Implementation and World Politics Alexander Betts, Phil Orchard, 2014 A significant amount of International Relations scholarship examines the role of international norms in world politics Existing work though focuses mainly on how these norms emerge and the process by which governments sign and ratify them In conventional accounts the story ends there Yet this tells us very little about the conditions under which these norms actually make any difference in practice When do these norms actually change what happens on the ground In order to address this analytical gap the book develops an original conceptual framework for understanding the role of implementation in world politics It applies this framework to explain variation in the impact of a range of people centred norms relating to humanitarianism human rights and development The book explores how the same international norms can have radically different effects in different national and local contexts or within particular organizations and in turn how this variation can have profound effects on people's lives How do international norms change and adapt at implementation Which actors and structures matter for shaping whether implementation actually takes place and on whose terms And what lessons can we derive from this for both International Relations theory and for international public policy makers Collectively the chapters explore these themes by looking at three different types of norms treaty norms principle norms and policy norms across policy fields that include refugees internal displacement crimes against humanity the use of mercenaries humanitarian assistance aid transparency civilian protection and the responsibility to protect

Indigenous Knowledge and Climate Governance Eromose E. Ebhuoma,Llewellyn Leonard,2022-06-04 This book investigates indigenous knowledge systems IKS in sub Saharan Africa thereby highlighting its role in facilitating adaptation to climate variability and change and also demystifying the challenges that prevent it from being integrated with scientific knowledge in climate governance schemes Indigenous people and their priceless knowledge rarely feature when decision makers prepare for future climate change This book showcases how Indigenous knowledge facilitates adaptation to climate change including how collaborations with scientific knowledge have cascaded into building people's resilience to climatic risks. This book also pays delicate attention to the factors fueling epistemic injustice towards Indigenous knowledge which hampers it from featuring in climate governance schemes across sub-Saharan Africa. The key insights shared in this book illuminate the issues that contribute meaningfully towards the actualisation of the UN SDG 13 and promote mechanisms for raising capacity for effective climate change related planning and management in sub-Saharan Africa.

Handbook of Nature-Based Solutions to Mitigation and Adaptation to Climate Change Gustavo J. Nagy, Desalegn Yayeh Ayal, 2025-11-04

Over recent years nature based solutions NbS have gained popularity as tools to ameliorate the effects of climate change while slowing down the global warming process. More specifically the potential of NbS has been explored in terms of meeting greenhouse gas emissions targets and fostering climate change adaptation. NbS are methods that use and enhance nature to improve social and environmental challenges. They involve several multifaceted actions that work sustainably to restore and protect the natural environment while helping people. Therefore these solutions are useful in climate change adaptation and mitigation. There are 3 main areas which NbS may target namely reducing exposure, reducing sensitivity and supporting adaptive capacity. Reducing exposure refers to protecting areas from existing climate change effects. There is thus a perceived need to document and promote experiences related to NbS and to apply these in different contexts. It is against this background that the Handbook of Nature Based Solutions to Mitigation and Adaptation to Climate Change is being produced. The publication will showcase experiences related to NbS from around the world. In particular it will gather examples of projects, studies and the latest thinking on NbS which can serve the purpose of inspiring and fostering further works in this key area. Thanks to its scope and thematic diversity the book will be of special interest to representatives from government organisations, researchers and students from a wide range of natural and social sciences courses. It will also provide useful information to practitioners and representatives from non governmental organisations.

Les jeunes non scolarisés d'Afrique subsaharienne Keiko Inoue, Emanuela di Gropello, Yesim Sayin Taylor, James Gresham, 2015-07-14

The economic and social prospects are daunting for the 89 million out of school youth who comprise nearly half of all youth in Sub-Saharan Africa. Within the next decade when this cohort becomes the core of the labor market an estimated 40 million more youth will drop out and will face an uncertain future with limited work and life skills. Furthermore out of school youth often are policy orphans positioned between sectors with little data, low implementation capacity, lack of interest in long term sustainability of programs, insufficient funds and little coordination across the different government agencies. This report provides a diagnostic analysis of the state of out of school youth in Sub-Saharan Africa focusing on the 12 to 24 year old cohort. This report also examines the decision path youth take as they progress through the education system and the factors that explain youth's school and work choices. It finds that individual and household characteristics, social norms and characteristics of the school system all matter in understanding why youth drop out and remain out of school. In particular six key factors characterize out of school youth i most out of school youth drop out before secondary school ii early marriage for female youth and iii rural residence increase the likelihood of being out of school iv parental education level and v the number of working adults are important household factors and vi lack of school access and low educational quality are binding supply side constraints Policy discussions on out of school youth are framed by these six key factors along with three entry points for intervention retention remediation and integration This report also reviews policies and programs in place for out of school youth across the continent Ultimately this report aims to inform public discussion policy formulation and development practitioners actions working with youth in Sub Saharan Africa

