Evaluating Student Learning Outcomes in Counselor Education Casey A. Barrio Minton, Donna M. Gibson, Carrie A. Wachter Morris, 2016-04-14 This timely text describes the role of program evaluation in counselor education and provides step by step guidance for faculty seeking to develop comprehensive Student Learning Outcome (SLO) evaluation plans to meet accountability expectations. It serves as a blueprint for demystifying the SLO process and making the switch from an input based measure of productivity that focuses on what counseling programs do to an outcome based approach that concentrates on the quality of learning through evidence based assessment of students knowledge and skills. The first and second parts of the book lay the foundation for the SLO process and provide practical guidance for identifying and developing direct and indirect measures of student learning. Part III offers strategies for creating measures collecting managing and reporting student data and using data to ensure competence. In Part IV counselor educators across the country offer hands on application through a wide variety of SLO activities and rubrics linked to each of the curricular and specialty areas of the 2016 CACREP Standards. Guadarrama, Ronald Beebe, 2017-03-01 This volume in the Research in Professional Development Schools book series considers the role professional development schools (PDSs) play in expanding opportunities for linking research and clinical practice. As in past volumes of this series PDS practitioners and researchers make a compelling case for the power of micro level initiatives to change practice. Nonetheless series editors and contributors conclude that PDSs generate a critical mass of PK-16 educators willing to form partnerships to address enduring educational dilemmas. This volume represents a cross section of PDS stakeholders engaged in research along with innovative projects that uncover the richness of clinical practice. Higher education faculty, school practitioners and preservice teachers featured in these chapters explore the ways PDSs deepen clinical practice while enriching teaching and learning. We begin with the discussion by Beebe, Stunkard and Nath on the National Association for Professional Development Schools (NAPDS)'s role to support teacher candidates clinical practice through the cooperative efforts of university and school based personnel. The authors explain NAPDS history and advocacy over the years to promote a context for school-university partnerships to thrive and expand.
