African Handbook of Climate Change Adaptation Nicholas Oguge,Desalegn Ayal,Lydia Adeleke,Izael da Silva,2021-05-20
This open access book discusses current thinking and presents the main issues and challenges associated with climate change in Africa It introduces evidences from studies and projects which show how climate change adaptation is being and may continue to be successfully implemented in African countries Thanks to its scope and wide range of themes surrounding climate change the ambition is that this book will be a lead publication on the topic which may be regularly updated and hence capture further works Climate change is a major global challenge However some geographical regions are more severely affected than others One of these regions is the African continent Due to a combination of unfavourable socio economic and meteorological conditions African countries are particularly vulnerable to climate change and its impacts The recently released IPCC special report Global Warming of 1.5°C outlines the fact that keeping global warming by the level of 1.5°C is possible but also suggested that an increase by 2.0°C could lead to crises with crops agriculture fed by rain could drop by 50% in some African countries by 2020 and livestock production could damage water supplies and pose an additional threat to coastal areas The 5th Assessment Report produced by IPCC predicts that wheat may disappear from Africa by 2080 and that maize a staple will fall significantly in southern Africa Also arid and semi arid lands are likely to increase by up to 8% with severe ramifications for livelihoods poverty eradication and meeting the SDGs Pursuing appropriate adaptation strategies is thus vital in order to address the current and future challenges posed by a changing climate It is against this background that the African Handbook of Climate Change Adaptation is being published It contains papers prepared by scholars representatives from social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies undertaking research and or executing climate change projects in Africa and working with communities across the African continent Encompassing over 100 contributions from across Africa it is the most comprehensive publication on climate change adaptation in Africa ever produced The Economics of Climate Change Nicholas Herbert Stern,Great Britain. Urban Recycling Cooperatives Jutta Gutberlet,2016-05-12 Solid waste is a major urban challenge worldwide and decisions over which technologies or methods to apply can have beneficial or detrimental long term consequences Inappropriate management of solid waste can lead to damaging environmental impacts particularly in the megacities of the Global South Urban Recycling Cooperatives explores the multiple narratives and interdisciplinary nature of waste studies drawing attention to the pressing social economic and environmental challenges related to waste management The book asks questions such as how do we define waste and our relation to it who is involved in dealing with waste and what power interactions become manifest over issues of accessing and managing waste In recent years informal cooperatives have emerged devoted to recycling household and business waste before reclassifying it and redirecting it to the authorities Hence these workers are able to reclaim significant amounts of natural resources and thus contribute to the saving of resources and lessened waste management expenditures With particular reference to the Brazilian megalopolis of S o Paulo this book describes this paradigm shift in the general understanding of waste as unwanted discard towards the recognition of waste as a resource that must be recovered for reuse or recycling It would be of interest to students and policy makers working in international development and waste management The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Annual Report of the Secretary for Education for the Year Ended ... Development from Within D. R. F. Taylor,Fiona Mackenzie,2024-09-30 The decade of 1980s was one of crisis for Africa Neither African governments nor development agencies made a significant impact on the quality of life of rural people The enormous range of contexts in Africa social economic political cultural and environmental limits the value of the search for universal solutions to endemic problems First published in 1992 Development from Within examines an alternative framework arguing for flexibility and specificity The authors use case studies to explore the complex social relationships of power from the household to the state They argue for the knowledge and skill of African people and illustrate the diverse means by which men and women in rural Africa struggle to survive This book will be a beneficial read for students and researchers of African studies development studies economics and sociology Current Research in Britain ,1997

World Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology Abstracts ,1995 Reimagining God and Resacralisation Alexa Blonner,2019-05-14 This book shows that widespread resacralisation has been taking place which is producing new ways of perceiving God and the divine The last century has seen unmistakable changes in religious practices and the concept of spirituality right across the world There was a broad expectation for much of the twentieth century that religious worldviews would eventually succumb to the challenge of secularist materialism but this process of secularisation has yet to occur as predicted The book begins by contrasting theories of secularisation and resacralisation Throughout the book conceptual threads or new religious themes related to this resacralisation are discussed in terms of three main categories reimagining God s nature substance and location reimagining human value and purpose and reimagining modes of redemption Finally the book considers how these threads are moving in various different directions and what the religious future might hold This is a bold examination of contemporary spirituality that will appeal to academics and scholars of religious studies new religious movements and the sociology of religion African Studies Center Newsletter ,1982

Challenges of African Growth B. J. Ndulu,2007 Poverty in Africa is largely the outcome of slow growth With the region hosting 10 percent of the world's population but a staggering 30 percent of the world's poor the challenges it faces are enormous but NOT insurmountable The message of this book is clear poverty eradicating development in Africa is possible In fact there are indications that Africa is at a turning point and there is growing momentum among front runner economies in the region toward higher and sustained growth This study challenges African countries and their development partners to consolidate and continue this momentum and to exploit the advantages of the continent as a latecomer particularly in innovation and in drawing lessons from successful export led growth experiences in Asia and Latin America Challenges of African Growth identifies opportunities constraints and strategic choices that African countries face in their quest for achieving the growth necessary for poverty alleviation More important the study provides a broad menu of strategic options for ensuring not only that countries embark on a growth path but also that the growth is shared and sustainable The critical areas for action rest on four pillars the investment climate infrastructure innovation for increasing productivity and competitiveness and institutional capacity

Agricultural Reform in Rwanda Chris Huggins, 2017-10-15 International observers have lauded Rwanda as an example of an African country taking control of its own development trajectory and as a market friendly destination for investment A key component of this narrative has been an ambitious programme of agricultural reform involving private firms NGOs and international charities The Rwandan government claims these reforms have been a resounding success tripling crop yields and helping to combat hunger Chris Huggins argues however that Rwanda's liberal modernising image sits poorly with the regime's continuing authoritarian tendencies Featuring in depth case studies of the effects of agricultural reform in three different regions and drawing on hundreds of interviews Huggins shows that the much vaunted liberalization of agriculture has in fact depended on the coercion of Rwandan farmers and in many cases has had a detrimental impact on their livelihoods With the Kagame regime now coming under increasing international scrutiny this work provides a timely look at the impact of market friendly authoritarianism in contemporary Africa making essential reading for students and scholars of development in the fields of sociology anthropology political science and economics
