Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen, 2023-02-01 In South African higher education the images of dysfunction are everywhere Student protests Violence Police presence Rubber or real bullets Class disruptions Burning tyres Damaged buildings Injury and sometimes death Reports of wholesale corruption Year after year often in the same set of universities the problem of routine instability seems insoluble The financial academic and reputational costs of ongoing dysfunction are high especially for those universities caught up in the never ending struggle to overcome apartheid legacies Any number of explanations have been ventured including a lack of resources shortage of capacity rural location corrupt officials and endemic conflict Corrupted takes a deeper look at dysfunction in an attempt to unravel the root causes in a sample of South African universities At the heart of the problem lies the vexed issue of resources or more pertinently the relationship between resources and power who gets what and why Whatever else it aspires to be commonly a place of teaching learning research and public duty a university in an impoverished community is also a rich concentration of resources around which corrupt staff students and those outside of campus all vie for access Taking a political economic approach Jonathan Jansen describes the daily struggle for institutional resources and offers accessible sensible insights He argues that the problem won't be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Rather durable solutions would include the depoliticisation of university councils and appointments of academics with integrity and capacity to manage and lead these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly

Economic Imperatives and Ethical Values in Global Business S. Prakash Sethi, Oliver F. Williams, 2012-12-06
religious values at the office door Apartheid was an evil and business had great power in South Africa Where there is power there is also responsibility I prayed about this long and hard I pushed the companies as much as I thought I could There were advances and there were setbacks but finally we prevailed and the Blacks of South Africa secured their freedom My effort in behalf of the Sullivan Principles was only one of a number of significant efforts of the anti apartheid movement All of those other efforts must be recognized as well The Sullivan Principles and the manner in which they were implemented in South Africa were in the nature of a grand experiment in the sociopolitical change and economic uplifting of the Black people of South Africa What is even more important is that the Principles were driven by an ethical and moral imperative and were voluntarily implemented by a group of enlightened United States multinational corporations No grand design or vision is ever perfect We fall prey to human follies limited understanding of the future and necessary compromises to seek not what is perfect but what is possible Thus any such effort is subject to criticism from those who seek ideological purity and those who seek to minimize the impact of change from the status quo African Political Economy in the Twenty-First Century Ernest T. Aniche, Stephen N. Azom, Emeka C. Iloh, 2023-09-12 African Political Economy in the Twenty First Century Theories Perspectives and Issues edited by Emeka C Iloh Ernest T Aniche and Stephen N Azom fills the gap in the discourses on African political economy from an African perspective Since the end of colonialism in the second half of the twenty first century a wide ranging debate has opened on the future of African development and the nature and character of its political economy especially as it concerns its web of relationships in the international political and economic system Two decades into the twenty first 21st century the debate still rages on and is likely to continue for a long time This book contributes to the debate by addressing the important question of how African countries can strategically and tactically approach global political economy at multilateral continental and regional levels in view of North South versus South South configurations African Political Economy in the Twenty First Century further suggests how African countries can effectively utilize global forces to Africa's advantage in advancing domestic regional and continental development objectives Regional Economic

Communities and Integration in Southern Africa Leon Mwamba Tshimpaka, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, Inocent Moyo, 2021-05-07 This book examines regional integration in Africa with a particular focus on the Southern African Development Community SADC. It argues that the SADC's pursuit of a rationalist and state-centric form of integration for Southern Africa is limited as it overlooks the contributory role and efficacy of non-state actors who are relegated to the periphery. The book demonstrates that civil society networks in Southern Africa constitute well-governed self-organised entities that function just like formal regional arrangements driven by state actors and technocrats. The book amplifies this point by deploying New Institutionalism and the New Regionalism Approach to examine the role and efficacy of non-state actors in building regions from below. The book develops a unique typology that shows how Southern African regional civil society networks adopt strategies, norms and rules to establish an efficient form of alternative integration in the region. Based on a critical analysis of this self-organised regionalism, the book projects the reality that alternative regionalism driven by non-state actors is possible. This book expands the study of regionalism in the SADC and makes a significant and innovative contribution to the study of contemporary regionalism.
