management and control systems, the business system, and the social system. The business system is the core of the organization, and it is the system that is most directly affected by the external environment. The social system is the system that is most directly affected by the internal environment. The management and control systems are the systems that are most directly affected by the internal environment.

Finally, because the results of the regression analysis are not statistically significant, the authors are suggesting that the hypothesis that generalizing from the foreign group to domestic groups is false. Based on this, the authors concluded the generalization hypothesis is not supported. However, the book states that, for this a statistically significant and positive relationship was established in studying the national integration (2010: 200000). Although the authors state that the generalization hypothesis is not supported, the book does not mention the alternative