Regenerating Africa Mammo Muchie, Vusi Gumede, 2017-04-11 It has been long overdue to address the principal problems that Africa continues to have How to bring real African solutions to these problems remains unresolved Palaeontologists have discovered that Africa is the origin of humanity Africa has also experienced the commodification of its humanity through slavery colonialism and apartheid The African continent has been influenced by a m lange of races cultures religions ethnic nationalities making the project of how the differences can be managed to forestall conflict and promote the unity of the current 54 states to turn the cacophony of noises into a single voice that can protect Africa a difficult challenge This book on Regenerating Africa Bringing African Solutions to African Problems addresses why Africans must come together and try to address their own problems They must look back to the spiritual struggle and knowledge heritage to re imagine and innovate a new Africa with leadership governance systems and institutions that can address the security and well being the employment social inclusion poverty eradication and the equality of the people In fact the key problem to find a solution is how to Africanise those that originated from Africa and those that became settlers with different racial cultural religious linguistic and ethnic variations How to manage inter African relations How the settlers from the colonial legacy the apartheid legacy the Arabs in Africa and the varied tribes within Africans can all share being Africanised above all else is a real challenge to bring lasting solutions to Africa's enduring problems. This book is one of the few books that addresses the real problems Africa continues to face by suggesting solutions which policy makers and all Africans must learn and never ignore but use to advance a free, united, reascent, proud and dignified independent Africa in this unpredictable time the world is going through. The contributors address in the book how African solutions to African problems in the current global context to create a sustainable African future can be thought, designed and engineered to advance the well being of people and nature for all. The African Unity for Renaissance series of conferences that over 10 partners contributed to run is the true source for generating the quality papers that have been peer reviewed to constitute the contributions in the book to make African solutions to African problems in reality and not just in talk. Aid and Authoritarianism in Africa Tobias

Hagmann, Professor Filip Reyntjens, 2016-03-15. In 2013 almost half of Africa's top aid recipients were ruled by authoritarian regimes. While the West may claim to promote democracy and human rights in practice major bilateral and international donors such as USAID, DFID, the World Bank and the European Commission have seen their aid policies become ever more entangled with the survival of their authoritarian protégés. Local citizens thus find themselves at the receiving end of a compromise between aid agencies and government elites in which development policies are shaped in the interests of maintaining the status quo. Aid and Authoritarianism in Africa sheds light on the political intricacies and moral dilemmas raised by the relationship between foreign aid and autocratic rule in Africa. Through contributions by leading experts exploring the revival of authoritarian development politics in Ethiopia, Uganda, Rwanda, Cameroon, Mozambique and Angola, the book exposes shifting donor interests and rhetoric as well as the impact of foreign aid on military assistance, rural development, electoral processes and domestic politics. In the process it raises an urgent and too often neglected question: to what extent are foreign aid programmes actually perpetuating authoritarian rule. African Language Digital Media and Communication Abiodun Salawu, 2018-10-03. While some academic attention has been paid to the impact of new digital technologies on African media in the colonial languages of English, French and Portuguese, there is a dearth of research into African language digital communication. This book analyses the online presence of African language media. The chapters in the book focus on the speed, structure, content, navigation and interactivity, operations and performance and audience of the online media. They also pay particular attention to how social media such as Facebook, Twitter and WhatsApp have been appropriated by African language media. Using a wide range of case studies, the contributors assess the challenges of adopting digital technologies by the media and how the technologies have impacted journalistic practice and media operations. Examining the ability of the African language press to adopt new technologies, this book will be of interest to scholars of media, journalism, communication, social media and culture in Africa. Small reservoirs in Africa: a review and synthesis to strengthen future investment Saruchera, D., Lautze, Jonathan, 2019-11-04. SDGs in Africa and the Middle East Region Ismaila Rimi Abubakar, Izael da Silva, Rudi Pretorius, Khaled Tarabieh, 2024-09-01. Africa is one of the most vulnerable regions and one where the implementation of the SDGs is particularly urgent Underinvestments in natural conservation are increasing the vulnerability of people across many African countries whose well being is endangered by deteriorating socio economic and environmental conditions This volume provides a contribution towards showcasing how natural resources may be more efficiently used and investments may be mobilised to augment the limited public sector funds available to achieve the SDGs This book is part of the 100 papers to accelerate the implementation of the UN Sustainable Development Goals initiative
