

Hook: (In a sentence or two, grab readers so firmly that they'll want to read on. For example, begin with a brief anecdote or story, make an extraordinary or provocative statement, us an insightful quotation, ask an interesting question, knock down a commonly held idea, use a word or idea in new and startling way, etc. All of these strategies are nicely explained in Springboard, p. 210.)

Background: (In two to four sentences, give background information to set the context for the reader. This is the information that the reader needs to know before reading your essay. Springboard has a great example of this on p. 211.)

Thesis Statement: (The thesis establishes focus and coherence for the reader. It includes the topic and the point(s) about the topic which you will prove in your essay. In a very general way, your thesis will address the points you make in body paragraphs 1, 2, and 3. Do not give away any specific evidence in your thesis; simply introduce the ideas you will prove in your essay. Example: By speaking out for what is right, helping others in need, and showing courage when needed, heroes are an important part of our lives.)
