In a realm where legends dwell,
Sailed a knight, both brave and great,
His name, renowned near and far,
With a gentle, guiding hand.

He rode upon his noble steed,
Through forests deep and wide,
To seek the dragon, fierce and dread,
That in the mountains did reside.

The villagers had cried in fear,
Of him who in the night,
But then, with courage clear,
Set out to set things right.

Poetry in the Digital Age Claudia Benthien, Vadim Keylin, Henrik Wehmeier, 2025-10-14 As a multifaceted and intermedial phenomenon, poetry in the digital age not only demands a rethinking and expansion of the traditional paradigms of literary studies but also attracts increasing attention from other humanities. This interdisciplinary handbook is thus addressed both to literary scholars and to the broadest academic audience interested in contemporary poetry research. It offers 50 contributions by an international collective of authors that highlight the diversity of contemporary poetry, examining it from a wide variety of complementing theoretical and methodological angles. The handbook focuses on contemporary modes of poetry presentation that are often located beyond the book, e.g. on stages in public spaces as well as transmedia publications or on digital platforms. Such intermedial poetic practices, which may supplement poetic language with elements borrowed from music, visual art, cinema or theater and performance, are transforming the forms and functions of poetry. It has four parts: thus 1. adapt established concepts and parameters of poetry research to the digital age 2. explore established genres and emerging formats 3. introduce interdisciplinary perspectives and new research fields and 4. engage in current debates.

Huh: Curriculum conversations between subject and senior leaders John Tomsett, Mary Myatt, 2021-09-18 Schools need to have purchase on the curriculum why they teach the subjects beyond preparation for examinations what they are intending to achieve with the curriculum how well it is planned and enacted in classrooms and how they know whether it is doing what it is supposed to Fundamental to this understanding are the conversations between subject leaders and their line managers However there is sometimes a mismatch between the subject specialisms of senior leaders and those they line manage If I don't know the terrain and the importance of a particular subject how can I talk intelligently with colleagues who are specialists This book sets out to offer some tentative answers to these questions Each of the national curriculum subjects is discussed with a subject leader and provides an insight into what they view as the importance of the subject how they go about ensuring that knowledge understanding and skills are developed over time how they talk about the quality of the schemes in their departments and what they would welcome from senior leaders by way of support We have chosen this way of opening up the potentially difficult terrain of expertise on one side and relative lack of expertise on the other by providing these case studies They are suggested as prompts rather than the last word Informed debate is after all the fuel of curriculum development And why Huh Well Huh may be John's first response when he walks into a Year 8 German class but in fact we chose Huh as the title of our book as he is the Egyptian god of endlessness As Claire Hill so eloquently comments in her chapter Curriculum development is an ongoing process it is not going to be finished ever And we believe that Huh captures a healthy and expansive way of considering curriculum conversations
