The Rhodesian Air Force in Zimbabwe's War of Liberation, 1966-1980 Darlington Mutanda, 2016-11-10 This book evaluates the development of the Rhodesian Air Force during the Second Chimurenga or Bush War 1966-1980. Airpower in irregular conflict is effective at the tactical level because guerrilla warfare is not a purely military conflict. The Rhodesian Air Force was deployed in a war winning versus a supporting role as a result of the shortage of manpower to deal with insurgency and almost all units of the Rhodesian Security Forces depended on its tactical effectiveness. Technical challenges faced by the Air Force combined with the rate of guerrilla infiltration and the misuse of airpower to bomb guerrilla bases in neighboring countries largely negated the success of airpower.

Mugabeism after Mugabe? Thomas Duri, Ngonidzashe Marongwe, 2019-10-22 Arguably one of the long waited political handover of power globally happened in November 2017 in Zimbabwe when the former and now late 37 year long serving and divisive President Robert Gabriel Mugabe was forced out of power by a combination of forces that were spearheaded by the military's Operation Restore Legacy. Mugabe's departure ushered in President Emmerson Dambudzo Mnangagwa's reign. This transition has variously been characterised as marking the inauguration of the Second Republic or New Dispensation or as heralding a new Zimbabwe that is Open for Business. From the moment of the investiture of President Mnangagwa's government, anticipations of seismic changes to the order of doing business by both the incoming government and the larger Zimbabwean society in general were extremely high. There was an expectation that international cooperation with global partners especially in the West would be restored alongside the reinvigoration of a near comatose domestic economy. But did this ever happen? This volume interrogates the impact of the introduction of the Mnangagwa administration from November 2017. The book seeks to broadly dissect and troubleshoot issues of continuity and change from Mugabe's reign into Mnangagwa's Second Republic. In doing so, the book attempts to respond to the grand question: To what extent has Mugabeism that was the hallmark of Mugabe's reign continued or discontinued into the Second Republic? The volume, which comes as a sequel to The end of an era: Robert Mugabe and a conflicting legacy, is sure to generate interest and responses from students and academics in the fields of History, International Studies, Political Science, Sociology and Social anthropology as well as from practitioners in the human rights, transitional justice, conflict resolution, security studies and diplomatic fields.

Civil Society and Peacebuilding in Sub-Saharan Africa in the Anthropocene Jean Chrysostome K. Kiyala, Geoff Thomas Harris, 2022-04-22 This book examines civil society's peacebuilding role in sub-Saharan Africa in the context of climate change and the pursuit of environmental peace and justice in the Anthropocene. Five main research themes emerge from its 20 chapters: The roles of environmental peacemaking, environmental justice, ecological education and eco ethics in helping to mitigate the impacts of climate change; Peacebuilding by CSOs after violent conflicts with particular reference to accountability, reconciliation and healing; CSO involvement in democratic processes and political transition after violent conflicts; Relationships between local CSOs and their foreign funders and the interactions between CSOs and the African Union's peace and security architecture. The particular role of faith-based CSOs. The book underlines the centrality of dialogue to African peacebuilding and the indigenous wisdom and philosophies on which it is based. Such wisdom will be a key resource in confronting the existential challenges of the Anthropocene. The book will be a significant resource for researchers, academics and policymakers concerned with the challenge of climate change, its interactions with armed conflict and the peacebuilding role of CSOs. This pathbreaking book shows why peacebuilding analysis and efforts need to be urgently re-oriented towards the existential challenges of environmental peace and justice. It explains the emerging conceptual frameworks which are needed for this new role. It explains the critical role that CSOs local and international will play in implementing this new peacebuilding approach with particular reference to sub-Saharan Africa.

Mining Africa Warikandwa, Tapiwa V., 2017-05-01. This book is a pacesetter in matters of mining and the environment in Africa from multidisciplinary and spatio-temporal perspectives. The book approaches mining from the perspectives of law, politics, archaeology, anthropology, African studies, geography, human ecology, sociology, history, economics and development. It interrogates mining and environment from the perspectives of customary law as well as from the perspectives of Euro-modern laws. In this sense the book straddles precolonial, colonial and postcolonial mining and environmental perspectives. In all this it maintains a Pan-Africanist perspective that also speaks to contemporary debates on African Renaissance and to the unity of Africa. From scrutinising the lived realities of African miners who are often insensitively and unjustly addressed as illegal miners, the book also interrogates transnational mining corporations, matters of corporate social responsibility as well as matters of tax evasions by transnational corporations whose commitment to accountability to African governments is questioned. With both theoretical chapters and chapter-based on empirical studies on mining and the environment across the African continent, the book provides a much-needed holistic one-stop shop for scholars, activists, researchers and policy makers who need a comprehensive treatise on African mining and the environment. The book comes at the right time when matters of African mining and environment are increasingly coming to the fore in the light of discourses about the new 21st-century scramble for African resources in which big transnational corporations and nations are jostling to suck Africa dry in their race to control planetary resources. It is a book that speaks to contemporary broader issues of de-coloniality and transformation of African minds and African environmental resources.

