MacDonald,2014-08-15 Includes 19 maps and 82 illustrations Some who have written of World War II in Europe have dismissed the period between 11 Sept and 16 Dec 1944 with a paragraph or two This has been their way of gaining space to tell of the whirlwind advances and more spectacular command decisions of other months The fighting during Sept Oct Nov and early Dec belonged to the small units and individual soldiers the kind of warfare which is no less difficult and essential no matter how seldom it reaches the spectacular It is always an enriching experience to write about the American soldier in adversity no less than in glittering triumph Glitter and dash were conspicuously absent in most of the Siegfried Line fighting But whatever the period may lack in sweeping accomplishment it makes up in human drama and variety of combat actions Here is more than fighting within a fortified line Here is the Hurtgen Forest the Roer plain Aachen and the largest airborne attack of the war The period also eventually may be regarded as one of the most instructive of the entire war in Europe A company battalion or regiment fighting alone and often unaided was more the rule than the exception In nuclear war or in so called limited war in underdeveloped areas of which we hear so much today this may well be the form the fighting will assume As befits the nature of the fighting this volume is focused upon tactical operations at army level and below The story of command and decision in higher headquarters is told only when it had direct bearing on the conduct of operations in those sectors under consideration The logistics of the campaign likewise has been subordinated to the tactical narrative It is a ground story in the sense that air operations have been included only where they had direct influence upon the ground action
