

REFLECTIVE DIARY SAMPLE

I will never forget the feeling I had when I first walked to school. Fear and the excitement stirred and changed throughout the first day of school. For the second day I had the feeling I belonged to. The longer I was schoolgirl, the desire was stronger. The very knowledge to give me the opportunity to teach everything I love was my greatest motivation. However, as the day of my "confrontation" with the students approached, so the first fear - the fear of the unknown - began to appear again. It really sounds ridiculous to be afraid of sixth grade students. When I look back, I see fear focused on me, on the eternal set of questions: "Will I be able? Will I be disappointed? Pupils? "I was used to being the best student and becoming the best teacher ... And this venture is much harder! I'm young, but it seems to me that everything was different in my time. Relationship with professors, teachers and teachers was fair and full of respect. And again, maybe that just looked like my point of view. What started troubling me when I started working at school was the following: "Are all the students really chronically demotivated and directed to nothing, or is it just so in big cities?" At her first job she had I was a group of students I sat with on Saturday morning and made measurements in the nearby forest for the projects I joined. About ten of them were happy, engaged and satisfied with the activities. That's how I felt. But, however, the rest of the students were both strange to me. At one point, the student commented "that there was no money" for which he would go on measuring in the morning on Saturday. Sadly, many people agreed with him. My mentor has told me many times that I am alive and that I do not see what I find so much pleasure, especially since it does not even enter into debits. My answer has always been the same: "I'm happy when I see the curiosity of learning new methods on pupils' faces measuring the height of the tree when I hear that "A-haaa, so it's not hard to learn!" when I see them together as they think together that they will best present their work to the rest of the students ... and when I know that burning this flame contributes just me. "I continue to argue that students are congested with irrelevant information and outdated teaching methods and that their demotivation is the result of the interaction of the above. Time spent at school could be a challenge for them, and instead it is just part of the day they will not spend on computer games. I was always envious of colleagues who got work right away. I thought it was a big happiness and relief. When I think about it today, it seems to me that it has given me a wonderful opportunity to work on more jobs in different parts of our country. If I stayed in my first job, I would not meet beautiful people, I would not teach these fascinating children and I would not get a chance to see that there are still many students with such intense inner motivation that many times, in no more than three months, they left breathless. I will never forget the day they left me speechless for the first time. Teaching began at 7.30, my train moved to 4.42 and there was no indication of any complications. But the conductor has fallen asleep

Developing Reflective TESOL Practitioners Through Teacher Education Andrzej Cirocki, Mark Wyatt, Xuesong (Andy) Gao, 2024-06-26 This textbook provides insights from Asian contexts into how reflective practice is nurtured on Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages TESOL and English Language Teaching ELT teacher education programmes There is increasing recognition worldwide that given the centrality of reflective practice to teachers ongoing professional development supporting teachers to become reflective practitioners should be integral to teacher education programmes Consequently tertiary level courses in areas such as TESOL and ELT tend to promote reflective practice supported by theoretical input from the burgeoning literature on reflection much of which is produced in the West Relatively under represented in the literature are global perspectives on reflective practice there are consequently relatively few accounts as to how reflective practice is embedded in teacher education programmes in different parts of the world including Asia Hence this book addresses a gap Contributing authors from fourteen countries provide insights into the ways in which teachers are helped to grow as reflective practitioners on their teacher education programmes in their unique contexts This textbook showcases how reflective teaching practices are developed supported by frameworks for critical reflection and in interaction with local educational policies These distinctive accounts aid readers in reflecting on the ways in which reflective practice is supported in their own teacher education contexts and in considering ways of enhancing the reflective dimension of their programmes This textbook showcases innovative reflective activities and can be used as a principal text or as supplemental reading on a range of TESOL and ELT teacher education courses

Reading Motivation Joy Dangora Erickson, 2022-12-14 Reading Motivation A Guide to Understanding and Supporting Children's Willingness to Read explains the importance of paying careful attention to children's developing motivation to read and offers a step by step guide for conducting rigorous and systematic case studies of children's motivation to read in specific contexts e.g. reading intervention programs. The methods described in this book have been used successfully to elicit the perspectives of children as young as five years of age. In addition to carefully considering the views of children, readers are encouraged to work with peers to carefully select, collect, and analyze multiple types of data from a variety of sources to answer questions about their students' motivation in trustworthy ways. Separate chapters explain how to formatively and summatively analyze and interpret qualitative and quantitative data and how to present findings and make changes to programming in response to findings. A summary and a guided activity appear at the end of each chapter to support the reader in practicing the skills introduced in the chapter.

Qualitative Data Collection Tools Felice D.

Billups, 2019-12-20. Qualitative Data Collection Tools is a new and unique supplementary text that will guide students and new researchers to design, develop, pilot, and employ qualitative tools in order to collect qualitative data. An often omitted subject in general qualitative textbooks, qualitative tools form the backbone of the data collection process. Students and new researchers are frequently left to create their own qualitative tools from scratch, an unnecessary hurdle in the qualitative research design process. Author Felice D. Billups has used her experience as a qualitative researcher and in teaching and advising students about qualitative research to develop the templates in this book as a starting point for readers conducting original qualitative research. The author briefly describes each method of data collection and offers readers suggestions for using and adapting the qualitative instrument templates within the text. Templates of interview protocols, focus group moderator guides, content analysis tools, document analysis tools, reflective questionnaires, diary and journal logs, and observational rubrics give the reader either a cut-and-paste solution for their own research or a starting point to design their own personalized qualitative tools. The first three chapters illuminate the qualitative data collection process and the role each type of qualitative tool plays in that process. The next six chapters provide detailed guides and numerous templates for each qualitative data collection method, covering interviews, focus groups, conversation and discourse analysis, observations, document analysis, field notes, journaling, and other reflective practices. A final chapter pulls together the multifaceted nature of qualitative research design and connects each tool back to the methodology to ensure trustworthiness and rigor in the data collection and instrument development process. Exemplars populate the appendices, offering readers concrete inspiration for ways to use and adapt the tools provided. If you have ever puzzled over how to best to design qualitative tools in order to guide and structure your qualitative data collection or if you are embarking on your first qualitative study, Qualitative Data Collection Tools will give you a practical starting point to help make your qualitative data collection process easier and more organized.
