Treatise on Geomorphology, 2013-02-27. The changing focus and approach of geomorphic research suggests that the time is opportune for a summary of the state of discipline. The number of peer-reviewed papers published in geomorphic journals has grown steadily for more than two decades and more importantly the diversity of authors with respect to geographic location and disciplinary background (geography, geology, ecology, civil engineering, computer science, geographic information science and others) has expanded dramatically. As more good minds are drawn to geomorphology and the breadth of the peer-reviewed literature grows, an effective summary of contemporary geomorphic knowledge becomes increasingly difficult. The fourteen volumes of this Treatise on Geomorphology will provide an important reference for users from undergraduate students looking for term paper topics to graduate students starting a literature review for their thesis work and professionals seeking a concise summary of a particular topic. Information on the historical development of diverse topics within geomorphology provides context for ongoing research, discussion of research strategies, equipment and field methods, laboratory experiments and numerical simulations, reflect the multiple approaches to understanding Earth's surfaces and summaries of outstanding research questions highlight future challenges and suggest productive new avenues for research. Our future ability to adapt to geomorphic changes in the critical zone very much hinges upon how well landform scientists comprehend the dynamics of Earth's diverse surfaces. This Treatise on Geomorphology provides a useful synthesis of the state of the discipline as well as highlighting productive research directions that educators and students, researchers will find useful. Geomorphology has advanced greatly in the last 10 years to become a very interdisciplinary field. Undergraduate students looking for term paper topics to graduate students starting a literature review for their thesis work and professionals seeking a concise summary of a particular topic will find the answers they need in this broad reference work which has been designed and written to accommodate their diverse backgrounds and levels of understanding. Editor in Chief Prof J F Shroder of the University of Nebraska at Omaha is past president of the QG/G section of the Geological Society of America and present Trustee of the GSA Foundation while being well respected in the geomorphology research community and having won numerous awards in the field. A host of noted international geomorphologists have contributed state-of-the-art chapters to the work. Readers can be guaranteed that every chapter in this extensive work has been critically reviewed for consistency and accuracy by the World expert Volume Editors and by the Editor in Chief himself No other reference work exists in the area of Geomorphology that offers the breadth and depth of information contained in this 14 volume masterpiece From the foundations and history of geomorphology through to geomorphological innovations and computer modelling and the past and future states of landform science no stone has been left unturned A University Education David Willetts, 2017-11-17 Universities have a crucial role in the modern world In England entrance to universities is by nation wide competition which means English universities have an exceptional influence on schools a striking theme of the book This important book first investigates the university as an institution and then tracks the individual on their journey to and through university In A University Education David Willetts presents a compelling case for the ongoing importance of the university both as one of the great institutions of modern society and as a transformational experience for the individual The book also makes illuminating comparisons with higher education in other countries especially the US and Germany Drawing on his experience as UK Minister for Universities and Science from 2010 to 2014 the author offers a powerful account of the value of higher education and the case for more expansion He covers controversial issues in which he was involved from access for disadvantaged students to the introduction of 9 000 fees The final section addresses some of the big questions for the future such as the the relationship between universities and business especially in promoting innovation He argues that the two great contemporary trends of globalisation and technological innovation will both change the university significantly This is an authoritative account of English universities setting them for the first time in their new legal and regulatory framework English Medium Instruction Ernesto Macaro, 2018-02-19 Ernesto Macaro brings together a wealth of research on the rapidly expanding phenomenon of English Medium Instruction Against a backdrop of theory policy documents and examples of practice he weaves together research in both secondary and tertiary education with a particular focus on the key stakeholders involved in EMI the teachers and the students Whilst acknowledging that the momentum of EMI is unlikely to be diminished and identifying its potential benefits the author raises questions about the ways it has been introduced and developed and explores how we can arrive at a true cost benefit analysis of its future impact This state of the art monograph presents a wide ranging multi perspectival yet coherent overview of research policy and practice of English Medium Instruction around the globe It gives a thorough in depth and thought provoking treatment of an educational phenomenon that is spreading on an unprecedented scale Guangwei Hu National Institute of Education Singapore Additional online resources are available at www.oup.com/elt/teacher/emi Ernesto Macaro is Professor of Applied Linguistics at the University of Oxford and is the founding Director of the Centre for Research and Development on English Medium Instruction at the university Oxford Applied Linguistics Series Advisers Anne Burns and Diane Larsen Freeman Academic Languageing Gisela Ernst-Slavit, Margo Gottlieb, 2025-07-15 Rethink how academic languageing can transform content area teaching For years the teaching of content based academic language to multilingual learners has focused on formulas vocabulary lists and sentence patterns often sidelining students linguistic and cultural strengths Gisela Ernst Slavitt and Margo Gottlieb address these challenges by embracing academic languaging an active collaborative student driven process Academic Languaging offers strategies to integrate language and content learning while fostering student engagement voice and agency Dedicated chapters on academic languaging for Language Arts Mathematics Social Studies and Science highlight the dimensions of disciplinary language for each subject and provide strategies for moving learning forward with multilingual learners Additional features include Stop and Think prompts to help educators connect new ideas with their instructional settings Prompts at the end of each chapter to encourage deeper thinking and application of the material Multilingual examples to mirror the varied classroom settings in the U S and beyond The ultimate resource for educators committed to empowering multilingual learners and fostering meaningful culturally sustaining education Academic Languaging ensures multilingual learners comprehend academic content and thrive as confident autonomous drivers of their own learning