Black and White Agnieszka Piotrowska, 2016-10-04. In Black and White Agnieszka Piotrowska presents a unique insight into the contemporary arts scene in Zimbabwe, an area that has received very limited coverage in research and the media. The book combines theory with literature, film, politics and culture and takes a psychosocial and psychoanalytic perspective to achieve a truly interdisciplinary analysis. Piotrowska focuses in particular on the Harare International Festival of the Arts (HIFA) as well as the cinema featuring the work of Rumbi Katedza and Joe Njagu. Her personal experience of time spent in Harare working in collaborative relationships with Zimbabwean artists and filmmakers informs the book throughout. It features examples of their creative work on the ground and examines the impact it has had on the community and the local media Piotrowska uses her experiences to analyse concepts of trauma and post colonialism in Zimbabwe and interrogates her position as a stranger there questioning patriarchal notions of belonging and authority Black and White also presents a different perspective on convergences in the work of Doris Lessing and iconic Zimbabwean writer Dambudzo Marechera and how it might be relevant to contemporary race relations Black and White will be intriguing reading for psychoanalysts psychotherapists and psychotherapeutically engaged scholars film makers academics and students of post colonial studies film studies cultural studies psychosocial studies and applied philosophy

Neo-Liberal Urban Development in Post-Colonial Zimbabwe Terence Tapiwa Muzorewa,2025-07-14 This book investigates the role of private land developers in the development of Ruwa Town in post colonial Zimbabwe Whereas other post colonial established towns in the country emerged from direct public investment through the Growth Point policy Ruwa emerged from a public private partnership approach The development of Ruwa Town is therefore a valuable example of a new post colonial experience in urban planning and development which is a clear departure from the colonial town planning which was premised on racial segregation This book

Mubaya,2017-08-09 For a long time African Studies as a discipline has been spearheaded by academics and institutions in the Global North This puts African Studies on the continent at a crossroads of making choices on whether such a discipline can be legitimately accepted as an epistemological discipline seeking objectivity and truth about Africa and the African peoples or a discipline meant to perpetuate the Norths hegemonic socio economic political and epistemic control over Africa The compound question that immediately arises is Who should produce what and which space should African Studies occupy in the academy both of the North and of the South Confronted by such a question one wonders whether the existence of African Studies Centres in the Global North academics open opportunities for critical thinking on Africa or it opens possibilities for the emergence of the same discipline in Africa as a fertile space for trans disciplinary debate While approaches critical for the development of African Studies are pervasive in African universities through fields such as cultural studies social anthropology history sociology indigenous knowledge studies and African philosophy the discipline of African Studies though critical to Africa is rarely practised as such in the African academy and its future on the continent remains bleak African Studies in the Academy is a testimony that if honestly and objectively practised the crossroads position of African Studies as a discipline makes it a fertile ground for generating and testing new approaches critical for researching and understanding Africa It also challenges Africa to seriously consider assuming its legitimate position to champion African Studies from within These issues are at the heart of the present volume Introduction to Gender Studies in Eastern and Southern Africa James Etim,2016-07-28 Africa has witnessed massive changes in the last fifty years from independence through structural adjustment rule by military juntas in several countries and to a period now where the focus is on how best to prioritize their needs based on resources national goals and human potential There is general agreement that human capital is important in economic growth and development There is always the need to ensure that resources and human capital are used appropriately to advance development Gender disparities whether in treatment access to resources resource utilization and the law may in themselves retard or slow down development Resources and human potential in all societies include how best to ensure there is no gender disparity and to fully tap the resources inherent in women for personal social and national development Beginning with the women s suffrage movement there has been the push to encourage gender equality worldwide The Fourth World Conference on Women in Beijing in 1995 embodies the commitment of the international community to implement policies that will enhance the political social economic educational empowerment of women This book highlights the issues affecting women in Eastern and Southern Africa what role does custom and patriarchy play in gender disparities in education access to health problems in the workplace and family relationships How have women writers in the last twenty years presented the issues of patriarchy women s rights globalism and women s holistic development What are recent developments that have helped improve the situation for some women These are some of the issues that are covered in this book The thesis of this book is that there have been policies and strategies developed that have worked to empower women However vestiges of sexism gender disparities in several fields still remain and traditions customs and patriarchy have aided in still keeping women down div div Minerals Yearbook Geological Survey,Interior Department,Mines Bureau,2019-02-15 This volume covering metals and minerals contains chapters on approximately 90 commodities In addition this volume has chapters on mining and quarrying trends and on statistical surveying methods used by Minerals Information plus a statistical summary Handbook of Research on Sustainable Development and Governance Strategies for Economic Growth in Africa Teshager Alemu, Kassa,Abebe Alebachew, Mulunesh,2018-02-09 Despite increasing reports across the globe on renewable development and maintenance little is known regarding what strategies are required for improved economic growth and prosperity in Africa Improving an understanding of the methods for promoting growth through reusable resource development and administration is a vital topic of research to consider in assisting the continent s development The Handbook of Research on Sustainable Development and Governance Strategies for Economic Growth in Africa provides emerging research on the strategies required to promote growth in Africa as well as the implications and issues of the expansion of prosperity While highlighting sustainable education pastoral development pathways and the public sector role readers will learn about the history of sustainable development and governmental approaches to improving Africa s economy This publication is a vital resource for policy makers research institutions academics researchers and advanced level students seeking current research on the theories and applications of development in societal and legal institutions Responses to Disasters and Climate Change Michele Companion,Miriam S. Engaging first hand with small traders and the Somali communities in Khayelitsha Kraaifontein and Philippi Vanya Gastrow investigates the predicament of these modern day pariahs social and political outcasts who belong neither to the elite nor the common people and who are frequently the focus of xenophobic anger Tracing national level regulatory developments in post apartheid democratic South Africa Gastrow shines a light on how retailers have been politicised and how they have faced growing informal and formal regulatory efforts to curtail their business activities She demonstrates how democratic and constitutional frameworks can erode in contexts of heightened nationalism populism and economic inequality By investigating Somali informal shopkeepers experiences of crime justice and regulation in the country the fragility of law pluralism and democracy in South Africa is uncomfortably exposed
