Unisa My Choice 2015:

Complacent Nation Gavin Ellis, 2016-08-12 New Zealanders are too complacent about the continuing erosion of their right to know what government is doing on their behalf Political risk has become a primary consideration in whether official information requests will be met and successive governments have allowed free speech rights to be overridden Drawing on decades of experience as a journalist and editor Gavin Ellis chronicles the patterns of erosion and calls for entrenchment of the Bill of Rights Act As supreme law it would set a high bar that politicians must hurdle before freedom of expression could be curtailed

Lugalla: Rethinking Teacher Education , 2023-06-27 Rethinking Teacher Education Improvement Innovation and Change is the result of the conference organised by The Aga Khan University Institute for Educational Development East Africa AKU IED EA on education in Uganda in 2017 The Conference gathered participants from nine countries to deliberate on a cross section of factors regarding teacher education in the region and landscaping the same on global perspectives The choice of the conference theme was inspired by a need to consider new systems policies structures and reforms to help drive sustainable education for the development of nations in the East African region A variety contributors participated from across the education landscape and included researchers working in higher education practitioners such as teachers in schools tutors instructors in colleges and lecturers and professors at universities Also contributing were non governmental organisations with interests in education and student learning outcomes civil society organisations whose interests navigate the role education plays in social and national development policy makers and curriculum developers librarians publishers booksellers and teacher trainees all of who shared their rich experiences and perspectives on teacher education in the 21st century in East Africa and globally

Superstition, Management and Organisations Joanna Crossman, 2024-04-30 This book addresses how people and organisations sometimes respond to uncertainty in making decisions Those decisions are rooted in beliefs and behaviours that are not always rational especially in response to perceived randomness chaos and unexpected circumstances The author uses a transdisciplinary approach to the study of superstition in the context of business and management taking care to acknowledge that what is regarded as superstition to one person may well be constructed as a spiritual belief by another Respect and sensitivity in explicating individual and social constructions of spirituality is a core value in structuring the narrative of the text The work also explores the interwoven relationships amongst superstition religion spirituality and empiricism and how cultural political economic and environmental factors are likely to influence organisations and those who are employed by them Further it examines the influence of beliefs related to topics such as feng shui astrology phrenology and the I Ching in recruitment This comprehensive treatment of the role of superstition in business will advance the scholarly conversation on uncertainty in decision making It points to the power of belief that defies empirical validation and how it can be used in a variety of contexts such as the marketing of products and images to manipulate unwary consumers or inhibit the implementation of health advice in times of COVID 19

Democracy's Education Harry C. Boyte,2015-02-01 Today Americans feel powerless in the face of problems on every front

Such feelings are acute in higher education where educators are experiencing an avalanche of changes cost cutting new technologies and demands that higher education be narrowly geared to the needs of today s workplace College graduates face mounting debt and uncertain job prospects and worry about a coarsening of the mass culture and the erosion of authentic human relationships Higher education is increasingly seen and often portrays itself as a ticket to individual success a private good not a public one Democracy s Education grows from the American Commonwealth Partnership a year long project to revitalize the democratic narrative of higher education that began with an invitation to Harry Boyte from the White House to put together a coalition aimed at strengthening higher education as a public good The project was launched at the beginning of 2012 to mark the 150th anniversary of the Morrill Act which created land grant colleges Beginning with an essay by Harry C Boyte Reinventing Citizenship as Public Work which challenges educators and their partners to claim their power to shape the story of higher education and the civic careers of students the collection brings world famous scholars senior government officials and university presidents together with faculty students staff community organizers and intellectuals from across the United States and South Africa and Japan Contributors describe many constructive responses to change already taking place in different kinds of institutions and present cutting edge ideas like civic science civic studies citizen professionalism and citizen alumni Authors detail practical approaches to making change from new faculty and student roles to changes in curriculum and student life and strategies for everyday citizen empowerment Overall the work develops a democratic story of education urgently needed to address today s challenges from climate change to growing inequality
