Integrated Pollution Prevention and Control for the Municipal Water Cycle in a River Basin Context Alberto Galvis-Castaño, 2019-08-14 The protection of water resources from deterioration in quality by pollution discharges is probably the biggest challenge in sustainable water resources management in the recent decades In practice most countries have adopted pollution control strategies and measures which are based on end of pipe solutions wastewater treatment plants and adjustments to the regulations including taxes for wastewater discharges Conventional Strategy Although this approach involves very high costs on many occasions this strategy has been a complete failure The research described in this book contribute to the development of sustainable solutions for the previously outlined problem It was based on the validation of the Three Step Strategic Approach concept 3 SSA which includes 1 prevention or minimisation of waste production 2 treatment aimed at recovery and reuse of waste components and 3 disposal of remaining waste with stimulation of natural self purification of the receiving water body The study showed overall positive effects of the 3 SSA in comparison of Conventional Strategy on wastewater management in the Upper Basin 389 km of the Cauca river the second most important river in Colombia The Cost Benefit Analysis clearly favoured the 3 SSA generating a major impact on the river water quality at lower cost compared to the Conventional Strategy

Challenging the Representation of Ethnically Divided Cities Giulia Carabelli, Aleksandra Djurasovic, Renata Summa, 2021-05-25 The book Challenging the Representation of Ethnically Divided Cities Perspectives from Mostar questions the existing overrepresentation of Mostar as an ethnically divided city While acknowledging the existence of internal borders the chapters in this book assert that they are not solid nor fixed and by exploring how they become material or immaterial the book offers a deeper understanding of the city s complex dynamics Accordingly the chapters in this book are attentive to how ethnic divides materialise or lose importance because of socio political contingencies Events groups and spaces that promote reconciliation from the bottom up are examined not necessarily to assess their success and failures but rather to look at how they create networks gain trust and form platforms that generate novel understandings of ethnic loyalties and party

memberships Further and drawing both on the empirical data and theoretical reflections this volume contributes to broader debates about divided cities by suggesting the need to engage with these cities in their complexities rather than reducing them to their ethno national divisions The book engages with socio political and economic complexities in order to shed light on how ethnic conflicts and resulting spatial partitioning are often just the surface of much more complex dynamics that are far less easy to disentangle and represent The chapters in this book were originally published in Space and Polity From Hope to Action through Knowledge Ramesh Bharuthram, Larry Pokpas, 2020-10-27 Its November 2001 A university in dire straits financially bankrupt burdening a debt in excess of R100 million a disillusioned and demoralised staff complement still reeling from the trauma of retrenchments coupled with an academic project facing collapse as student numbers dwindle by a third to less than 10 000 Is there a future for such an institution described by some as a basket case with very bleak prospects of survival This was the landscape that confronted the newly appointed Vice Chancellor and Chief Executive Officer CEO of the University of the Western Cape Fast forward to December 2014 The CEO retires from office bestowing upon his successor a financially sound institution with a flourishing academic project recording unprecedented achievements enriching the lives of more than 20 000 students and widely acknowledged as a research led university This book narrates how visionary leadership with the steadfast belief that your past does not determine your future galvanised an entire organisation into believing that a better outcome was indeed achievable and the will to move forward as a collective with a redefined purpose and commitment to achieve that which was once deemed impossible The Dynamics of Language Rajend Mesthrie, David Bradley, 2018-06-26 Linguistics the close study of language and languages is an indispensable foundation for all forms of knowledge The African continent is blessed with hundreds of languages which act as local repositories of culture and interaction South Africa alone has eleven official languages plus Sign Language many heritage languages and new languages of global movements and migration Part of the linguist s business is to document record and affirm languages and diversity Applied linguists use their training to understand and enhance the role of language in education and upliftment and the opportunities and challenges of new technologies of communication The International Congress of Linguists meets every five years to reflect the development of the field and 2018 is the first time that the congress is being held in Africa This book is a collection of the plenary and focus papers presented at the conference and thus represents current thinking in the major branches of language study as represented by leading local and international scholars The papers discuss the history of languages their structure acquisition diversity and use At the same time due regard is paid to the African continent in connection with its linguistic diversity multilingualism and educational and societal concerns The Congress is meant to affirm the value of the languages of Africa of languages and Linguistics in general as well as to inspire and equip younger scholars to undertake advanced research into language in its many facets Dear Comrade President André Odendaal, 2022-08-01 In his annual presidential address on 8 January 1986 ANC president Oliver Tambo called on South Africans to make apartheid ungovernable through armed action and militant struggle But unknown to the world on that very day the quiet spoken mathematics teacher and aspirant priest turned reluctant revolutionary had also set up a secret think tank in Lusaka which he named the Constitution Committee giving it an ad hoc unique exercise that had no precedent in the history of the movement Knowing that all wars end at a negotiating table and judging the balance of forces to be moving in favour of the liberation movement Tambo wanted the ANC to hold the initiative after the fall of apartheid Assisted by Pallo Jordan he instructed his new think tank to formulate the principles and draft the outlines of a constitution that could unite South Africa when the time came to talk in the fledgling days of freedom and democracy The seven member team including Albie Sachs Kader Asmal and Zola Skweyiya started deliberating and reporting to Tambo In correspondence they typically addressed him as Dear Comrade President Drawing on the personal archives of participants Dear Comrade President explains how the purposeful first steps were taken in the making of South Africa's Constitution Why and how did this process happen What were the first written words When and where were they put on paper By whom What values did they espouse And how did the committee's work fit into the broader struggle This book answers these questions in new paradigm shifting ways

