Knowledge and Interaction Andrea A. diSessa,Mariana Levin,Nathaniel J.S. Brown,2015-12-07 Decades of research in the cognitive and learning sciences have led to a growing recognition of the incredibly multi faceted nature of human knowing and learning Up to now this multifaceted nature has been visible mostly in distinct and often competing communities of researchers From a purely scientific perspective siloed science where different traditions refuse to speak with one another or merely ignore one another is unacceptable This ambitious volume attempts to kick start a serious new line of work that merges or properly articulates different traditions with their divergent historical theoretical and methodological commitments that nonetheless both focus on the highly detailed analysis of processes of knowing and learning as they unfold in interactional contexts in real time Knowledge and Interaction puts two traditions in dialogue with one another Knowledge Analysis KA which draws on intellectual roots in developmental psychology and cognitive modeling and focuses on the nature and form of individual knowledge systems and Interaction Analysis IA which has been prominent in approaches that seek to understand and explain learning as a sequence of real time moves by individuals as they interact with interlocutors learning environments and the world around them The volume s four part organization opens up space for both substantive contributions on areas of conceptual and empirical work as well as opportunities for reflection integration and coordination

Evaluating the effectiveness of the 1998-1999 NASA CONNECT program , Success in the Urban Classroom ,2002 ENC Focus ,2000 Bold Ventures S. Raizen,E.D. Britton,1996-12-31 This book presents comprehensive results from case studies of five innovations in science education that have much to offer toward understanding current reforms in this field Each chapter tells the story of a case in rich detail with extensive documentation and in the voices of many of the participants the innovators the teachers the students Similarly Volume 3 of Bold Ventures presents the results from case studies of five innovations in mathematics education Volume 1 provides a cross case analysis of all eight innovations Many U S readers certainly will be very familiar with the name of at least one if not all of the science innovations discussed in this volume for example Project 2061 and probably with their general substance Much of the education community s familiarity with these arises from the projects own dissemination efforts The research reported in this volume however is one of the few detailed studies of these innovations undertaken by researchers outside the projects themselves Each of the five studies was a large scale effort involving teams of researchers over three years These teams analyzed many documents attended numerous critical project meetings visited multiple sites conducted dozens of individual interviews The team leaders Atkin Huberman Rowe having spent much time with science education over long careers looked at these innovations through many lenses It was a daunting task for each team to sift through the mountains of detail in order to bring the most compelling themes to the surface
