the human dramas that shook it and the cases that were brought to it make for fascinating reading From the Constitutional Court of Arthur Chaskalson to the Mogoeng Mogoeng era Moseneke s understated but astute commentary is a reflection on the country s ongoing but not altogether comfortable journey to a better life for all

Hitmen for Hire Mark Shaw, 2017-07-10 Hitmen for Hire takes the reader on a journey like no other navigating a world of paid hitmen informers rogue policemen criminal taxi bosses gang leaders and crooked politicians and businessmen Criminologist Mark Shaw examines a society in which contract killings have become commonplace looking at who arranges hits where to find a hitman and even what it is like to operate as a hitman or woman Since 1994 South Africa has seen a worrying increase in the commercialisation of murder and has been rocked by several high profile contract killings Drawing on his research of over a thousand incidents of hired assassinations from 2000 to 2016 Shaw reveals how these murders are used to exert a mafia type control over the country s legal and illegal economic activity Contracted assassinations and the organised criminal activity behind them contain sinister linkages with the underworld most visibly in relation to disputes over tenders and access to government resources State security actors increasingly mediate relations between the under and upper worlds with serious implications for the long term success of the post apartheid democratic project

Cyber Frauds, Scams and their Victims Mark Button, Cassandra Cross, 2017-07-14 Crime is undergoing a metamorphosis The online technological revolution has created new opportunities for a wide variety of crimes which can be perpetrated on an industrial scale and crimes traditionally committed in an offline environment are increasingly being transitioned to an online environment This book takes a case study based approach to exploring the types perpetrators and victims of cyber frauds Topics covered include An in depth breakdown of the most common types of cyber fraud and scams The victim selection techniques and perpetration strategies of fraudsters An exploration of the impact of fraud upon victims and best practice examples of support systems for victims Current approaches for policing punishing and preventing cyber frauds and scams This book argues for a greater need to understand and respond to cyber fraud and scams in a more effective and victim centred manner It explores the victim blaming discourse before moving on to examine the structures of support in place to assist victims noting some of the interesting initiatives from around the world and the emerging strategies to counter this problem This book is essential reading for students and researchers engaged in cyber crime victimology and international fraud Corruption and Economic Growth in Africa David N. Abdulai, 2023-12-28

Corruption is one of the major challenges impeding Africa's growth and development efforts and its impact is much more pronounced at this point of the continent's development trajectory Corruption has political economic and social consequences and this book argues that any efforts to help Africa grow and develop must prioritise the fight against it so that the aid and funding given for projects in the region can continue to be sustained The book also tackles the issue of national security and instability caused by corruption The author argues that progress cannot happen in countries and environments where instability exists and persists Corruption in Africa has contributed to instability and other national security challenges especially in fragile states on the continent The book starts by looking at the three major types of corruption petty grand and systemic and then goes on to address the different categories of corruption such as bureaucratic legislative political as well as public and private sector aspects It also deals with common forms of corruption as well as some of the causes such as bad governance and excessive greed to mention a few Further it critically examines how current political systems on the continent contribute to this condition The book argues that some of the solutions that have been proposed to date are not viable or have not worked in practice and through applied research offers workable solutions that policy makers African politicians academics and students of economics and development can use as a reference guide in the fight against corruption The Palgrave Handbook of Social Movements, Revolution, and Social Transformation Berch

Berberoglu, 2018-09-26 This handbook on social movements revolution and social transformation analyzes people's struggles to bring about social change in the age of globalization It examines the origins nature dynamics and challenges of such movements as they aim to change dominant social economic and political institutions and structures across the globe Departing from a theoretical introduction that explores major classical and contemporary theories of social movements and transformation the contributions collected here use a class based approach to examine key cases of social movements rebellions and revolutions worldwide from the turn of the twentieth to the early twenty first centuries Against this wide ranging background the handbook concludes by charting the varied and competing future developments and trajectories of social movements revolutions and social transformations Democracy Disconnected Fiona Anciano, Laurence Piper, 2018-10-03 Why is dissatisfaction with local democracy endemic despite the spread of new participatory institutions

This book argues that a key reason is the limited power of elected local officials especially to produce the City City Hall lacks control over key aspects of city decision making especially under conditions of economic globalisation and rapid urbanisation in the urban South Demonstrated through case studies of daily politics in Hout Bay Democracy Disconnected shows how Cape Town residents engage local rule In the absence of democratic control urban rule in the Global South becomes a complex and contingent framework of multiple and multilevel forms of urban governance FUG that involve City Hall but are not directed by it Bureaucratic governance coexists alongside market developmental and informal forms of governance This disconnect of democracy from urban governance segregates people spatially socially but also politically Thus while the residents of Hout Bay may live next to each other they do not live with each other This book will be a valuable resource for students on programmes such as urban studies political science sociology development studies and political geography

Police Work and Identity Andrew Faull, 2017-09-07 This is a book about the men and women who police contemporary South Africa Drawing on rich original ethnographical data it considers how officers make sense of their jobs and how they find meaning in their duties It demonstrates that the dynamics that lead to police abuses and scandals in transitional and neo liberalising regimes such as South Africa can be traced to the day to day experiences and ambitions of the average police officer It is about the stories they tell themselves about themselves and their social worlds and how these shape the order they produce through their work By focusing on police officers this book positions the individual in primacy over the organisation asking what policing looks like when motivated by the pursuit of ontological security in precarious contexts It acknowledges but downplays the importance of police culture in determining officers attitudes and behaviour and reminds readers that most officers lives are entangled in and shaped by a range of social political and cultural forces It suggests that a job in the South African Police Service SAPS is primarily just that a job Most officers join the organisation after other dreams have slipped beyond reach their presence in the Service being almost accidental But once employed they re write their self narratives and enact carefully choreographed performances to ease managerial and public pressure and to rationalize their coercive practices In an era where evidence and what works reigns supreme and where cop culture is often deemed a primary socializing force this book emphasises how officers personal histories ambitions and vulnerabilities remain central to how policing unfolds on the street

Local Responses to Mine Closure in South Africa Sethulego Matebesi, Lochner Marais, Verna Nel, 2024-02-12 This book investigates mine closure and local responses in South Africa linking dependencies and social disruption Mine closure presents a major challenge to the mining industry and government policymakers globally but particularly in the Global South South Africa is experiencing notable numbers of mine closures and this book explores the notion of social disruption a concept often applied to describe the effects of mine growth on communities but often neglecting the impact of mine closures The book begins with three theoretical chapters that discuss theory closure cost frameworks and policy development in South Africa It uses evolutionary governance theory to show how mining creates dependencies and how mining growth often blinds communities and governments to the likelihood of closure Too easily mining goes ahead with no concern for the possibility or indeed inevitability of eventual closure and how mining communities will cope These impacts are showcased through eight place based case studies from across South Africa one focusing on mine workers to demonstrate that mine closure causes significant social disruption This book will be of interest to students and scholars researching the social impacts of mining and the extractive industries social geography and sustainable development as well as policymakers and practitioners working with mine closure and social impact assessments

Danger in Police Culture Gráinne Perkins, 2023-12-11 Through ethnographic research in South Africa this book explores the lived experiences of police navigating danger and death
