South African Poultry Magazine and Small-holder, 1928 Censorship of Historical Thought Antoon De Baets, 2001-12-30 History is an important dangerous and fragile subject Historical thought can be censored in widely diverging political and historiographical contexts as historians are well aware Yet the problems of censorship often thought to be obvious are rarely studied Filling a significant void this guide supplies information on the censorship of historical thought and the fate of persecuted historians in over 130 countries from Afghanistan to Zimbabwe and from 1945 to 2000 With each entry providing a chronological overview of cases and giving a full listing of sources the book is the first systematic effort to overview the repression of historical thought Aiming to encompass all countries in which censorship and persecution have taken place De Baets sketches a world map of repression that goes beyond the well known and well studied cases It assembles scattered data from three types of sources the works of censors and censored historical and biographical dictionaries and historiographical surveys and reports from international human rights organizations Showing the universality of historical censorship and its infinite variety in amount and degree the book also provides a basis for further comparative research

Race, Class, and Power Leo Kuper, 2017-07-05 Examining in detail the apparently inexorable polarization of society in such countries as Rwanda Algeria and South Africa the author questions whether current theories correctly explain the past or offer adequate guides for the future In their place he puts forward an alternative neo Durkheimian view of the possibility of non violent revolutionary change based on the development of such social and cultural continuities as already exist within each plural society But he warns that this is an age of passionate commitment to violence in which vicarious killers abound in search of a Vietnam of their own The aim of this groundbreaking and challenging book is to create theoretical perspectives in which to view the racial conflict of plural societies Written in the turbulent early 1970s the book demonstrates the inadequacy of then prevailing views such as Marxist interpretations of racial conflict as class struggle and the Fanon a priori rejection of non violent techniques of change which Kuper holds responsible for the acceptance of what he calls the platitudes of violence The book concludes with more personal sections focusing on the author's struggles with the then prevailing South African society critiques of that and censorship of his attempts to make these public In the light of subsequent changes in South Africa many decades later this book serves not only as an important work of political sociology but as a personal testament to the fight against racism in South Africa Leo Kuper was professor of sociology and director of the African Studies Center at the University of California Los Angeles A South African by birth he was one of the first writers on genocide as well as other aspects of African studies and urban sociology His major book Genocide Penguin 1981 remains in print The Leo Kuper Foundation is a non governmental organization dedicated to the eradication of genocide through research advice and education It was created in Washington DC in 1994 following the death of Leo Kuper with the aim of improving measures to prevent genocide The main area of work for the past five years has been in support of the creation of an International Criminal Court Troy Duster is director at the Institute for the History of the Production of Knowledge New York University

Dugmore Boetie,2020-11-03 A fast paced romp through apartheid era South Africa that exemplifies the creative human capacity to overcome seemingly omnipotent enemies and overwhelming odds The picaresque hero of this novel Duggie is a dispossessed black street kid turned con man Duggie's response to being confined to the lowest level of South Africa's oppressive and humiliating racial hierarchy is to one up its absurdity with his own glib logic and preposterous schemes Duggie's story as one critic puts it offers an encyclopedic catalogue of rip offs swindles and hoaxes that regularly land him in jail and rely on his white targets refusal to admit a black man is capable of outsmarting them Duggie exploits South Africa's bureaucratic pass laws and leverages his artificial leg every chance he gets As a worthless embarrassment to the authorities and a bad example to the convicts Duggie even manages to get himself thrown out of jail From Duggie's Depression era childhood in urban Johannesburg to World War II and the rise of the white supremacist apartheid regime to his final bitter triumph Boetie's narrative celebrates humanity's relentless drive to survive at any cost This new edition of Boetie's out of print classic features a recently discovered photograph of the author an introduction replete with previously unpublished research numerous annotations and is accompanied by Lionel Abrahams haunting poem Soweto Funeral composed after attending Boetie's interment all of which render the text accessible to a new generation of readers

Human Rights, Race, and Resistance in Africa and the African Diaspora Toyin Falola,Cacee Hoyer,2016-10-04 Africans and their descendants have long been faced with abuse of their human rights most frequently due to racism or racialized issues. Consequently understanding shifting conceptualizations of race and identity is essential to understanding how people of color confronted these encounters. This book addresses these issues and their connections to social justice discrimination and equality movements. From colonial abuses or their legacies black people around the world have historically encountered discrimination and yet they do not experience injustice opaquely. The chapters in this book explore and clarify how Africans and their descendants struggled to achieve agency despite long histories of discrimination. Contributors draw upon a range of case studies related to resistance and examine these in conjunction with human rights and the concept of race to provide a thorough exploration of the diasporic experience. Human Rights Race and Resistance in Africa and the African Diaspora will appeal to students and scholars of Ethnic and Racial Studies African History and Diaspora Studies.

Bush War: The Road to Cuito Cuanavale Gennadii Vladimirovich Shubin, Andrei Aleksandrovich Tokarev, 2011 For almost 15 years South Africa was involved in a civil war in Angola the so called Bush War on behalf of the National Union for the Total Independence of Angola faction. The climax of the conflict portrayed in this history was the battle of Cuito Cuanavale the largest military engagement on African soil since World War II. This book provides the firsthand personal accounts of the clash leading up to Cuito Cuanavale for the first time in English as told by the Soviet advisers to the Angolan army. Their experiences of the war as well as their views and assessment of their South African enemies and Cuban and Angolan allies will not only surprise and fascinate readers but will also offer new insights into the war itself.

Nation, Language, and the Ethics of Translation Sandra Bermann, Michael Wood, 2005-07-05 In recent years scholarship on translation has moved well beyond the technicalities of converting one language into another and beyond conventional translation theory. With new technologies blurring distinctions between the original and its reproductions and with globalization redefining national and cultural boundaries translation is now emerging as a reformulated subject of lively interdisciplinary debate. Nation Language and the Ethics of Translation enters the heart of this debate. It covers an exceptional range of topics from simultaneous translation to legal theory from the language of exile to the language of new nations from the press to the cinema and cultures and languages from contemporary Bengal to ancient Japan from translations of Homer to the work of Don DeLillo All twenty two essays by leading voices including Gayatri Spivak and the late Edward Said are provocative and persuasive The book s four sections Translation as Medium and across Media The Ethics of Translation Translation and Difference and Beyond the Nation together provide a comprehensive view of current thinking on nationality and translation one that will be widely consulted for years to come The contributors are Jonathan E Abel Emily Apter Sandra Bermann Vilashini Cooppan Stanley Corngold David Damrosch Robert Eaglestone Stathis Gourgouris Pierre Legrand Jacques Lezra Fran oise Lionnet Sylvia Molloy Yopie Prins Edward Said Azade Seyhan Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Henry Staten Lawrence Venuti Lynn Visson Gauri Viswanathan Samuel Weber and Michael Wood
