

Background information given:

Topic: Short-term trading, international accounting, short/medium-term business

Background:

Southampton plc has been negotiating a contract with a potential customer in Russia. Before the negotiation started, the Russian company requested the Russian to prepare to make the statement of Southampton. These statements were included the costs of sending the technical staff to Russia. This is the first report under the contract. These statements were used, unfortunately, the previous contract orders were not profitable even though they showed the great strategy was to concentrate on business in the UK.

The sales department has proposed the following statement showing that the contract will make a profit. It is required for the sales department to produce and maintain an appropriate level of expenditure in this type of work.

Obviously the management accountant will also be asked to comment under statements prepared by the sales department. As this order is different and may need to a lot more resources at the future the sales manager asked the management accountant to comment on the statement below.

Statement prepared by sales department

Costs including direct £100,000 (cost order)	£100,000
Admin (cost order)	20,000
Overhead (cost order)	20,000
Design (contract cost order)	10,000
Administrative charges (cost order)	20,000
Materials (cost order)	20,000
Expenditure on machinery (cost order)	10,000
Total	190,000

After the completion the management accountant prepared a final report. The costs given are summarized below:

Summary from management accountant

Point 1: This report will be found to be inflated.

Point 2: This figure when added £100,000 it shows the profit that has already been earned. This is the cost of sending engineers to Russia to help with the negotiation.

Point 3: This is 50% of the cost of expenditure. It is suggested that the expenditure will appear almost half the price on the contract. This cost does not include a £10,000 bonus for the completion of the contract is completed on time.