Academic Biliteracies David M. Palfreyman, Christa van der Walt, 2017-03-02 Research on academic literacy within higher education has focused almost exclusively on the development of academic literacy in English This book is unique in showing how students use other languages when they engage with written academic content whether in reading discussing or writing and how increasingly multilingual higher education campuses open up the possibility for students to exploit their multilingual repertoires in and around reading writing for academic purposes Chapters range from cases of informal student use of different written languages to pedagogical institutional and disciplinary strategies leveraging multilingual resources to develop biliteracy They are ordered according to two dominant themes The first includes accounts of diverse multilingual contexts where biliteracy practices emerge in response to the demands of academic reading and writing The second theme focuses on more deliberate attempts to teach biliteracy or to teach in a way that supports biliteracy The collection will be of interest to researchers higher education practitioners and students of multilingual higher education and academic literacy

The Attempted Erasure of the Khoekhoe and San delves into the complex issue of problematic coloured identity and the ongoing erasure of the Khoekhoe and San people in South Africa Despite the end of apartheid this erasure continues to persist today starting as far back as 1652 There were two types of erasure that took place genocide and bureaucratic While the former is acknowledged by President Thabo Mbeki in his I Am an African speech the latter began in 1828 with Ordinance 50 in the Cape Colony From this point the Khoekhoe and San were bureaucratically erased culminating in the 1950 Population Registration Act Despite these attempts the Khoekhoe and San people resisted and fought for their identity resulting in their continued existence in the present day This book documents their painful journey highlighting their struggles against subjugation and erasure since 1652 Beyond the Information Commons Charles Forrest, Martin

Halbert, 2020-08-22 In the closing decades of the twentieth century academic libraries responded to rapid changes in their environment by acquiring and making accessible a host of new information resources developing innovative new services and collaborative partnerships and building new kinds of technology equipped spaces to support changing user behaviors and emerging patterns of learning The Information Commons or InfoCommons blossomed in a relatively short amount of time in libraries across North America and around the world particularly in Europe and the British Commonwealth This book is more than a second edition of the 2009 book A Field Guide to the Information Commons which documented the emergence of a range of facilities and service programs that called themselves Information Commons This new book updates this review of current practice in the Information Commons and other new kinds of facilities inspired by the same needs and intents but goes beyond that by describing the continued evolution This new book is an attempt to answer the question What might be the next emerging concept for a technology enabled user responsive mission driven form of the academic library Like its predecessor Beyond the Information Commons is structured in two parts First a brief series of essays explore the Information Commons from historical organizational technological and architectural perspectives The second part is a field guide composed of more than two dozen representative entries describing various Information Commons using a consistent format that provides both perspective on issues and useful details about actual implementations Each of these includes photos and other graphics The Responsive University and the Crisis in South Africa, 2021-05-31 Around the world higher education is faced with a fundamental question what is the basis for our claim of societal legitimacy In this book the authors go beyond the classical response regarding teaching research and community engagement. Instead the editor puts forward the proposition that the answer lies in responsiveness: the extent to which universities respond or fail to respond to societal challenges. Moreover, because of its intractable legacy issues and crisis of inequality, the question regarding the societal legitimacy of universities is particularly clearly manifested in South Africa, one of the most unequal countries in the world. The Responsive University brings together contributions on the issue of responsiveness from a number of international university leaders, half of them specifically addressing the South African situation within the context of the international situation as presented by the other authors. In the global discussion about the role of universities in society, this book provides a conceptual framework for a way forward.

