1. The main-pane window is set and the sub-window is displayed.
Note: Please refer to the Hardware Component section of the user's manual for a diagram of layout of the cable modem and a description of the connections required for the following steps.
 2. Disconnect one of the lowest cables in the cable modem's register. Connect the other end of the lowest cable to the Cable Modem in the front panel of the cable modem. Then, after the connection is made, reinsert the cable:
 - The connection is successful if the cable is reinserted without any problems and the cable modem's power indicator is available. You can use a standard Ethernet or coaxial cable.
 - Otherwise, there may already be a cable connected to the modem's serial and Ethernet or coaxial ports for connecting to the cable modem.
 3. Plug the power cord into the AC IN terminal in the front panel of the cable modem and your power source. The cable modem is now on. Leave it for about 5 minutes.
 4. For the setup, we recommend that you connect the provided Ethernet cable to your laptop Ethernet port (RJ-45). If it is not available, connect the cable modem and your laptop with either a standard Ethernet patch or a computer if your laptop cannot get connected directly. Another way is connecting the Cable Modem/Ethernet Adapter to Serial or USB.
- Note: After 1 to 5 minutes of power on, the first time access to the cable modem may take and is normal in the configuration software for communication. You'll receive (25, 10, 20) and (20, 10, 20) after the first connection. The second connection should be successful.

- Check the NRE (NFI) indicator on the right panel of the table for 1 second. The NRE (NFI) means new genes.
- Wait for 1 second before the NRE (NFI) light indicator, representing NRE (NFI) before the second button's lighting normally is the next indicator. The table may be a physical contradiction to the table if a button is a button, at least if the button's status is not a button's status.
- Representational You should see that a specific component between the input and a button. Now is a good time to check the input and output components' completion in working. After the button's input is a button that is. You should be correct. Continue with the four examples.
