

Taboos in Islam

- Food Taboos

Various dietary laws govern what Muslims may eat, which makes certain foods taboo. Pork is forbidden to Muslims as are foods containing pork products. Other meats, including beef and chicken, are also taboo if they are not slaughtered according to Islamic standards, making them Halal, or permissible for consumption. Foods containing blood, like black pudding, are also not allowed, along with birds of prey and animals that consume meat.

- Alcohol

The consumption of alcohol is strictly taboo in Islam and is considered a "great sin" in the Quran. This ban is believed to be connected to the requirement for Muslims to pray, while sober, five times a day, leaving little time to drink and recover from its effects before needing to worship again. It is also believed that alcohol is banned in Islam by a higher power due to its ability to have a negative impact on health.

Taboo First Times A Higher Power:

Colette and the Incest Taboo Dr. Carol Mastrangelo Bove, 2025-01-14 This book makes an argument critical to literary theory and sexuality in 2022 It argues that Colette's fiction portrays a woman struggling to live in the throes of the incest taboo understood in its psychological implications for power relations both private and public then and now Informed by Julia Kristeva's work it approaches Colette's writing and its translation along with two films via close psychoanalytic readings It demonstrates that this version of Kristeva's psychoanalytic theory in an accessible form and with emphasis on the psychology of women and social transformation helps to read Colette for the twenty first century as well as to show how Kristeva's theory works This volume examines especially Colette's most admired novels especially from the second half of her life including the much misunderstood La Maison de Claudine 1922 where the incest taboo surfaces in the relationship of the narrator with the mother The taboo had appeared two years earlier in Chéri 1920 in the rapport between the maternal Lola a woman of a certain age and the young man Chéri finally in Gigi the incest taboo characterises the relations between the young teenager of the eponymous title and her much older uncle figure Gaston

Good Son is Sad If He Hears the Name of His Father Piotr Adamek, 2017-07-05 When in 1775 the scholar Wang Xihou compiled a dictionary called Ziguan he wrote for illustrative purposes the personal names of Confucius and the three emperors Kangxi Yongzheng and Qianlong in the introduction In oversight he recorded their complete names This accidental writing of a few names was condemned by Emperor Qianlong as an unprecedented crime rebellion and high treason Wang Xihou was executed his property confiscated and his books were burnt His family was arrested and his sons and grandsons were killed or sent as slaves to Heilongjiang It is surprising what an enormous impact the tabooing of names bihui had on Chinese culture The names of sovereigns ancestors officials teachers and even friends were all considered taboo in other words it was prohibited to pronounce them or to record them in writing In numerous cases characters identical or similar in writing or pronunciation were often avoided as well The tabooing of names was observed in the family and on the street in the office and in the emperor's palace The practice of bihui had serious consequences for the daily lives of the Chinese and for Chinese historiography People even avoided certain places and things and refused to accept offices They were punished and sometimes even killed in connection with the tabooing of names The bihui custom existed as an important element of Chinese culture and was perceived as significant by Chinese and foreigners alike It was crucial for implementing social values and demonstrating the political hierarchy The present work A Good Son Is Sad if He Hears the Name of His Father is a systematic study of Chinese name tabooing customs which until now have been relatively little explored in Western language Sinological studies It attempts to provide a long term perspective on the changing dynamics of tabooing and elucidates various aspects related to the fascinating topic of tabooing of names

A God Who Saves Richard Crowder, 2023-11-14 The culmination of world events all seems to be leading in one direction Christ himself outlined all these events and stated these events will happen in a generation prior to his return Theologians commonly refer to the coming of Christ with the term parousia or appearance The Old Testament prophets foretold that the Messiah would appear to bring salvation and judgment While the Old Testament messianic prophecies do not specifically distinguish between the two comings of Christ the New Testament reveals Jesus to be the long anticipated Messiah who in his first coming died and rose again to secure the salvation of his people The Old Testament spoke of the coming of Christ under the figure of the day of the Lord yom YHWH a day of salvation and judgment The New Testament reveals that this day would be divided into two separate periods in which there would be two distinct appearances of Christ According to Scripture the second Advent could occur at any moment The writer of Hebrews described the return appearance of Christ when he stated Just as it is appointed for man to die once and after that comes judgment so Christ having been offered once to bear the sins of many will appear a second time not to deal with sin but to save those who are eagerly waiting for him Hebrews 9 27 28
