 occupations Both of them are rooted in necessity but both of them also possess a cultural as well as a sensory aesthetic dimension And while it is true that cooking is a transitory art form it gives expression to the periods of human cultural history just as architecture does Moreover both arts accord a central role to the materials employed Both involve measuring and proportioning shaping and designing assembling and composing This book pursues the astonishing parallels and deeply rooted connections between the art of building and that of cooking A variety of essays takes up questions of materiality and proportioning Attention will also be given to food cultivation and architecture to the places where meals are prepared as well as a range of different culinary spaces With articles by Annette Gigon Stanislaus von Moos Claudio Silvestrin Ian Ritchie and others The Formation of College English Thomas P. Miller,1997 In the middle of the eighteenth century English literature composition and rhetoric were introduced almost simultaneously into colleges throughout the British cultural provinces Professorships of rhetoric and belles lettres were established just as print was reaching a growing reading public and efforts were being made to standardize educated taste and usage. The provinces saw English studies as a means to upward social mobility through cultural assimilation. In the educational centers of England, however, the introduction of English represented a literacy crisis brought on by provincial institutions that had failed to maintain classical texts and learned languages. Today, as rhetoric and composition have become reestablished in the humanities in American colleges, English studies are being broadly transformed by cultural studies, community literacies, and political controversies. Once again, English departments that are primarily departments of literature see these basic writing courses as a sign of a literacy crisis that is undermining the classics of literature. The Formation of College English reexamines the civic concerns of rhetoric and the politics that have shaped and continue to shape college English.
