The Country House Revisited Tereza Topolovská, 2017-08-01 This monograph provides an insight into English country house fiction by twentieth and twenty first century authors with a focus on the works of E M Forster Evelyn Waugh Iris Murdoch Alan Hollinghurst and Sarah Waters The country house is explored within the wider social and cultural contexts of the period including contemporary architectural development The variety of literary depictions of the country house reflects the physical diversification of buildings which can be classified as such from smaller variants to formerly grand residences on the brink of physical collapse Within the scope of contemporary fiction architecture and poetics of space the country house given its uniquely integrating and exceptionally evocative qualities accentuates different conceptions of dwelling Consequently literary portrayals of the country house can be seen as both prefiguring and reflecting the contemporary practice of living

Branding Books Across the Ages Helleke Braber, Jeroen Dera, Jos Joosten, Maarten Steenmeijer, 2025-10-01 For many literature and marketing are considered opposite phenomena This book discusses cases in which the two are closely connected It argues that literature is subject to the same mechanisms as other commercial products our experience of literary texts is prefigured by brands trademarks that identify a product and differentiate it from its competitors From the early modern period onwards literary authors and their texts are constantly branded and have been both the object and the trailblazer of a complex marketing process The authors of this volume analyze this branding process throughout the centuries focusing on the Netherlands To what extent is our experience of Dutch literature prefigured by brands and what role does branding play when introducing European authors in the Dutch literary field or vice versa By answering these questions Branding Books Across the Ages seeks to show how literary scholars understand branding a phenomenon that has long been intertwined with literature

A True Novel Minae Mizumura, Juliet Winters Carpenter, 2014-10-28 A remaking of Emily Brontë's Wuthering Heights set in postwar Japan A True Novel begins in New York in the 1960s where we meet Taro a relentlessly ambitious Japanese immigrant trying to make his fortune Flashbacks and multilayered stories reveal his life an impoverished upbringing as an orphan his eventual rise to wealth and success despite racial and class prejudice and an obsession with a girl from an affluent family that has haunted him all his life A True Novel then widens into an examination of Japan's westernization and the emergence of a middle class The winner of Japan's prestigious Yomiuri Literature Prize Mizumura has written a beautiful novel with love at its core that reveals above all the power of storytelling

Vulnerable responsibility Laetus O.K. Lategan, Linus Vanlaere, Roger Burggraeve, 2018-12-01 The authors have developed the ethical imagination inviting a sense of otherness towards the vulnerable self rebounding care for the other as a way to understand our everyday neurotic normal tendency of small vices as the propensity and possibility for responsibility towards the other The authors inviting the reader into troublesome feelings such as laziness and anger bring a Levinasian horizon into focus so that even in the midst of laziness there remains the small goodness to set the self free to care for the other meeting the demands challenges hesitation shuddering tension and shocks of such alterity of living otherwise