Transformation of Archives and Heritage Education in Post-apartheid

South Africa Geraldine Frieslaar, Olusegun Morakinyo, 2023-06-10. Although there have been significant strides to transform the demographics of archive and museum personnel, develop new museums and heritage institutions and heritage training initiatives in post-apartheid South Africa, the Eurocentric model of the archive, museum and heritage sector has largely remained intact. Despite the euphoria around the transformation of heritage in the beginnings of post-apartheid South Africa, it can be argued that the transformation of heritage institutions has been superficial and cosmetic, with the ideological foundation of the colonial archive and museum as well as Eurocentric modalities of heritage education remaining solid, largely unmoved and under continuing challenge. This is the thrust of this book, which reflects on the transformation of archives and museum and heritage education in South Africa and argues for meaningful transformation of the sector through a decolonisation from its Eurocentric mooring.

New South African Review 6 Devan Pillay, Gilbert M Khadiagala, Roger Southall, Sarah Mosoetsa, Samuel Kariuki, 2018-01-29. Wide-ranging essays demonstrate how the consequences of inequality extend throughout society and the political economy. Despite the transition from apartheid to democracy, South Africa is the most unequal country in the world. Its extremes of wealth and poverty undermine intensifying struggles for a better life for all. The wide-ranging essays in this sixth volume of the New South African Review demonstrate how the consequences of inequality extend throughout society and the political economy, crippling the quest for social justice, polarising the politics, skewing economic outcomes and bringing devastating environmental consequences in their wake. Contributors survey the extent and consequences of inequality across fields as diverse as education, disability, agrarian reform, nuclear geography and small towns, and tackle some of the most difficult social, political and economic issues. How has the quest for greater equality affected progressive political discourse? How has inequality reproduced itself despite best intentions in social policy to the detriment of the poor and the historically disadvantaged? How have shifts in mining and the financialisation of the economy reshaped the contours of inequality? How does inequality reach into the daily social life of South Africans and shape the way in which they interact? How does the extent and shape of inequality in South Africa compare with that of other major countries of the global South, which themselves are notorious for their extremes of wealth and poverty? South African extremes of inequality reflect increasing inequality globally and The Crisis of Inequality will speak to all those general readers policy makers researchers and students who are demanding a more equal world

Building the Anti-Racist University Shirley Anne Tate, Paul Bagguley, 2018-12-18 In the new arena for anti racist work in which we find ourselves the neo liberal post race university this interdisciplinary collection demonstrates common global political concerns about racism in Higher Education It highlights a range of issues regarding students academic staff and knowledge systems and all of the contributions seek to challenge the complacency of the post race present that is dominant in North West Europe and North America Brazil s mythical racial democracy and South Africa s post apartheid rainbow nation The collection makes clear that we are not yet past the need for anti racist institutional action because of the continuing impact of coloniality on and in these nations Chapter 7 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Educational Digital Transformation: New Technological Challenges for Competence Development Julio Cabero Almenara, Carmen Llorente Cejudo, Antonio Palacios-Rodriguez, 2023-10-09 The COVID 19 pandemic has provided a unique opportunity to examine our understanding of the opportunities and challenges that ICTs offer to support the functioning of all aspects of education The closure of educational institutions has forced a radical change in the practices of teachers and societies regarding the use of ICT to support teaching learning social relations and work in many sectors In the training of digital skills the instrumental mastery of ICT continues to outweigh the preparation of citizens to make constructive and safe use of technologies After two decades of educational policies we continue to reduce digital literacy to instrumental skills That is you do not learn why to use educational technologies and how or to be critical of their use Education 4 0 seeks to develop and enhance the digital skills of students and teachers in digital teaching environments through the creation of a line of academic training programs for undergraduate postgraduate and continuing education This article collection welcomes contributions to improve training policies and practices in Educational Digital Transformation for educational development strategies activities proposals for assessment and certification of skills

Breaking Bread Jonathan Jansen, 2024-09-09 Professor Pundit Public nuisance In his columns books and on social media Jonathan Jansen is prolific and he likes to speak his mind about schools and universities race politics and our complex South African society He has brought incisive analysis compassion and a sense of humour to some of the most controversial issues in our country for many years And now in this memoir Jansen goes back to his early years growing up in a loving fiercely evangelical family on the Cape Flats being put on the road to purpose by an inspiring school teacher and becoming the first of his generation to go to university Journey with Jansen as he finds his passion for teaching high school and becomes a leading academic and thinker amid great transformation in post apartheid South Africa His gift for story telling and his interactions with people from different walks of life offer moving insights into the intricacies of South African society insights that are filled with wisdom and leadership lessons Jansen s patchwork of
