Delivered from Temptation Genna Sapia-Ruffin, 2010-05 Readers of my earlier book a memoir may have been left with mixed feelings about it Perhaps they felt that there was something wrong or missing Maybe there was nothing redemptive about it or it had no purpose Maybe it seemed unfinished or was just off It was hard to put your finger on After publication I eventually came to realize these things but never quite knew what the exact problem was I just knew that it was out of balance In 1999 a book that was written by David's oldest brother was published I didn't read it until maybe seven years later but when I did I was instantly free The book told in some detail what it was like to be a child in the Ruffin house Time and place notwithstanding the fact is that the father was extremely cruel to them At that point I was able to see David as a victim himself Reading the details of those horrific experiences freed me of the anger resentment and bitterness I had harbored for many years over how David had treated me and even our son In the place of those feelings came a feeling of understanding yes even the gift of compassion I understood that abuse was all he was ever taught I was more than willing to give him the benefit of the doubt I forgave him After all how is a boy to learn what it is to be a man if he isn't taught by his father's Godly example Thus I was led to rewrite my memoir by giving my testimony of coming to Jesus in 2004 and by allowing people to know about David's childhood I was also given other corrections and title and cover Now it all makes perfect sense

Lead Us Into Temptation James B. Twitchell, 1999-05-06 Coke adds life Just do it Yo quiero Taco Bell We live in a commercial age awash in a sea of brand names logos and advertising jingles not to mention commodities themselves Are shoppers merely the unwitting stooges of the greedy producers who will stop at nothing to sell their wares

Are the producers powers of persuasion so great that resistance is futile James Twitchell counters this assumption of the used and abused consumer with a witty and unflinching look at commercial culture starting from the simple observation that we are powerfully attracted to the world of goods after all we don't call them bads He contends that far from being forced upon us against our better judgment consumerism is our better judgment Why Because increasingly store bought objects are what hold us together as a society doing the work of birth patina pews coats of arms house and social rank previously done by religion and bloodline We immediately understand the connotations of status and identity exemplified by the Nike swoosh the Polo pony the Guess label the DKNY logo The commodity alone is not what we are after rather we actively and creatively want that logo and its signification the social identity it bestows upon us As Twitchell summarizes Tell me what you buy and I will tell what you are and who you want to be Using elements as disparate as the film The Jerk French theorists popular bumper stickers and Money magazine to explore the nature and importance of advertising lingo packaging fashion and The Meaning of Self Twitchell overturns one stodgy social myth after another In the process he reveals the purchase and possession of things to be the self identifying acts of modern life Not only does the car you drive tell others who you are it lets you know as well The consumption of goods according to Twitchell provides us with tangible everyday comforts and with crucial inner security in a seemingly faithless age That we may find our sense of self through buying material objects is among the chief indictments of contemporary culture Twitchell however sees the significance of shopping There are no false needs We buy more than objects we buy meaning For many of us especially in our youth Things R Us

Temptation Transformed Azzan Yadin-Israel, 2024-03-08 Adam Eve the Serpent the Garden of Eden and the apple That fruit is one of the most potent symbols in all of human history It is so closely tied to temptation knowledge the Fall of Man and sin that it needs no explanation when deployed in everything from art to advertising to movies It's no secret that the fruit in the Book of Genesis is never actually identified as an apple So how did we get to this common association The standard story repeated since at least the seventeenth century is that it is due to a Latin pun But what if that story is wrong In Temptation Transformed scholar of religion Azzan Yadin Israel offers a different story He examines how the Fall of Man was represented in art form early Christianity through the Renaissance revealing that the iconography of the apple emerged in twelfth century France From there it spread to England Germany and the Low Countries while remaining only a marginal presence in Italy and Spain for centuries Armed with the when and where Yadin Israel then explains why the apple tradition arose and circulated as it did Surprisingly the answer is found in the evolution of Europe's vernaculars Three centuries is a long time to labor under a misconception especially one that involves the most prominent biblical symbol other than the cross Through an interdisciplinary engagement of scholastic commentary Christian iconography and Fall of Man narratives Temptation Transformed offers a long overdue corrective
