Matric Vijay Reddy,2006 The past ten years in South Africa has seen many changes in education the creation of a single department of education common examinations for all learners in public schools in the country a new outcomes based education curriculum which was introduced to learners in the general education and training phase since 1998 and will be introduced to the further education and training phase from 2006 To evaluate the success of these changes South African researchers still use the indicator of student achievement The matriculation examination is the visible high profile and public performance indicator Every year parents learners teachers researchers government officials policymakers and the general public get involved in the debate around the matric examination with the most frequently asked questions being Did the pass rate go up Are standards dropping Are the results real or have they been manipulated How is our education system doing Are we meeting the development goals What should the matriculation examination of the future look like participants from government national and provincial Leadership Approaches to Negotiate Challenges in a Changing Education Landscape

Leentjie van Jaarsveld,Kobus Mentz,Charl C. Wolhuter,2020-12-31 The argumentative point of departure of this scholarly book is the common conviction of specialists in the field of education in South Africa that the national education system is not at a satisfactory level in both the academic and the public discourse Such allegations are made and frequently stronger adjectives than non satisfactory are used Results of international test series in which South Africa has participated such as the 2015 TIMSS tests confirm the negative verdicts found in the public and scholarly discourse This book aims to argue that although the lack of performance could be attributed to a multiplicity of factors one factor that can make a difference in the achievement levels obtained by learners in schools is leadership The book demonstrates that a particular problem of both the scholarly and the public discourse on education in South Africa is an overtone of defeatism or resignation blaming all ills in the education system and educational institutions on historical legacies and or contextual factors such as socio economic deprivation in the catchment areas of schools or poor resources and infrastructure This collected work was inspired by a recently published spate of articles on top performing schools including top performing schools in rural communities in which it was demonstrated that good leadership can overcome such contextual and other challenges The book unpacks the issue of leadership in South African schools from a variety of perspectives thus contributing to the development of the scholarly discourse on Educational Leadership in South Africa The target audience of the book is scholars of Educational Leadership The research reported in the chapters draw on a wide range of methodologies including empirical survey research questionnaires and interviews critical literature surveys and the comparative method South African Pressclips

,1991 Resources in Education ,2000-10 South African Autobiography as Subjective History Lena

Englund,2021-09-14 This book examines 21st century South African autobiographical writing that addresses the nation s socio political realities both past and present The texts in focus represent and depict a South Africa caught in the midst of contradictory and competing images of the Rainbow Nation Arguing that recent memoirs question and criticize the illusion of a united nation the study shows how these texts reveal the flaws and shortcomings not only of the apartheid past but of contemporary South Africa It encompasses a broad range of autobiographical works largely published since 2009 that engage with South Africa s past present and future At its centre is the quest for space and belonging and this book investigates who can comfortably belong in South Africa in its post apartheid post Truth and Reconciliation post Mbeki and post Zuma state

Shakespeare in Southern Africa ,2001 Media, Identity and the Public Sphere in Post-Apartheid South Africa Abebe Zegeye,Richard L. Harris,2021-11-22 The essays in this collection reveal that the social and political development of post apartheid South Africa depends to an important degree on the evolving cultural social and political identities of its diverse population and on the role of the media of mass communications in the country s new multicultural democracy The popular struggle against the country s former apartheid regime and the on going democratisation of South African politics have generated enormous creativity and inspiration as well as many contradictions and unfulfilled expectations In the present period of social transformation the legacy of the country s past is both a source of continuing conflict and tension as well as a cause for celebration and hope Post apartheid South Africa provides an important case study of social transformation and how the cultural social and political identities of a diverse population and the structure and practices of the media of mass communications affect the prospects for developing a multicultural democracy The promise and the challenge of building a multicultural democratic society in a country with a racist and violent authoritarian legacy involves people with different identities and interests learning how to respect their differences and to live together in peace It involves developing an inclusive or overarching common identity and a commitment to working together for a common destiny based on social equity and justice South Africa s media of mass communications have an important role to play in the process of unprecedented social transformation both in developing the respect for differences and the overarching identity as well as providing the public forum and the channels of communication needed for the successful development of the country s multicultural democracy In South Africa the democratization of the media must go hand in hand with the democratization of the political system in order to ensure that the majority of the citizenry participate effectively in the country s multicultural democracy Topics covered include The Struggle for African Identity Thabo Mbeki s African Renaissance Between the Local and the Global South African Languages and the Internet Shooting the East Veils and Masks Uncovering Orientalism in South African Media and Black and White in Ink Discourses of Resistance in South African Cartooning Contributors are Pal Ahluwalia Gabeba Baderoon Richard L Harris Sean Jacobs Elizabeth Le Roux Andy Mason Thembisa Mjwacu Herman Wasserman and Abebe Zegeye