Normal Instructor and Teachers World, 1923 Research in Education, 1968-07 Multilingual Learners and Academic Literacies Daniella Molle, Edynn Sato, Timothy Boals, Carol A. Hedgspeth, 2015-03-05 Shifting the discourse from a focus on academic language to the more dynamic but less researched construct of academic literacies this volume addresses three key questions What constitutes academic literacy What does academic literacy development in adolescent multilingual students look like and how can this development be assessed What classroom contexts foster the development of academic literacies in multilingual adolescents The contributing authors provide divergent definitions of academic literacies and use dissimilar theoretical and methodological approaches to study literacy development Nevertheless all chapters reflect a shared conceptual framework for examining academic literacies as situated overlapping meaning making practices This framework foregrounds students participation in valued disciplinary literacy practices Emphasized in the new college and career readiness standards the notion of disciplinary practices allows the contributing authors to bridge the language content dichotomy and take a more holistic as well as nuanced view of the demands that multilingual students face in general education classrooms The volume also explores the implications of the emphasis on academic literacy practices for classroom instruction research and policy Normal Instructor, 1915 Mississippi Delta Restoration John W. Day, Jori A.

Erdman, 2017-11-23 This book is a new and provocative treatment dealing with and defining sustainable pathways for the restoration of the Mississippi Delta Based on a consideration of natural functioning of the Mississippi delta factors that led to its severe deterioration and major global trajectories of the 21st century the authors investigate possible future pathways for sustainable management of the delta They consider current conditions as well as future trajectories of climate and energy and resource scarcity The book concludes that without profound changes of how humans live in and manage the delta sustainability of the delta will be profoundly compromised Fieldwork in Humanities Education in Singapore Teddy Y.H.

Sim, Hwee Hwang Sim, 2021-02-20 This book addresses the topic of humanities education fieldwork using the Singapore context as its primary focus It explores how the thought processes behind and techniques of various humanities and social sciences subjects can be applied to fieldwork in a variety of school and training settings In addition it discusses how humanities students and educators could stand to benefit from utilizing fieldwork techniques and skills used in archaeology and anthropology beyond undergraduates majoring in that discipline Finally the adoption of multidisciplinary approaches in fieldwork incorporating history geography literature and social studies demonstrate how these subjects can collaborate together in actual case studies to facilitate participants learning in the field The Role of Teacher Interpersonal Variables in Students' Academic Engagement, Success, and Motivation Ali Derakhshan, Reza Pishghadam, Anna

Mystkowska-Wiertelak, 2022-07-05 Teaching Social Studies in the Early Childhood Classroom Jean Kirshner, Jenny Pettit, 2025-01-23 This textbook develops early childhood teachers capacity to effectively instruct democratic principles to our youngest citizens As our world experiences political polarization pandemics heightened racial tension and the evolving awareness of gender and LGBTQ issues this textbook addresses those topics as they show up in the early childhood classroom offering research informed practical guidance for pre and in service teachers The book is organized around 12 themes 10 of which are based on the National Council for Social Studies NCSS themes in addition to the anti racist anti bias curriculum and gender expensive principals from the National Association for the Education of Young Children NAEYC closely following social studies content standards from across the United States The themes covered are culture and cultural diversity history geography identity gender roles and gender identity institutions power and authority economics science and technology global citizenship and civic ideals and practice Throughout each chapter you will come to know 5 early childhood classrooms and including profiles of the teachers students communities These five spaces represent a variety of early childhood teachers different age groups of students and diverse communities and show how the lesson learned in each chapter can be applied in classroom settings This book provides developmentally appropriate ways to teach relevant and current social studies content to our very youngest learners emphasizing the fact that these very children will grow to be the next stewards of our global community
