International Perspectives on Bilingual Education John E. Petrovic, 2010-06-01 This book is a defense of linguistic pluralism and language policies and practices in education that sustain that ideal. Educational meanings and models are influenced by different populations and different social and historical contexts. International comparisons can shed interesting light on the issues. Therefore the purpose of the book is to provide scholars an international comparative understanding of language policy its relation to educational practice and current debates within the field. The book is divided into three sections dealing with the general topical areas of policy practice and controversy. This book will be of interest to policy makers scholars and graduate students in the areas of bilingual education language policy and sociolinguistics.

Early Biliteracy Development Eurydice B. Bauer, Mileidis Gort, 2012-05-22 A large and growing number of students from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds in the US and around the world have the potential to develop bilingualism and biliteracy if supported in their immediate environment. At the forefront in focusing exclusively on biliteracy development in early childhood across a variety of languages this book provides both findings from empirical research with young bilinguals in home and school contexts and practical applications of these findings. Each chapter is structured in a similar format to offer parallel descriptions of the research including a brief review of related empirical studies an overview of the methods for data collection and analysis a description of the main findings and specific pedagogical implications to support educators efforts to construct meaningful challenging and dynamic literacy and language learning communities where one or more languages are used for communicating and learning. Pushing the field forward this book is a valuable resource for helping literacy educators understand and respond to critical issues related to the development of young children's literate competencies in two languages in home and school contexts.
