American Women Writing Fiction Mickey Pearlman, 2014-10-17 American literature is no longer the refuge of the solitary hero. Like the society it mirrors, it is now a far richer, many-faceted explication of a complicated and diverse society, racially, culturally, and ethnically interwoven and at the same time fractured and fractious. Ten women writing fiction in America today—Toni Cade Bambara, Joan Didion, Louise Erdrich, Gail Godwin, Mary Gordon, Alison Lurie, Joyce Carol Oates, Jayne Anne Phillips, Susan Fromberg Schaeffer, and Mary Lee Settle—represent that geographic, ethnic, and racial diversity that is distinctively American. Their differing perspectives on literature and the American experience have produced Erdrich's stolid North Dakota plainswomen, Didion's sun-baked dreamers and screamers, the urban ethnics, Irish, Jewish, and black, of Gordon, Schaeffer, and Bambara, Oates's small-town, often violent neurotics, Lurie's intellectual sophisticates, and the southern survivors and victims, male and female, of Phillips, Settle, and Godwin. The ten original essays in this collection focus on the traditional themes of identity, memory, family, and enclosure that pervade the fiction of these writers. The fictional women who emerge here, as these critics show, are often caught in the interwoven strands of memory, perceive literal and emotional space as entrapping, find identity elusive and frustrating, and experience the interweaving of silence, solitude, and family in complex patterns. Each essay in this collection is followed by bibliographies of works by and about the writer in question that will be invaluable resources for scholars and general readers alike. Here is a readable critical discussion of ten important contemporary novelists who have broadened the pages of American literature to reflect more clearly the people we are.

Wagering on Transcendence Phyllis Carey, 1997 Wagering on Transcendence explores the question of ultimate meaning in literature. Through essays, Mount Mary College professors from various disciplines analyze several pieces of literature from a variety of genres and authors to show how each depicts the human struggle to find meaning. The essays analyze concrete examples of spiritual journeys, the ways in which nature can be an avenue of transcendence, the transforming effect that the search for meaning can have on the individual, how transcendence can be experienced through community, the roles of language and story in the quest for transcendence, and the wager itself: how our bets about the existence of the Divine determine how we live our lives.

The Last Love Song Tracy Daugherty, 2015-08-25 In The Last Love Song, Tracy Daugherty, the critically acclaimed author of Hiding Man, a New Yorker and New York Times Notable book, and Just One Catch, and subject of the hit documentary The Center Will Not Hold on Netflix, delves deep into the life of distinguished American author and journalist Joan Didion in this, the first printed biography published about her life. They became wildly successful writing partners when they moved to Los Angeles and co-wrote screenplays and adaptations together Didion is well known for her literary journalistic style in both fiction and non fiction Some of her most notable work includes Slouching Towards Bethlehem Run River and The Year of Magical Thinking a National Book Award winner and shortlisted for the Pulitzer Prize It dealt with the grief surrounding Didion after the loss of her husband and daughter Daugherty takes readers on a journey back through time following a young Didion in Sacramento through to her adult life as a writer interviewing those who know and knew her personally while maintaining a respectful distance from the reclusive literary great The Last Love Song reads like fiction lifelong fans and readers learning about Didion for the first time will be enthralled with this impressive tribute
