Seeking Urban Transformation Muchadenyika, Davison, 2020-02-16 Seeking Urban Transformation Alternative Urban Futures in Zimbabwe tells the stories of ordinary people's struggles to remake urban centres. It interrogates and highlights the principle conditions in which urban transformation takes place. The main catalysts of the transformation are social movements and planning institutions. Social movements pool resources and skills, acquire land, install infrastructure and build houses. Planning institutions change policies, regulations and traditions to embrace and support a new form of urban development driven by grassroots movements. Besides providing a comprehensive analysis of planning and housing in Zimbabwe, there is a specific focus on three urban centres of Harare, Chitungwiza and Epworth. In metropolitan Harare, the book examines new housing and infrastructure series to the predominantly urban poor population, vital roles played by the urban poor in urban development and the adoption by planning institutions of grassroots centered urban planning approaches. The book draws from three case studies and in-depth interviews from diverse urban shapers, i.e. representatives and members of social movements, urban planners, engineers, surveyors, policy makers, politicians, civil society workers and students to generate a varied selection of insights and experiences. Based on the Zimbabwean experience, the book illustrates how actions and power of ordinary people contribute to the transformation of African cities.

The Settlement of Disputes Involving International Organizations August Reinisch, 2025-07-31 Disputes involving international organizations arise on both the international level as well as the level of domestic law These range from headquarters issues between States and international organizations to disputes between members as well as non members and international organizations which are settled before such diverse mechanisms as WTO ITLOS or regional international economic organization adjudication or arbitration In addition negotiation mediation and fact finding as non adjudicatory means of dispute settlement may be resorted to The more frequently arising disputes with private parties may be settled before international courts administrative tribunals arbitral tribunals and even national courts although the role of the latter is usually more limited because of the jurisdictional immunity regularly enjoyed by international organizations Based on an empirical overview of dispute settlement policy issues like access to justice the limited jurisdiction of courts and tribunals due process and adequate mechanisms of dispute settlement are discussed and some recommendations are made
